

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 18, 1888.

Editorial Notes.

It has been definitely arranged that the delegates from Newfoundland to discuss the terms of union with Canada will visit Ottawa in September.

No time is being lost in getting the Manitoba and Northwest Experimental Farms at Brandon and Indian Head into working order.

An Ottawa despatch of the 15th states: "The Minister of Finance has received a special cable from Sir Charles Tupper, stating that tenders have been received for three times the amount of the new loan, and that although it is the first colonial three per cent. ever placed on the London market, the loan will realize an average of 295 ls. This is considered equal to 107 for 3 1/2 per cents, or 120 for four per cents, and is almost equal to the success of the sixty year India three per cent. floated a few weeks ago."

The result of the contested election case in Megantic, Quebec, furnishes a notable example of "the bitter bitten." Mr. Johnson, the sitting member, was a Conservative, Mr. Whyte, his opponent, a Grit. Mr. Whyte's appeal to the courts was successful in so far that Mr. Johnson was unseated, because one of his agents had treated an elector; but the enquiry led to such developments that Mr. Whyte was himself "disqualified" for seven years on account of personal bribery.

Senator Hale says that everything in Canada's progress is involved in the Monroe doctrine. As that doctrine insists that the whole boundless continent belongs by divine right to the United States, Mr. Hale's utterances would be alarming if he spoke for the Republican party. The Montreal Witness remarks that Canadians, however, may be consoled by the fact that this is only part of the oratorical fireworks of the presidential campaign that Mr. Hale is firing off. It is not so much at Canada as at Mr. Cleveland that his rockets are aimed.

Our Boys at Halifax.

In Saturday's issue we published the scores made by our military men at Halifax. Although our Island men came off third best under the circumstances this was not to be wondered at. Indeed, it would have been extraordinary if they had done better. In organizing his team Lt.-Col. Dogherty had not a little difficulty; at this busy season, in getting his quota, and having succeeded, the time was entirely too limited to have the necessary practice on the Kensington Range. In Nova Scotia and New Brunswick we understand such was not the case. Their teams were culled from the very best shots, by actual practical tests on their respective ranges, in some cases Wimbeldon men having been dropped out. Such tests brought their very best men to the front, and it was against these men our men had to contend.

Boston Prices.

From the official market report of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, June 14, we extract the following:

POTATOES.—The market is over-supplied with all kinds of old potatoes, and the situation is very depressed. In addition to the large amount of Province stock offering, there have been large arrivals of Scotch potatoes and prices are on a very low basis. Anything at all ordinary meets with no sale, and in order to move such goods, very low figures have to be accepted.

EGGS.—Receipts for the week 17 boxes, 49 bbls., 10,126 cases; last week 31 boxes, 97 bbls., 10,548 cases. The market has been quite active during the past few days, and prices are firmer on all choice lots.

FISH.—Mackerel scarce and nominal, but few new fish being received as yet. Old cod dull with general tone of quietness on new fish.

Supreme Court.

PRINCE COUNTY.

The Court adjourned at an early hour on Saturday afternoon to enable the Judge and Bar to return to Charlottetown by the evening train. The action brought by Dr. Jarvis against the town of Summerside resulted in a non-suit, leave being reserved to set it aside and a new trial granted.

SOFT CATTLE.—During the past months 11,000 head of cattle were exported from Montreal for the European market.

Bishop Courtney.

The Bishop administered the rite of confirmation at Milton yesterday, and delivered an address before a large congregation. In the afternoon he addressed and catechized St. Paul's Sunday School. In the evening he preached to one of the largest congregations ever assembled in St. Paul's Church, taking for his text the famous words: "I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

This evening His Lordship will attend a conversation in St. Paul's Schoolroom, and to-morrow he will (it is rumored) perform one of the most interesting of Christian ceremonies in St. Paul's Church.

Gleanings From My Common-place Books.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF YOUNG MEN ATTENDING THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

LOYALTY TO PARTY.

What can be done in parliamentary parties if every man is to pursue his own little game? A costermonger and donkey would take a week to travel from Birmingham to London; and yet, by running athwart the London and North-western line, they might bring to total destruction a great express train; and so, very small men, who, during their whole political lives, have not advanced the question of Reform by one hair's breadth or by one moment of time, can in a critical hour like the present throw themselves athwart the objects of a great party, and mer, it may be, a great measure that sought to affect the interests of the country beneficially for all time.

