

Weatherly Beats Grete To Retain Americas Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Weatherly, a cast-off in 1958, sailed Grete, the gallant challenger from Australia, into the sea Tuesday to retain the 111-year United States hold on the America's Cup.

Flawlessly skippered by Francis (Bud) Mosbacher Jr., the crew refurbished 12-metre sloop led around every mark and clinched a 4:01 victory in this world series of yachting by the decisive margin of three minutes, 40 seconds, over the 24-mile upwind-downwind course.

The bottomless old silver cup first won by the schooner America in 1851 will remain moored to a heavy oak table at the New York Yacht Club. Challengers of five nations have spent more than $50,000,000 trying to capture it, without success.

The plucky Australians, who made the best overall showing in 28 years, must go home empty-handed to await a new challenger at the very old mite worth about $150.

Britain's Royal Thames Yacht Club, with a new 24-lenger near completion, plans to make a bid. The next series likely will be sailed in 1964.

JUMP FOR JOY

After their successful cup defence, Weatherly's sailors hugged each other in the cockpit, jumping for joy, and uncorked champagne to toast the 19th U.S. victory.

In Tuesday's fifth race, Weatherly was in command most of the way.

The U.S. sloop drove into the wind as if powered by underwater jets, refusing to give distance to Grete on the two six-mile spunkier runs downwind.

Alexander (Jack) Sturrock, Grete's skipper, used a bright but unavailing array of hoosy sails.

The Aussies started with a two-tone blue spunkier like Weatherly's; shifted to a red, white and blue kite, and on the final run home resorted to a red and white sail resembling a barber pole. But the Americans were not to be caught.

Sturrock had a slight edge in the start, going over the line a half-length in front and in a safe, leeward position favored by Mosbacher. But Mosbacher outfoxed him at every other point of sailing.

An example came within the first 17 minutes of the race, when Sturrock tried to drive beneath Weatherly and into a position to force her into a zig-zag tacking duel. Mosbacher countered the move, sent Weatherly out in front, and laced these.

LOST 1958 TRIALS

Weatherly, built by a syndicate headed by shipping tycoon Henry D. Mercer of Rumson, N.J., was climaxed early in the 1958 trials in which the defender role went to Columbia.

But after getting a new keel and a new skipper, Weatherly became almost unbeatable. She whipped three U.S. rivals—Columbia, Easterner and Neteller—in elimination trials during the summer for the right to oppose Grete.

Grete, built by an Australian syndicate headed by newspaper-publisher Sir Frank Packer, nearly made her $1,000,000 challenge worthwhile. She won the second race—first victory for a challenger since 1924—and came within 10 seconds in the fourth race which had the closest finish in the history of the competition.

Tuesday's race was delayed an hour while the committee waited for a smoky southwest wind blowing up to eight knots to freshen and assert itself.

The Australian sloop slid over the imaginary starting line perhaps half a boat-length in front, but Mosbacher moved to the middle of the line and kept his wind clear.

GRETE TAKES LEAD

As the two sleek racers drove into the wind like grey ghosts on a hazy horizon, Grete inched ahead until she had perhaps a full boat-length lead. Mosbacher stuck to his guns, however, and pointed Weatherly's sharp blue nose into the wind working away to windward.

Grete, finding Weatherly working away to windward, came about in an effort to gain a more favorable position and set the stage for a tacking duel. Mosbacher immediately took the initiative away. He came about underneath Grete and gained a position below her prow.

Seven minutes later Grete tried to engage Weatherly in a tacking match, but Weatherly covered once, then broke it off. Obviously recalling the race of a week ago when he lost a tacking duel, the U.S. skipper elected to sail his own race.

In a series of split tacks, Grete crossed the ocean. Mosbacher again showed his skill sailing into the wind.

Weatherly drove steadily ahead, pointing higher and tacking faster than her adversary, and rounded the first turn with a lead of two minutes, four seconds.

