ST. JOHN, N. F. Dec. 1.

Distressing Occurrence.—We regret to learn that the Packet boat St. Patrick, which left Portugal Cove for Carbonear on Thursday last, having 10 persons on board, was totally lost, during a severe snow storm, on the evening of that day, on a rock called Maiden Island, off Crockett's Cove Point, near Carbonear—when four of the passengers (3 men and a woman) and one of the crew, unhappily lost their lives. The five survivors (among whom were the Master, and Braine, the owner of the boat) were taken off the rock on the following day, in an almost insensible state, from exposure to the inclemency of the weather during the night.

The Colonial Herald.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 2, 1841.

The English Mail received on Sunday last, having announced the auspicious event of the birth of an heirress to the British Crown, the joyful event was announced to the public on Monday, by a Royal salute, fired from George's Battery.

On Thursday evening, His Excellency Sir Charles and Lady Mary Fitz Roy entertained a numerous party at Government House. The commencement of the new year was ushered in by enthusiastic cheers, on the health of Her Majesty and the Royal Princess being proposed by His Excellency. After the same respect had been paid to His Royal Highness Prince Albert, the guests exchanged with their respected host and hostess the usual congratulations, and separated at a late hour, highly gratified with the pleasure of the evening.

The General Assembly of Nova Scotia is summoned by Proclamation to meet for the despatch of business, on Wednesday the 3d day of February next.

TEMPERANCE.—We learn that Bishop Fraser has determined to give the Temperance cause in this Province the benefit of his countenance and support; and that instructions have been received from him, to form such of the Roman Catholic population of this place, as are desirous to become members, into a Temperance Society.—Halifax Guardian.

Captain Walter Douglas has declined the command of the Columbia, preferring to remain in the Unicorn.

Pursuant to a Requisition, addressed to the High Sheriff of Queen's County, a County Meeting was held at the Court House, on Tuesday last, for the purpose of voting a congratulatory Address to Her Majesty, on the auspicious event of the Birth of a Princess Royal. The Chair having been taken by His Honor the Chief Justice—the following Resolutions were severally submitted, and unanimously adopted:—

Moved by the Hon. G. R. Goodman, seconded by the Hon. Attorney General:—

1. Resolved, That a humble Address to our most gracious Sovereign the Queen, be adopted by the meeting, congratulating Her Majesty on the auspicious event of the birth of an Heiress presumptive to the crown of these realms.

Moved by F. Longworth, sen. Esq.; seconded by the Hon. C. Young:—

2. Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to draft said Address, and that the same be presently presented to this meeting for approval.

And thereupon the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee for that purpose, viz:—John Barrow, Esq., the Hon. G. R. Goodman, G. R. Goodman, J. M. Holl and C. Young; W. Cullen, E. Palmer, E. Haythorne, F. Longworth, Esqrs. and Dr. Poole.

The Committee having withdrawn, returned soon afterwards with the following draft of an Address, which their Chairman said he was directed to submit for the approbation of the meeting:—

To the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty:

May it please your Majesty;

We your Majesty's loyal and devoted subjects, the inhabitants of Queen's County, in Prince Edward Island, hail with heartfelt joy the birth of an Heiress presumptive to the Imperial Crown of these realms. In no part of your Majesty's Dominions do sentiments of greater devotion towards your Royal person and government exist than among your dutiful subjects the inhabitants of this Island; and we sincerely congratulate your Majesty on the present auspicious event, which affords us an additional cause of hope that the descendants of your Majesty may ever wield the sceptre of the British nation.

That Divine Providence may continue its watchful care over the welfare of your Majesty, your Royal infant, and your Majesty's illustrious consort, is our united and fervent prayer.

The Address having been read from the Chair, it was moved by William Cullen, Esq., seconded by Colonel Lane:

Resolved, That the Address as read, be agreed to, and that the same be engrossed, and signed by the Chairman on behalf of this meeting.

