

THE DAILY EXAMINER

JUNE 15, 1899.

CHEATING AT EXAMINATIONS.

UNDER this heading The Gazette of Montreal, refers to THE EXAMINER's article on "Cribbing" and declares that THE EXAMINER is fully justified in the strong terms of condemnation in which it speaks of the practice. The Gazette continues:

"THE EXAMINER is also right in demanding that where cheating is found out, it should be severely punished. In some of the Old Country examinations it is the rule that the names of the guilty should be published in the list with a black mark 'detected cheating.' This is a severe penalty; but it is far better for a boy that he should be pulled up with a jerk at the outset of a career of fraud, than that he should be encouraged in the idea that he can get through life without doing honest work. The effect of leniency is very bad, both on the offender and his competitors. A heavy responsibility rests on examiners and college authorities, whose laxness encourages objectionable practices. For a young student, anxious to get on, and conscious of his own deficiencies, some excuse may be made, especially on the plea that he does not realize the seriousness of his misdoing. It is for those who have charge of him to quicken and safeguard his dormant moral sense by as far as possible removing temptation out of his way, and making an example of every convicted offender. In the recent examinations at the Prince of Wales College, the students of one class were alternated with those of another in their seats, while examiners watched the proceedings in every room. These are described as 'special precautions.' They seem rather to be obvious safeguards which should never be neglected. Some examiners are inclined to excuse their own negligence by the plea that they think it better to trust to the student's sense of honor. This theory might hold water if it were the collective sense of honor of the whole body of students in which confidence were placed; but it is not. It is the honor of the weakest man in the lot that the examiner is trusting to, and there are few large classes that will stand the trial. A man who is mean enough to cheat is not afraid of his competitors drawing the examiner's attention to it. It is not their business and they would place themselves in a very invidious position if they were to attempt it. The examiner is there for the purpose of preventing cheating, and if he neglects his duty, he cannot expect anyone else to do it for him. Young students sometimes develop astonishing ingenuity in the invention of fraudulent devices, but the examiner who allows himself to be continually outwitted places a low estimate upon his own intelligence. It may not be easy to make cheating impossible; but the adoption of very simple precautions will render it very difficult to 'crib' or copy without detection."

These remarks are very much to the point, and we trust that they will not be without effect.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Farquharson Government smacks its lips over $3,000 or $10,000 of Charlottetown "blood money." The words within quotation marks are the Premier's.

—The "prompt ability" of our "Business Government" is aptly illustrated in the time they have taken to appoint a Lieutenant Governor for this Province and a judge for Queen's County.

—It appears that Jeffries, the new champion boxer of the world is a Canadian. He was born in North Norwich, Ontario. His father was a hotelkeeper, and moved with his family to California about sixteen years ago.

—The Gazette, of Montreal, has completed the 121st year of its existence and is now a model Canadian newspaper. Without pretension or boasting, or sensation or the aid of bad illustrations, it gives the news of the day in crisp and interesting style;—and it continues to improve.

—The expenditure for the year of the Ottawa Convention, when the Liberals officially declared that they could not "but view with alarm the large increase . . . of the controllable annual expenditure of the Dominion and the consequent undue taxation of the people," was $40,553,727. Now it is about $10,000,000 greater;—and the Liberals view it with the utmost serenity.

—We have always understood that all the expenditures of the Dominion Government, those authorized by statute as well as others, were included in The Estimates. But the Patriot says that "there are ways of providing for the bridge other than placing a sum in the estimates," and intimates that a bill will be submitted to Parliament providing for the work in which the people of this Province are so deeply interested—apart from The Estimates. We shall be happy if this statement should prove to be true. So long as the needed railway and bridge are provided, we care not what "other ways" Parliament may adopt to that end. But the Guardian remarks that the Patriot's statement would "perhaps be amusing were it not for the cold fact that bridges cannot be built without money, and public money cannot be expended in bridge building until it is voted by Parliament, and Parliament cannot vote it until it is asked to do so by an authorized estimate. Bridges are not built on wind. The Hillsborough bridge will not be built until the money is voted, and of that there are no present indications." We greatly fear that this is the plain truth about the matter. By the way, a really amusing remark of the Patriot, in this connection, is quoted and commented on by our correspondent "Once a Liberal."

Kind Words For Their Pastor.

At a meeting of the Official Quarterly Board of the First Methodist Church, which was held Tuesday evening and was largely attended, the reports for the year were presented showing the church to be in a very prosperous condition. The contributions to the different departments of the church were in advance of other years. Attention was called to the fact that this was the last meeting of the Board over which Mr. Campbell would preside, and the following resolution, moved by the Recording Steward seconded by the Board of Trustees and supported by a number of prominent members of the church, was unanimously adopted by a standing vote:

Whereas, the full ministerial term of five years of the Reverend George M. Campbell, as pastor of the First Methodist Church, Charlottetown, closes with the present ecclesiastical year.

Resolved that this Quarterly Official Board places on record its high appreciation of his faithful and loving service. In the discharge of his ministerial duties he always took an active interest in every department of the church, and throughout the lengthened term of his pastorate here the several interests of the work have been fully sustained.

