A HARD LASTING SHINE

Bristol and Vicinity

It is with sincere regret that the community learn of the passing after a lengthy illness of Mr. Charlie Ross, whose home is in Roseberry. Charlie was well known here from his transfer days and his happy smile will ever be remembered. There will come and go many a moon before another Charlie Ross will come to this vicinity. It's with deep sadness that the death of such a fine young man has to be chronicled so early in life. To the family of Charlie, deep sympathy is extended.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kelly were in the city on Saturday on business. Mr. Kelly who has had a bad eye since early in life had the optic removed some time ago, as it was feared it might harm his other eye. Since that time Mr. Kelly has worn heavy dark glasses as a protection for his good eye.

The condition of Rev. Phelan McKenna, P. P. here who suffered a severe heart attack nearly two weeks ago following Mass at one of his parishes is still very serious and no visitors are allowed to see the father who has been moved to the Charlottetown Hospital after several days on the danger list here. It will be quite a long while before the father will be back to his duties again as he will require a long rest.

Rev. A. L. Sinnott, whose old home is in this vicinity, has arrived here to take up the duties of the pastor of both churches, owing to the illness of the pastor, Father Sinnott who has been preaching and lecturing through the U. S. A. and Canada was here for a week last summer.

Mr. William McKenna who was here for a few days called by the sudden illness of his brother Father McKenna and his mother Mrs. James McKenna, left for his home in Boston, by plane early Friday morning. Mr. McKenna, who is a B.I.S. man in Boston, addressed the B.I.S. men at their headquarters in Charlottetown on St. Patrick's day, following the parade.

Friends here of Mr. Peter A. McLellan, fisheries officer at Souris, will be sorry to learn he is confined to the Charlottetown Hospital at present with an attack of the flu. Mr. McLellan is well and favorably known in this vicinity, especially by the fishermen whom he has worked with for more than a quarter of a century.

Mrs. Effie McEwen who was a patient in the P. E. Island Hospital for some time is home again, in much better health now.

It is regretted that Mrs. Rezin-ald MacDonald will enter the City Hospital this week to undergo an operation. All hope to see her have a speedy recovery.

This writer had the pleasure of meeting an old Bristol resident of more than 40 years ago, only last week for the first time in all these years. The lady was in single life Julia Gauthier and is better remembered here by that name and resided here with her sister Mrs. Ceph. Davy, some 40 years ago and many of the middle class remember her as well as the older ones. Julie says she is coming back to Bristol, shortly for a couple of days to see her old friends of another day and see the old places once more. Like many of her class, her family are grown up and now gone on their own.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford S. McEwen, were in the city on Friday on business also to see Mr. McEwen's mother who resides in the city. Cliff is getting ready to build a new large barn in the spring and already has a lot of the lumber cut and in readiness for an early start.

A report that Mrs. James O'Brien, won a new washing machine and a year's supply of soap powder here, on investigation turned out to be a Mrs. James O'Brien, Charlottetown, and not the lady residing here.

The two Harry McEwens, Harry Sr. and Harry Jr. who did a lot of painting here last summer expect to team up again in the spring and start the bottle shortly with the house cleaning getting underway.

The Misses Margaret and Gertrude Honeberry, who have spent the winter months in Charlottetown, expect to come to the old home again in the spring for the summer months as their brothers usually come from the U.