Moved by the Hon. J. Brecken, seconded by C. Binns, Esq. Resolved, That the Committee who drafted the Address, together with the Chairman, be a Committee to wait upon His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor with the same, and to request that His Excellency will forward the said Address as speedily as possible to Her Majesty—to which Committee the following gentlemen were added, by a subsequent Resolution:—Hon. G. R. Goodman and A. Lane, C. Binns and C. Stewart, Esqrs., Dr. McLaren, and the Rev. James Waddell.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

Pursuant to an announcement, a meeting of this Institution was held at their Hall, on Wednesday evening last. The objects of the meeting were two-fold. First, to have the Report of the Committee for the past year read and adopted; and, secondly, to elect Office-bearers for the present year. The Hon. the President was in the Chair, and read the Annual Report, which he had prepared at the request of the Committee, but which we are unable, from a want of sufficient space, to insert this week.

It was then moved by Dr. Conroy, and seconded by John Longworth, Esq.—“That the Report be received, and be published in both the Royal Gazette and Colonial Herald newspapers.”

The following Resolutions were then moved in their order, seconded, and unanimously adopted:—

1. That the thanks of the Institute be conveyed to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, their worthy Patron, for his kind indulgence, in granting the use of the National School Room for the meetings of the Institute, during the current year, and that the Hon. Charles Young, Francis Longworth, jun. Esq., M. P., John Longworth, Esq., Mr. Martin Doherty and Dr. Conroy, be a Committee to wait upon His Excellency, and convey to him the purport of this Resolution.

2. That the thanks of the Institute be given to those gentlemen who have delivered lectures at the Institute, for the past year.

3. That the thanks of the Institute be given to those persons who have contributed towards its usefulness, by donations and otherwise.

4. That the thanks of the Institute be given to the publishers of the two newspapers in this town, for their invaluable kindness in printing the proceedings and advertisements of the Institute free of any charge.

5. That the thanks of the Institute be given to the Office-bearers and Committee, for their efficient services during the past year, and for their excellent and encouraging Report.

The meeting then proceeded to choose Office-bearers for the current year, and the following gentlemen were elected by ballot:—

Hon. Charles Young, (re-elected) President. Francis Longworth, jun. Esq. M. P. (re-elected) and Mr. Isaac Smith, Vice Presidents.

Committee—Mr. Martin Doherty (re-elected), John Longworth, Esq. Dr. Poole, Mr. Watson Duchemin, (re-elected), Dr. McLaren, Messrs. C. C. Davison (re-elected), John Ings, Dr. Conroy, and the Rev. John Knox. Mr. Phillip Little, Librarian.

Mr. John Brown, Secretary & Treasurer.

A vote of thanks was then passed to the President, for his exertions towards the advancement of the Institute, since its formation and during the past year, and for the gratuitous use of the store, adjoining his residence, as a Mechanics' Library Room.

Thanks were then passed to Mr. Knox, for his kindness in preparing the Lecture Room for their reception, and for the inconvenience he must have put himself to on that account.

The Rev. James Waddell and Dr. Mackieson were then unanimously elected Vice Patrons of the Institute, and the meeting adjourned.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIAL HERALD.

Sir; I am one who, since the establishment of your paper, have paid some degree of attention to those movements and proceedings among public men, and certain other individuals in this Island, which, during the last six years in particular, have been rather prominent in its course of events, and are known under the familiar term of "Escheat" and to which your columns have at all times been pretty liberally devoted. Of the workings of this subject, its advocates and agitators, I have been perhaps a more than common observer; and to all these movements and proceedings I have felt alike opposed, and that feeling do I entertain in no less degree up to the present time. And yet, Sir, strongly as I entertain this feeling, I have now, in the face of the public, and through the medium of your paper, the organ of "Escheat" advocates, to acknowledge that, notwithstanding the suppression which so efficaciously marked those proceedings during the administration of the government by the late judicious and energetic Sir John Harvey—notwithstanding the exhausted condition to which the state of "Escheat" has been reduced by its own natural infirmities, as well as from the firm and salutary administration of the law in the superior legal Courts of the Island—it has lately derived one of the most powerful stimulants that has ever yet been obtained, one of the greatest triumphs that has ever, at any time, been achieved for it, by any one or more of its warmest and sincerest advocates. I allude to the late appointment of Charles Young, Esquire, to the Legislative Council.

