TEA! TEA!

OUR TEA TRADE IS BOOMING.

DURING the months of November and December our Tea Trade increased so much that we had to send an order to London for another supply, in order to keep us going till we receive our Spring Stock.

We attribute this large increase to the fact that we offered the public the best value in Teas on the Island, and they gave them a fair trial, and were convinced that what we stated was true.

We Won't Sell You any Tea that we cannot warrant. Call early and try a sample lot.

Dr. Kendrick's White Liment cures and relieves Rheumatism and Neuralgia. THOSE whose good fortune it was to attend the lecture last evening by his Honor, R. R. Fitzgerald on "The best methods of studying history" enjoyed a rich treat. The lecture was of the nature of an informal talk or impromptu effort designed with the subject as only a master hand knows how. The lecture is replete with originality and freshness of thought. By way of introduction the triumphs of historical research and their bearings on modern history were referred to, especially in reference to English history and the British Empire as discussed in the record of the gatherings in of what is ended in the modern world. History is largely a matter of opinion. Thoughts and opinions ever change. Our preconceived ideas prevent true judgment on historical facts. The speaker claimed a right to his own opinion, and urged each to exercise the same right. As regards methods of studying history, he did not consider as the true way: 1. Its study by monarchical principles, i.e. by the division of kingly lines. 2. By wars of aggression, wars against oppression, or religious wars, of which there have been about 34 since the Christian era. The study of history, by taking great mass to represent periods or landmarks, was advised. We cannot study English history from an English history. It is necessary also to know the history of France and Germany. Select a great man as a central figure and cluster the events around it, for instance, Henry VIII and the Reformation, Charles V and the Field of the Cloth of Gold, Louis XIV, the central figure of the 17th Century, without which the period of the Stewart's must be a blank. A great deal of English and French history centres around Frederick the Great. Constitutional changes can be grouped in the same way, for instance John and the Magna Charta, Henry VIII and the Reformation, Charles I and the Petition of Rights, William of Orange and the rights of the English people to elect their own sovereign. This last idea was eloquently enlarged upon. The Act of Settlement, passed by an English parliament, is the condition upon which Queen Victoria holds her throne. The lecture expressed the opinion that if the Prince of Wales rules as a king as he has ruled as a prince he may find out the people's power to elect a sovereign. Other important epochs of history, such as the period of industry and commercial prosperity, and the Stewart period in which we read the opinion of small the right of the King, were grouped. The speaker's opinion of Oliver Cromwell as having a divine mission was well founded and audaciously interesting.

King of Medicines Scrofulous Humor—A Cure "Almost Miraculous." "When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven swellings appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well. "Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased and I began to feel better, and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from my disease that I went to work for the Pilot & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then I HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the King of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 E. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

SUMMERSIDE NEWS.

A Day's Budget of Western Items.

Branch Office, Central St. We regret to learn that Mr. John Lord, of Tryon, is dangerously ill.

Mr. J. Montgomery, M. P. P., of Malpeque, was in St. John on Tuesday. From a letter just received from Hon. J. W. Ross, of Summerside, he says he will arrive at home on or about the 20th inst.

L. O. O. F.—The regular meeting of Victoria Lodge, No. 22, will meet to-night. Members will please bear this in mind.

PHOTOGRAPHER BOWNESS, when in a humorous mood yesterday, took a snap shot at the gang of hasty sons of toil breaking stone on the Market Square. When finished it will be a picture—(que) of the scene.

ANOTHER indication of approaching spring is the numerous young men daily seen lounging about the south side of the Market House, taking a sun bath and getting accustomed to the power of the summer heat.

The Presbyterian church at Victoria West was opened Sunday, March 6th. The ceremonies, which were very impressive, were conducted by Rev. J. M. McLeod, assisted by Rev. R. H. Clemens, Rev. R. Vans and Rev. Thos. Corbet.

TUESDAY resembled a spring day, water ran freely from the fading snow. In the afternoon the snow-plough for the sidewalks was brought out and cast the slush from the plank, making the walking on the principal streets as dry as in summer.

The Pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Magge, baptised three candidates and received eight to membership on Sunday evening last. Special services are now being held in the Methodist church, in which a great deal of interest is manifested.

MR. R. T. H. LEAN, of this town, manufactures each year in the winter season from ten to twelve thousand cases of lobster vans, which are purchased by the numerous factories around the coast. Thousands of these cases have been hauled while the roads were good, the past few days to Egmont Bay, Fifteen Point and other places, to be in readiness at the beginning of the spring fishery.

The public sale, on Tuesday, for repairing the chains of Water Street was bid in at $32 per chain by the following parties: Frank Perry, four chains; Joseph G. and Joseph D. Perry, four do; Peter B. Gallant, two do. According to the contract the brushing must be two feet deep and twenty feet wide, one foot of brick clay on the inside, and six inches hard stone on top of the clay. This, when finished, is supposed to make the road bed solid and durable. Fifty loads of brush for the breastwork were sold at forty-four cents per load, delivered.

A LARGE concourse of people, representative of the Methodist body of St. John's, assembled at Ludlow Hall, March 8, to consider the desirability of building a new church or Sabbath school room, as the increasing number of Sabbath school pupils renders it absolutely necessary that something be done in that direction. The meeting opened with singing, and prayer by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Magge, who also officiated as chairman. In introducing the subject to be discussed, he remarked that they were making history—Methodist history—and that in building either church or school it was not only for their own good only but to glorify God. In conclusion, he invited the ladies to ventilate their ideas concerning the question before the meeting.

Mr. Strong, superintendent of the Sabbath school, then addressed the meeting. Referring to the school he said that the number of visitors to the school from time to time must have noticed that they were at a disadvantage, owing to the fact that the teachers had not convenient places to seat their classes, and that the room now used for that purpose was too small. Referring to schools in other cities he said they received a great deal of attention and have had various appliances to facilitate their work. Our school is increasing so that the classes are too close to one another. Our want is not an imaginary one, but a real want. He thought the better way to remedy the existing inconvenience was to move the old church up to the present foundation and fit it up for a school-room and build a new church, which he understood could be built for about $3,500. Referring to subscriptions he said he devoted a tenth of his income to such work.

Mr. Leonard Morris then addressed the meeting and said he endorsed Mr. Strong's remarks, and that he understood it was the general feeling to convert the old church into a schoolroom and build a new church.

Mr. E. H. Wright then addressed the meeting and said that the place they now occupied was not the place wherein he liked to worship Almighty God, and when he discovered that a new church could be built for $3,500 and the old fitted for a school-room, he little expected that they should at once undertake it.

The audience then sang an appropriate hymn and Mr. C. B. McNeill arose and passed a few remarks on the situation.

Mr. Pickrige arose and asked concerning a shed for horses which was explained to him by Mr. Wright. The other speakers were Mr. R. H. McDonald, Mr. Cree, Mr. T. Baker, Mr. J. W. Clarke, Mr. W. G. Strong, all of whom were agreed that the idea of moving the old church and converting it into a school room and building a new church was the better way of overcoming their present inconvenience. Refreshments were next in order and judging from the manner in which the provided delicacies disappeared it was evident that this department was highly appreciated. About eleven o'clock, the question having been discussed pro and con during refreshment, the audience returned to their respective homes.
