

Serenade.

BY VICH THOMNUL NAN ORD.

The western sun, declining, had left the Poetan height; With milder lustre shining, the moon illumed the night; On Tiber's stream a rover in light canoe is seen, And thus the pilot lover addressed his fancy's queen.

"Come, see this gliding river beneath the moonbeam shine; No rests thine image ever within this heart o mine; But Ah! far more endearing, thy form within my heart, With life its hold securing, till life and love depart.

"In Guido's angels painted, thine eyes appear less fair; In each Madonna sainted, we trace thy flowing hair; Canova's sculptured graces in borrowed beauty shine; Their lovely forms and faces are only types of thine."

Circumstantial Evidence.

BY LIEUTENANT MURRAY.

Concluded.

The counsel for the defense rose and delivered a very stern argument against the weakness of circumstantial evidence. It was a philippic that commanded profound attention, and even the judges on the bench listened to it with earnestness and surprise, it was so well expressed, and so indisputable in its deductions. "And now, may it please the court and gentlemen of the jury, in reply to all the evidence introduced against my client, in reply to the fallacy generally of circumstantial evidence, I shall give you but one proof." He walked quietly to a side door and opened it.

Frank Osgood walked into the court, well and hearty, bowing low to the judge and jury!

The surprise of all can hardly be described.

It was impossible for the officers to preserve a proper state of decorum under such exciting circumstances, and cheers arose in the room from the crowd so genuine, so spontaneous, as to defy all attempt to control them, while some of the women fainted, partially from intensity of feeling, and partly from excitement caused by the noise which was for some moments perfectly deafening. Frank Osgood was very generally known to those present, and was of course instantly recognized.

Walking up to the prisoner, Harry Cummings, the long missing man, gave him his hand cordially, which created another burst of applause, and it was absolutely necessary to clear the courtroom before further legal proceedings could take place, owing to the reigning excitement among the spectators.

All was soon explained. The night before his disappearance, Frank had made an avowal of his love to Mary Marr, and had been firmly but delicately refused. This so mortified and embittered him at first that he became crazed. He did not go to bed that night at all, but jumping out of the low window, wandered he knew not whither. Finally coming to the shore, he saw a ship just letting go her moorings to drop down to sea with the morning tide. She was bound for Australia.

Hardly knowing what he did, Frank went on board and sailed in her.

Sea life soon restored him to his normal condition. Absence cured him also of his unrequited love, and he sought the earliest means of returning to England. It was before the cable had been laid, and so he brought the news of his own safety in person, arriving the very morning when he appeared in court.

Frank Osgood and Harry Cummings became once more best of friends, both with happy families about their domestic hearths.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Beware of medicines of similar names, lately introduced. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. Sample bottle, 10 cents.

SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES.

VISITOR: The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia

PRINCIPAL: The Rev. John Padfield.

THIS SCHOOL offers, at very moderate cost, the advantages of a comfortable and pleasant home together with a thorough and refined education.

The course of Instruction is the same as that of the best Schools in England and is founded upon the University Examinations for Women. Eight young ladies from this School passed the Local Examination of the University of King's College in June last. This is the only School in Canada that has passed pupils at a University Examination.

The number of pupils is limited, rendering the School select, and while it possesses all the educational advantages of a large public school, each pupil is enabled to receive that individual care and oversight which is so important, and which cannot be given in a large establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Padfield are assisted by a staff of four resident governesses, besides visiting masters.

Parisienne French is taught conversationally. There are two resident French Governesses.

References given to parents of pupils. For further particulars address the Principal. Sept. 19, 1878.

CATARRH.

Constitutional Catarrh Remedy

CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.—

DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long, I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite clear of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head.

A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper Yours truly,

W. TINDALL, Methodist Minister.