When I frankly avow myself opposed to the Escheat proceedings, and at the same time refrain, as far as the nature of my communication will admit, from entering upon any reasoning in answer to what may have been alleged as upon the merits intrinsically of the subject, I should hope that upon this account, my statements will not be received with less credit. Hitherto, Sir, I would ask, in what view has the government, not only of this Island, but that of Great Britain, looked upon the Escheat party? The reply to this question is one particular period—or collected from what has issued from one and the same organ of government; but I ask any indifferent person, of ordinary intelligence, and having the most common acquaintance with the subject, if that party has not been looked upon, distinguished and treated as one distinct set of persons, concerning with one another to obtain certain ends, affecting exclusively the interests of their own particular number; aiming directly at their own especial, and not at common benefit, by disengaging themselves from certain obligations which they individually, and not the public generally, have, in the ordinary transactions of life, voluntarily and deliberately bargained to discharge, and of that nature binding by the acknowledged and all-essential rules of every civil society, thereby that each person of the party may reap individually, and not the public generally, that which to some may prove less and to others more, but to all of their number, a certain amount of gain.

In short, Sir, have not the proceedings of government denounced them as not only an unreasonable, but a disaffected set of men, disseminating unlawful and mischievous propositions; disavowing constitutional principles of government, resisting the constituted authorities, and requiring the arm of the law to restrain them from extremities, producing consequences, not only disturbing the peace of society, but dangerous to the property and lives of individuals.

The gentleman to whom I have alluded, having been sent to the Assembly by the majority of a constituency, composed of a class of persons thus estimated by the government—having there, been openly received by other representatives, chosen by and representing the same class of people, and then solemnly dedicated to their cause—and having publicly subscribed to their principles—I again ask, have not the Escheat party a momentous cause of triumph, in seeing this gentleman, after serving one month only in the Assembly, called to a seat in the Legislative Council? Again, I confess, I fear too many of your readers will agree with me that they are.

I have no desire, in any manner, publicly to question the motives of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, in making this appointment, if I were fully justified in doing so; not because surmise alone is all that can attach to them, while they continue, as at present they certainly do, without authentic explanation; but chiefly because they depend, under the "peculiar situation" of certain persons, upon whether or not His Excellency acted with or without advice, and if with it, by whom it was given.—The motives, of course, in either case, were the ends which were looked to—but I claim to myself, Mr. Editor, the privilege which few will venture now-a-days to deny to an individual, however humble, living within a British government—that of publicly expressing an opinion on any measure of the government, so far as its operation and effects may, likely, for the better or the worse, affect the interests of the public; and so long as that opinion is given in constitutional and respectful language. I ask then, Sir, if the Government of this Colony has not now formally recognized the Escheat party as a component and essential part of the political community? If this party is not now hailed, for the first time, as a constitutional body of men? If they are not now, to all intents and purposes, politically legitimated? If the Government has not now, at this stage of its progress, admitted that the cause of this party, as maintained by its adherents, is of that nature, and possessing those merits, which calls for—which is deserving, as a cause, of full and perfect representation in all the Councils of the Colony. What the Home Government will do remains yet to be decided.

Whether I be right or wrong, in the view I have taken of this appointment of His Excellency Sir C. A. Fitz Roy, and what, either in the one case or the other, may be its operation and effects upon the state of Prince Edward Island, I leave for the opinions of you and the public.

I am, your obedient servant, O. P. Q.

Queen's County, Dec 30th, 1840.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIAL HERALD.

Sir; That the individual who assumes to be the Proprietor of Lennox Island has justly laid himself open to the cutting rebuke of ORTHO VERAX, in the Herald of the 12th inst., there can be but little doubt; but so far as the Indians are concerned, I do not see what occasion there is for the Government to negotiate at all with that person respecting its purchase. The Indians are in legal possession—they have held it for upwards of forty years—and if the Government be now disposed to do them an act of tardy justice, they may accomplish it without the expenditure of a single shilling, by granting them the Fishery Reserve of the coast of that Island, during their existence as a tribe—thus confirming them in their possession of by far the greater portion of the territory in question, since from its peculiar formation, the Reserve would include nearly the whole of its area. Something should immediately be done for these poor creatures; but I sincerely hope, that no sum of money—however small—will be drawn from the pockets of an over-taxed people, for the ridiculous purpose of purchasing a claim which, at best, is so very questionable, if in reality it exists at all.