Grete was two minutes, 28 seconds behind when she rounded the second mark — a buoy — to head upwind for six more miles.

BEATS OFF CHALLENGE

On the third leg, into the wind, Grete made her only exciting challenge. Driving hard enough almost to snap her foremast in winds that rose to about 30 knots she moved close to Weatherly's tail. The American didn't back the throat, finding a shorter route to the third mark, which Weatherly turned with a lead of three minutes, 30 seconds.

Sturrock apparently tightened the backstay of his mast to flatten his mainsail, and this provided a new driving force into gusts that reached 30 knots. Then came the dash for home with Weatherly always well in front.

Terry Downes Beats Robinson in Points

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Terry Downes, former holder of part of the world middleweight title, outpointed Sugar Ray Robinson of New York in a ten-rounder at London's Indoor Wembley Stadium Tuesday night.

Downes, 26, inlined Robinson from the start and the veteran American, five-times middleweight champion of the world, had no real answer to the tough Briton.

Robinson, 42, weighed in at 153 pounds and Downes at 161.

The verdict of referee Andrew Smythe was based by a section of the sell-out 14,000 crowd. But this was largely due to a tremendous rally in the last round when Robinson, realizing he was hopeless behind on points, threw everything into an all-out effort to knock out Downes.

Robinson, who gave away 16 years to the Briton, started well and just took the first round with his crisper punching. But Downes, an all-action fighter, started pressing Robinson in the second and never let up for the rest of the fight.

Time after time he had Robinson caught on the ropes and the American needed all his boxing skill to get himself out of trouble.

Downes staggered Robinson with a hard left in the third round, but Robinson came back groggy with a terrific right up-percut.

The Associated Press card showed Robinson winning only twice in the first round with Downes taking the other nine.

Black Chicago; Begals Edge Angels

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Frank Malzone drove in three runs behind Bill Monbouquette's thirteenth home run as Boston Red Sox defeated Chicago 4-1.

Malzone singled home one run in the opening inning and added two more with bases loaded single in Boston's three-run seventh.

Two hits late led to Boston's first two runs. Ed Bressoud got a double in the first when Nellie Fox, Luis Aparicio and Landis let his easy fly fall among them. Malzone singled to right, scoring Bressoud.

In the seventh Monbouquette walked and Carroll Hardy's high pop ball fell for a single as Juan Pizarro, catcher Camilo Carron and third baseman Al Smith watched a double of the left field wall by Carl Yastrzemski brought in Monbouquette and La Clinton was walked to set the stage for Malzone's two-run single to left.

In the only other day action in the majors, Al Kaline's triple with two out in the ninth drove in two unearned runs and lifted the Tigers to a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles Angels at Detroit.

"The Tigers had led 1-0 on an unearned run until the Angels countered with two runs in the top of the ninth. Tom Sarrafino's bunt started the tying run, and Albie Pearson tripled and scored on Billy Moran's single.

Billy Bruton, the Tigers' third baseman, collided with Kaline on Pearson's hit, and was carried to the hospital.

stretcher from the field on a first. Bruton was clipped in the fifth by Kalline's shoulder and knocked unconscious. He was taken to a hospital for X-rays after regaining consciousness.

The loss went to reliever Ted Lowrey of Peoria, B.C. whose wild throw to second base enabled the Tigers to stay alive in the ninth.

Paul To Become Tribe Co-owner

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gabe Paul, 52, who started in baseball 41 years ago as a batboy in Rochester, is on his way up another notch to become a co-owner of Cleveland Indians.

The American League club announced Tuesday that negotiators are under way to enable Paul, general manager of the Indians, to acquire a substantial stock interest. Several present stockholders are selling stock to Paul, who now owns 10 percent.

Paul said he had no intention of quitting as general manager when he becomes an owner.

Paul said it would take a few weeks to complete negotiations. He declined to say if he would gain a controlling interest.