LEGAL EVIDENCE.

No, my Lords; we know well that it is the glory of this Constitution that not the general fame or character of any man—not the weight or power of any prosecutors, no plea of moral or political expediency—not even the secret consciousness of guilt which may live in the bosom of the Judge—can justify any British Court in passing any sentence, to touch a hair of the head or an atom in any respect of the property, of the fame, of the liberty, of the poorest or meanest subject that breathes the air of this just and free land.

AMERICAN POLITICS.

It has been well said by a Japanese traveller, that the foundation of American politics is not to honor politicians; always to speak evil of dignities, if they are on the other side of politics; always to bear false witness, if elections can be carried that way; to think a great deal of evil of everybody; and, politically, to do always to the other side exactly what you would not at all like them to do to you.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

A function of the House of Lords is to criticize, amend and correct the legislation of the House of Commons, not with the view of stopping the progress of a measure, or changing its character, but merely with the view of securing that when a Bill becomes an Act of Parliament, it shall be intelligible, consistent, and operative.

THE JUDICIAL OFFICE.

In England, in America, in every well-constituted and well-regulated State, the executive and judiciary powers are separated by a broad and impassable barrier. There is no authority in the State, however high, that would venture to interfere with the discharge of the judicial office. It would be considered a violation of the most sacred principles, and an outrage on all propriety, to seek to control, or even to influence, directly or indirectly, the decision of a judge even of the most inferior tribunal.

TIME, THE DESTROYER OF EVIDENCE, &c.

In the sketch of Lord Plunkett we find the following specimen of his imagery: In commenting upon the wisdom of the rule of law which presumes right from undisturbed possession, he observed "Time is the great destroyer of evidence, but he is also the great protector of titles. If he comes with a scythe in one hand to mow down the monuments of our possessions, he holds an hour glass in the other, from which he incessantly metes out the portions of duration that are to render those monuments, no longer necessary."

A REMARK OF SIR ISAAC NEWTON JUST BEFORE HIS DEATH.

I do not know what I may appear to the world; but to myself I seem to have been only like a boy playing on the sea shore, and diverting myself by now and then finding a smoother pebble or a prettier shell than ordinary, while the great ocean of truth lay all undiscovered before me.

LOBSTER FISHERIES.—Lobsters at the canneries are reported as being more plentiful and of better quality than last year. It is not likely, however, that the catch this season will exceed that of last.

St. Ann's School.

The annual examination of the classes in St. Ann's Convent School, in this city, took place on Friday last. Among those who were present and assisted in the exercises were His Lordship Bishop McIntyre, Rev. Allan Macdonald, Rev. F. X. Gallant and Rev. J. C. Maclean. The pupils acquitted themselves in a manner highly satisfactory to all present—those of the more advanced classes doing particularly well, answering the questions put them with an ease and aptitude which clearly indicated the thoroughness of the instruction imparted.

The good Sisters of St. Ann's are doing a noble work among the little ones—and they are doing it in a quiet way. Each year they educate—morally as well as intellectually—a large number of children. That the little girls soon learn to love their teachers, and to co-operate with them in their efforts to prepare for the great battle of life, is amply attested to on a visit to the institution.

Below is the prize list:

Prizes for application, awarded to Ada Shepherd, Mary A. McCarron, Charlotte Bowden, Margaret Clarkin, Mary E. Aylward and Josephine Mullins in the county jail, for kissing his sweetheart on the street. Miller in his own defence said that the young lady was his affianced, that since paying attention to her he had frequently kissed her, and she seemed to enjoy it, and he did not think she would revolt when he kissed her on the street. The judge said there was a material difference between kissing a young lady in her parlour, and committing the act of osculation in a public place, and he would give him two months time to learn what the difference was.

KISSING.—At Harrisburg, Pa., last week, Judge Simonton sentenced Albert Miller to two months imprisonment in the county jail, for kissing his sweetheart on the street. Miller in his own defence said that the young lady was his affianced, that since paying attention to her he had frequently kissed her, and she seemed to enjoy it, and he did not think she would revolt when he kissed her on the street. The judge said there was a material difference between kissing a young lady in her parlour, and committing the act of osculation in a public place, and he would give him two months time to learn what the difference was.