A FRIEND TO THE ABORIGINES.

Dec. 14th, 1840.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COLONIAL HERALD.

Sir; Being an entire stranger in this Colony, and unacquainted with its rules and regulations, I wish to be informed if there is any law, usage or custom, requiring Her Majesty's liege subjects, while orderly and quietly passing and repassing on foot, in and along the streets and Queen's common highways, to leave the path when meeting with or overtaken by those pleasure-sleighs which are daily and constantly flying about? And would it not be advisable to have, at all times during the winter season, a path sufficiently wide for two sleighs, which would, in some degree, tend to remedy the inconvenience above alluded to?

Yours, &c. AMBULATOR.

31st December, 1840.

Ship News.

H. M. Steamship Dec, Lieut. Sherar, which sailed from Halifax for Bermuda, on the 8th Nov., in company with H. M. ship Racehorse, had not arrived at Bermuda on the 22d December, being out 25 days.—It is supposed that she must have borne up for the West Indies, in consequence of bad weather on the coast of Bermuda, or to have foundered at sea.

The schr. Governor Reid, Captain Tyndes, arrived at Bermuda, on the 14th. 13 days from Prince Edward Island, with loss of deck load—experienced a tremendous hurricane on the coast of Bermuda, which lasted nearly 4 days, wind N.E. During this time the crew were obliged to keep themselves in the cabin, or else they would have been washed overboard—for three days without any sustenance except bread and cold water. She received considerable injury. Much credit is due to the Captain, for his good management in such a time of need.

The schr. Ariel, Spence, from P. E. Island, bound to Limerick, on the 28th, was fallen in with on the 28th Nov., by the brig Eliza Moore, which arrived at Westport, England. The Ariel was in a horrible condition, having been struck by a heavy sea, which carried away the bowsprit, fore and main topmast, bulwarks, boats, binnacle, and tiller, and had the decks swept. Was supplied with provisions, and left standing in for Galway Bay.

SPOKEN.—By the Rival, on the 26th Nov., lat. 42° 20', lon. 40, brig Minerva, from P. E. Island, bound to Bideford.

FALMOUTH, Nov. 23.—Intelligence has been received of the destruction of the Collina, off Bideford, which took place on the night of Thursday last, during the raging of the hurricane, on the rocks under Bagg's-point, in Devonshire (close to the spot where Her Majesty's Ship Weazel, and the whole of her crew, were lost a few years ago), and attended, we regret to say, with melancholy loss of life. The circumstances of this unfortunate occurrence are as follow.—About 5 o'clock on the evening in question, the coast-guard stationed at Bideford observed a vessel making for the harbour. She proved to be the Collina, belonging to Bideford, from Prince Edward Island, laden with timber. The sea at the time was running very high, and so violent was the surf at the entrance of the harbour, that on the vessel arriving within a short distance from it, she put to sea again, the captain perceiving that it was impossible to enter. The coast-guard lost sight of the vessel for two or three hours, and on her re-appearance, it could be plainly seen that the crew had lost all power over her, and she was drifting with the tide towards Bagg's-point, and about 11 o'clock struck with fearful violence on the rocks. The crew instantly took to the rigging, and there they remained several hours supplicating help. A great number of persons had collected on the beach, but, unfortunately, it was out of their power to save the poor fellows, owing to the rocks being wholly inaccessible. At length, a heavy sea washed over the ship, and she went to pieces. The crew at the same time disappeared, and all perished except two, who afterwards were washed ashore, having lashed themselves to some spars. During the whole of the following day, the beach was for miles strewn with fragments of the wreck.

On the 24th, by the same, Mr. David Clark, Cavendish, to Mary, second daughter of Mr. Richard Bagnall, Hazel Grove. Yesterday, by the Rev. W. Smith, Wesleyan Minister, Mr. Jabez Barnard, to Sarah, second daughter of Mr. James Moore.