While the Board regrets the removal from among us of an eloquent preacher, a devout pastor and a good citizen, it entertains the hope that in his new field of duty the fond relationship between pastor and people may ever continue, and the blessing of Almighty God rest upon his labors.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Plants and flowers. On Wednesday next Norton, the auctioneer, will sell a magnificent collection of flowers and plants. Advertisement will appear in good time.

Have just received 8 dozen samples only 1 1/2 each pattern comprising the fashionable colors in Bandana. The price is about half asked in New York. Ladies and gents see them—Jas Paton & Co.

LOCAL COUNCIL.—The last meeting for the season of the L. C. W. will take place in the Y M C A parlor on Thursday evening the 15th inst., at 7.30 o'clock. As a business of importance will be brought before the meeting, all presidents and delegates of affiliated societies are requested to be present. Ladies who are not able to be present are asked to send substitutes. 138, 31.

Girdles were a prescribed portion of the dress of the English clergy for many years, and are yet a portion of the dress in Roman Catholic institutions. Girdles are known as belts. We have over 1,000 including Paton & Co's, and the prices are from 14c to $1.

P. E. ISLAND MAGAZINE FOR JUNE.

There is "thrill" in the escapade of the lively and lovely girls of Holland Cove, in the power of the smuggler, as related by F. Gerald. Mr. Robert Jenkins' account of the fox chase is also exciting. Dr. McMillan furnishes a scholarly article on the early missionaries of Prince Edward Island; and much interesting information about Lot 20 is given by Mr. J. A. Ready. B. A. Mr. J. M. Sullivan's third article on "When we began to kick, and How we do it," ought to engage the attention of every lover of football, particularly of those who have attended Prince of Wales and St. Dunstan's Colleges; and Mr. Watson's article on the Origin of the Melicetes is exceptionally well written. All the politicians and tax payers of the Province will of course be interested in the subject of which Mr. Cotton writes; and "The Almighty Dollar," is always a drawing card. Especially noticeable is the poetry of this month. Miss May Carroll contributes a boating song which contains many beauties and few faults; Rev. J. T. Bryan's poem entitled "Isle St. Jean," must appeal to the poetic feelings of all P. E. Islanders, and Mr. J. E. B. McCready's lines on "The Voice of Many Waters," are, we think, highly poetical in conception and treatment. The P. E. I. Magazine continues to be creditable to the Province.

GROUND FOR CONFIDENCE.

SIR,—The Patriot of the 14th says: "The people have confidence and know that when a Liberal Government undertakes to do anything they fulfil their promise."

Yes—instance: free trade, reduced taxation, reduced expenditure, the abolition of private cars at public expense, the Hillsborough bridge and the promised action on the Plebiscite vote. Provisionally they have of course done away with that abominable annual tory deficit, built a new and handsome asylum and given us "Farquharson" total prohibition. How long? Oh Patriot, how long?

ONCE A LIBERAL.

Montreal Star: The expenditure for this year is already more than five millions greater than that for last year, including railway subsidies; and this calculation takes no account of the $1,600,000 which the Government is determined to pay down for the Drummond County Railway. It may be politically safe to pour out the taxes in streams now that we are riding on the crest of a wave of world-wide prosperity; but what of the "lean years that precedent bids us fear."

Alfred A. Taylor, of Margaree says: One bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT cured a swelling of the gambler's joint, and saved a horse worth $140 00.

Thos. W. Payne of Bathurst, saved the life of a valuable horse that the Vet. had given up, with a few bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT.

Handkerchiefs, Bandana ties, large, "clean," decided figures, well spaced, have had and are still having a good sale. Navy, figured white, is, of course, by far the best style. Such combinations as black, figured with two colors, say, scarlet and blue; green, purple and white, sapphire and blue; also navy ground, with garnet and olive, white and gold and other bright effects, are considered good style. They are being used as waist belts. See them; they are being shown and worn in Ch'town. tf.

The new Bandana scarf is used as a waist belt and is soft and durable.—Jas Paton & Co.

Scarfs used as a tie or waist girdle—Jas Paton & Co. tt.

Druggist

Didn't Have Them!

Now and then you will find a druggist (or a grocer) who doesn't sell those English Home Dyes of highest quality—Maypole Soap Dyes, but such cases are rare. Articles of highest quality usually pay the person who sells them to you the smallest profit—do you see the point?

Maypole Soap washes and dyes at one operation. It is clean, quick, safe, brilliant—absolutely will not fade, streak or crock. For home dyeing it is ideal—in no mess or trouble. All colors in it and it dyes to any shade. 10 cents a cake (15 cents for black) for Maypole Soap Dyes.

If you can't get it or your dealer won't get it for you, send the money to the wholesale depot, 8 Place Royale, Montreal, for any color and a free book on successful Home Dyeing.

WHEN
PINCHES

Then you get cross and think you paid too much for your shoes.

Consequently you throw those boots away before they're worn out.

You lose money on that speculation.

Come to me—you'll get shoes that won't pinch, that may be worn out comfortably, and that cost less than the other kind.
