

A Feature For Every Friday Among The Farmers Federation Of Agriculture News

Your secretary, L. P. McIsaac, accompanied by Mr. Jack Wright, Secretary of Dunk River Dairying Co., and representing the P. E. I. Dairymen's Association and Eugene Gorman representing the Department of Natural Resources left for Newfoundland on Monday to attend a meeting sponsored by the Department of Resources and the Federation of Agriculture in that Province — object of the meeting, mutual understanding of our production and trade problems.

Telegram just received from Mr. McIsaac reported a most successful meeting. Newfoundland is one of our most valuable markets and any steps that will improve public relations should be in order.

Income Tax

In the spring a farmer's fancy darkly turns to thoughts of income tax. Saturday, April 29th is the deadline. If possible, avoid preparation and filing of your returns at the last minute. Haste makes for errors which may prove expensive.

While you are swatting over the forms this year, is the time to make plans for a better system of keeping records. An account with your bank and payment of bills by cheque provides useful information about your expenses.

Hog Economy

The recent increase in price of pig feed, particularly barley meal is going to call for efficient methods of hog production. Some clover pasture and a patch of rape will pay the cost of feeding breeding stock.

Probably one of the first experiments in hog raising in which accurate accounting is available was carried on in 1892 at New Perth in connection with the newly organized cheese factory.

Dr.	$ 571.27
Feed and attendance	171.40
	$ 742.67
Cr.	$ 725.26
Realized on sales	23.51
Loss	$ 23.51

The loss was chiefly due to the death of four pigs. A hundred pounds of whey in combination with other feeds, was supposed to have produced two pounds of pork.

Jersey Breeders

The Jersey breeders of the province are to be congratulated on their recent sale of thirty head of cattle to a Tennessee buyer. This sale is the result of a constructive breeding policy carried on by our

Great Personalities

F. H. MacArthur

Today I am going to talk about that brave blind woman who wrote over three thousand hymns of which one "Safe in the Arms of Jesus", ranks among the finest to be heard in any language.

Frances Jane Crosby lost her sight when a mere baby and never regained it. This remarkable woman received her education in a school for the blind. She grew up in a world of darkness, there was sunshine in her soul and music in her heart. Her poetical gifts found early expression and her hymns of praise and thanksgiving have done more than most men's words to bring comfort and hope to thousands of troubled hearts throughout Christendom.

Fanny Crosby needed no eyes to be able to discern the beauties that dwell in a circumscribed world and from her blacked out surroundings, she could picture stars and mist and purple dusk; hear heavenly melodies when none were played; see flowers that others could not see, or as William Watson puts it:

"The poet gathers fruit from every tree,
Yea, grapes from thorns and figs from thistles he Plucked by his hand, the basest weeds that grow
Flower to a lily, reddens to a rose.
Little flowers, growing in the crannies wall,
I pluck thee out of thy crannies,
And hold thee in my hand, root and all,
And all in all."

This noble blind woman put aside her great handicap and released from her heart hymns clothed in beautiful words, songs that have floated like fragrant lilies down the corridors of time.

To hold the fragile, delicate substance that is rhythm, to enjoy it, to sing it to those whose eyes and ears hear only the noise of everyday life, was her task.

The hymns of Fanny Jane Crosby have a humbleness and sublimity that never fail to stir one's heart. When we sing her beautiful hymn "Safe in the Arms of Jesus", we feel that God is, indeed, our only safe refuge, that He knows all our actions and governs them according to His pleasure.

MANY ESKIMOS ILL.

WINNIPEG April 19 — (CP) — R.C.A.F. officials today said a plane will take off from here tomorrow, weather permitting, for the Hudson Bay port of Churchill to bring back six sick Eskimos. The Eskimos, five suffering from tuberculosis and one with hernia, were taken to Churchill from their homes on Southampton Island in the Arctic. No deaths have been reported from the recent outbreak of tuberculosis in the northlands. However, a combination of starvation and influenza was believed to have stricken natives in the Lake Ennadai district, 350 miles north of Churchill. Other reports said an epidemic of measles still is spreading among the Eskimos.

C.C.F. Motion For Price Controls Defeated In House

OTTAWA, April 18 — (CP) — The C. C. F. Party thrust the price-control question back into Commons debates yesterday and called unsuccessfully for the imposition of selective ceilings.

M. J. Caldwell, C. C. F. leader, introduced a motion criticizing the Government for "failure" to implement the "promise" made at the national Liberal convention in 1948 to impose selective controls "in any field where prices proved to be unreasonable."

The motion was quickly defeated by a vote of 133 to 23, with Progressive Conservatives supporting the C. C. F. and the Social Credit group siding with the Liberals.

Before the count was taken, James Sinclair (L — Coast-Capitol), Parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, noted that the cost-of-living index had gone up only about six points since August, 1948. That was considered to be pretty good.

Earlier, Justice Minister Garson promised to give a Government statement on protests from the Broker-Dealers Association against denial of the mails to some dozen Toronto stock brokerage houses for alleged violations of the law in oil stock promotion.

The Chamber also opened study of a Government motion for establishment of a committee to consider amendments to the Elections Act and heard John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) urge steps to prevent "abuses" of the electoral laws.

Launching the cost-of-living debate, Mr. Caldwell recalled that Mr. Abbott had said in November, 1947, that he believed the cost-of-living index would rise to about 140 to 145 and settle there. If that happened, he would consider the picture good.

But, said Mr. Caldwell, the index had gone far beyond that. The latest official report—for March 1—placed the index at 163.7, the highest point in Canadian history.

It was time, he said, that the Commons gave some attention to living costs. The Government had

Building Boom Is Forecast For Halifax

HALIFAX, April 20 — (CP) — This 200-year-old city is undergoing a face-lifting in the form of a $20,000,000 building boom that will probably take more than two years to complete.

It will include many phases of construction from schools and nurses residences to a new Federal building and a $350,000 addition to the Fisheries Experimental Station.

Biggest single project is a $5,000,000 apartment housing project to be undertaken by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for naval personnel at nearby Tufts.

Ignored the problem, despite the Liberal promise in 1948 and the recommendations of a House committee which delved into the cause of high costs. The committee had made 14 recommendations; the Government adopted three.

COVE.

Gordon B. Isnor, Liberal member of Parliament for Halifax, said the "program will use every available bricklayer and stone mason in Nova Scotia and probably will mean bringing in others from New Brunswick."

Mr. Isnor said the new five-storey Federal building will be used to concentrate Federal offices now spread over the city. He said it is still in the blueprint stage. Tenders have already been called for the Fisheries Experimental Station.

Meanwhile, the city's major school construction program will continue with the proposed erection of three new buildings. Extension jobs will be completed this fall on five other schools.

The Federal Government will also spend some $2,500,000 in adding to H. M. C. S. Stadacona barracks. A $450,000 naval research building will be put up at Dartmouth, and a national research regional laboratory on Dalhousie University campus.

Dalhousie also has a $1,770,000 plan in the offing for construction of an arts building and an ice-skating arena.
