Khrushchev Suggests Limited Ban On Tests

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a cheering East German audience Tuesday that in exchange for a non-aggression pact with the West he would be willing to go along with the United States and Britain on ending nuclear tests in space, in the atmosphere and under water.

Khrushchev led into his offer by calling U.S. President Kennedy's speeches in Berlin and West Germany last week "a dangerous development."

Khrushchev spoke in advance of talks on a nuclear test ban scheduled to start in Moscow July 15 with U.S. and British representatives.

He deliberately left under ground tests out of his proposal and appeared to write off an agreement to that as impossible.

Khrushchev appeared to be offering a deal to the West, but the Soviet leader himself said he had made the partial ban proposal before. A suggestion of this was given by British Labor Party leader Harold Wilson on his recent trip to Moscow.

After Kremlin talks with Khrushchev, Wilson said he felt the best hope was for a limited test ban which would exclude underground nuclear tests.

WILLARD, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mary L. Wright, a frail 80-year-old widow, was pronounced dead twice by the same doctor in less than 24 hours.

The 87-pound woman was died Monday night. She had lung cancer more than 19 years after she was believed to have died the first time.

Walter Landwehr, owner of the First Funeral Home, was asked to embalm her in his mortuary Sunday night when he saw her breathing and perspiring.

After detecting a faint heartbeat, Lindsey and an aide wrapped Mrs. Wright in blankets and rushed her back to Willard Municipal Hospital. She remained in an oxygen tent until death came shortly after 7 p.m. Monday.

Dr. Richard Jackson, 38, pronounced her dead—just as he had done late Sunday night after the woman suffered a stroke. At that time, the general practitioner said, "she lost all the brain stem reflexes—blood pressure and pulse were gone and she was not breathing."

Mrs. Wright had a heart stoppage the first time, but a rough ride to the funeral home in an ambulance apparently restored the woman's breath and circulation, the doctor said.

A SEARCHING LOOK at the beef industry of the Maritime Provinces was taken yesterday during a panel discussion at the Atlantic Provinces Agricultural Institute of Canada.

RETURNING CALLED DOUBTFUL

There is a need in the Maritime Provinces for planning as to where the area's beef industry is going, Walter Grant of the Nova Scotia department of agriculture said in Charlottetown yesterday.

He was taking part in a panel discussion at the Atlantic Provinces convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada at Birch Court Experimental Farm. Other panelists were Edward Clark, Prince County beef producer, J. Lincoln Dewar, secretary of the P.E.I. Federation of Agriculture, and Roland Nass, Canada department of agriculture, Montreal.

Mr. Grant said "no one is plotting the way for the beef industry. Everyone seems to be going in different directions."

He said "perhaps we should think who is going to produce feeders for us. There are a lot of crossbreeds coming from the dairy industry for feeders."

Mr. Nass advocated a slow policy on building up the beef industry with cross-bred cattle. "I think," he said, "we should keep the pure strains alive. Crossbreeding takes much planning—we have to cultivate the size, type and quality in the purebreds that we plan to crossbreed."

There are two ways and means of raising the level of the beef industry in the Maritimes. We don't use enough fertilizer on our pastures—you can't buy steers and throw them out on a new piece of land and expect them to contribute to the beef industry."

Mr. Grant suggested that the beef industry "with primary secondary industry" will produce who must also carry on other lines of farming to make a living.

Mr. Dewar asked the question: "Is beef in the Maritimes going to develop as an adjunct to the dairy industry? Is that where the future lies?"

There were no answers to Mr. Dewar who also asked "do we have need of a cattle—not beef—development program in the Maritimes? And whose responsibility is it to work toward a cattle program?"

Prince County beef producer Edward Clark said at one time he had a pure bred herd of 100. (Continued on page 5, col. 4.)

JFK Winds Up European Tour

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — President Kennedy rode a smiling through streets lined with 500,000 cheering Neapolitans Tuesday night and headed back by plane to Washington from a 10-day European tour designed to strengthen the Atlantic community.

It was the windup of one of the busiest days on the tour that had taken him to Bonn and West Berlin, to his ancestral home in Ireland, to talks with Prime Minister Macmillan in London and then to Italy.

Both sides confirmed their firm intention of persevering in the search for appropriate measures to alleviate international tensions," the communique said.

ASK CO-OPERATION

At the southern headquarters of NATO in Naples, Kennedy called for continued co-operation between the U.S. and Western Europe as a step toward world peace.

Again challenging French President de Gaulle's separatist policy and the idea that the U.S. may return to isolationism, he said intelligence interest commits the U.S. to Europe's defense.

15 Die In Crash

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A Mohawk airplane, taking off in a heavy rain and hail storm, crashed near a road construction project near the Rochester Monroe County airport Tuesday and at least 15 persons were reported killed on 21 injured.

The names of the dead and injured were not immediately available.

Sheriff's deputies at the scene said seven persons were known to be dead and at least eight others were thought to have been killed.

Among those believed killed was the pilot of the twin-engine Martin 404. The airline identified him as Capt. R. M. Dennis of Elberton, N.J.

The airline said the plane, flight 112 on route to Newark, N.J., via White Plains, N.Y., carried 40 passengers besides its crew of three.

Bystanders and workers on the road-building project were said to be among the casualties.

Witness said the wheels of the plane "barely left the ground when the force of the storm apparently drove the plane to earth."

"There was no fire," he said, "I suspect that was because of the torrential rain."

The plane crashed shortly before 5 p.m. The airport is several miles southwest of the city and the construction project about a quarter of a mile from the field.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Liberal government survived its fourth non-confidence test of the young parliamentary session Tuesday night as a Progressive Conservative motion against the minority administration was defeated in the Commons.

Voting for the Conservative motion, which accused the government of creating confusion in the economy, were 61 Conservatives, 13 New Democratic MPs and Guy Macdonald, Independent Social Credit member for Quebec-Montmorency.

Opposed were 96 Liberals, 18 Social Credit MPs and Frank Howard (NDP-Skeena).

Final vote was 115 to 75. The motion read:

"This House regrets that the government, by its failure to clarify monetary and uncertainties, has created and continues to create confusion and chaos in various sectors of the economy, thereby contributing to a lamentable slowing-down of expected expansion and growth."

NDP Leader T. C. Douglas said he was disappointed in the government for large-scale housing and public works expenditures in the past few years. He said Speaker Lucien Lamoureux (L.-Stormont) ruled it out of order. An NDP appeal failed 158 to 14.

ATTACKS TWO PLANS

With the budget debate ended last week, the government is beginning rules barred direct references by Mr. Diefenbaker to penalize corporations with less than 25-per-cent Canadian ownership and award incentives to those that invest in Canada.

Mr. Diefenbaker said there is overwhelming public demand for more information on the budget proposals—and for withdrawal of the tax plan, he said he will make a statement about application of the tax no later than next Monday.

Mr. Diefenbaker said there has been a long period of government inaction on government legislation. He said he would introduce resolutions have been passed.
