The Transvaal War

Steady of Nerve.

"It is not merely that a soldier's staying powers are augmented by total abstinence, but likewise his shooting is improved. In these days, especially with the new quick-firing rifles and guns, there is a tendency on the part of the troops to fire wildly and to squander ammunition ot the outset of the engagement. Indeed the one object of the officers is to keep their men calm, cool and collected and free from excitement, so they may reserve their fire for the proper moment, and then hit."

Colonel Baden Powell.

Col. Robert Stephenson Smyth Baden-Powell, the hero of Mafeking, is a cavalry colonel of high reputation and a great deal of South African experience. About six months ago he went to South Africa to organize the force which he is leading so boldly, and previous to that he was, though a full colonel in the army, lieutenant-colonel commanding the 5th Dragoon Guards. He is forty two years old and is the son of a clergy-man and Oxford professor, the late Rev. Mr. Baden-Powell of Oxford and Langton Manor. Educated at Charter-house, he, when nineteen years of age, entered a cavalry regiment, the 13th Hussars, and in time became its adjutant, serving with it in India, Afghanistan and South Africa. In 1887-89 he served on the staff as assistant military secretary in South Africa and participated in the Zulu war of 1888, being mentioned in despatches. From 1890 to 1893 he was assistant military secretary in Malta, and then, 1895, went on the Ashanti expedition, commanding the native levies. Out of that campaign he took a star and a brevet lieutenant-colonelcy.

His real claim to attention, however, came from his work in Matabeleland in the rebellion that followed the disastrous issue of the Jameson raid. He was chief staff officer in that affair, and earned great praise for his work. An excellent feature of his character which showed in these operations was his power of getting on well with his subordinates and getting the best results from them. He emerged from the campaign a brevet colonel while still a regimental major. In 1897 he was promoted from the 13th Hussars to be lieutenant-colonel commanding the 5th Dragoon Guards.

Col. Baden-Powell is a famous sportsman and a bit of an author. "Who's Who" makes a point of noting its subjects' recreations, and Col. Baden-Powell's list shows what an eclectic fighting man he is. Here it is:—Pig-sticking (winner of the Kadir Cup); polo, big game shooting, hunting, yachting, stage managing, acting and singing, painting and etching He is the author of a sporting book, "Pig-sticking, or Hog-hunting," a standard manual of the exciting Indian sport of running down the fierce, wild hog of India. He has published three military books, "Reconnaissance and Scouting," "Vedette" and "Cavalry Instruction," and a couple of histories of campaigns, "The Downfall of Prempeh" and "The Matabele Campaign." So it seems that he can ride, write, sing, paint, act, shoot, sail—and fight.

ITCHING PILES. . .

Positively and permanently cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is an absolute cure for piles, and has never been known to fail to cure the worst forms of this disease which has baffled medical skill for ages.

This statement may sound rather strong to persons who do not know the superior merits of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment, but it is perfectly true, and heartily endorsed by the grateful testimony of thousands of men and women who have been cured by it after years of suffering, and after trying many preparations and consulting the best doctors.

Mr. H. Bull, Belleville, Ont., says: "I take pleasure in stating that after thirty years of suffering with Itching Piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely cured me. I tried every remedy that was advertised, with little or no benefit, but as I have told different persons affected as I was, Dr. Chase's Ointment made a perfect cure."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine. It is guaranteed to cure any case of piles. For sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

AMBITIOUS CITY AGAIN.

Mr. Harry Bawden, of Hamilton, Ont. Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hamilton, Oct. 16.—Mr. Harry Bawden of this city corroborates the report printed recently relating to his cure of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For six years," he says, "I suffered with Lumbago and Kidney Disease. I tried everything under the sun, but absolutely nothing I ever took gave me the slightest relief. A friend advised me about one year ago to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I finally decided to do so, and purchased one box and found relief. I used in all five boxes and am completely cured.

The case has created quite a stir and there are found, too many warm, endorsers of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this city. Little faith is put in the many imitations on the maket, the verdict being that the rigi nal isrthe best.
