Church; to their own School and their own Church, and not another. Secondly, they must provide for them teachers who will know how to teach — who will give them good example—who will not suffer their pupils, boys and girls, to be exposed to the dangers of promiscous, unrestricted intercourse, in the same school-room and play-grounds and evening parties, where the passions are prematurely developed, and religion and reason hold no control. They must interdict the demoralizing reading of romances and novels, not to speak of other works of a still more fatal description. And instead of those they must furnish them with only such books and instructions as will explain to them the end for which they were created, and the duties which they must fulfil as good men and good women, good citizens, and above all, or to say all in one word, good Christians."

"The boarding and day schools, taught by religious communities of women, leave us little to desire in the education of young girls of the various orders of society. In vain will you look for the ladies whom they have educated, among the womens' rights party, the free lovers, the spirit-rappers, or the Mormons. But you will find them in their proper sphere, in the discharge of their domestic duties, and the practice of the religious and moral virtues."

"For boys, whose parents can pay the required stipend, we have our Colleges. But for those who are not so well favored with the goods of fortune, we are not so well provided. We want Normal or Training Schools, where the instructors of youth may be prepared for their holy and high vocation."

From the extracts which we have given, it is evident that the Common School System in the U. S. has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Catholics were always against it, and have supported, at an immense sacrifice, their own schools. Episcopalians, Wesleyans, and the principal Christian denominations are now beginning to see that the Catholics were right in their opposition to the infidel system, and are getting up their own Separate Schools.

4th. As to France, Italy and Germany, we will reserve our reply until Elder Laird will give a straightforward answer to the following question. We want to know exactly the position which our contemporary is disposed to take, before we will enter into a controversy with him on the subject of infidels and anarchists. Will Mr. Elder Laird have the kindness to let us know whether he considers the political fanatics, the visionaries, the red-republicans, the communists, the socialists, the Garibaldians, the Mazzinians, the revolutionists of Europe, who glory in robbing the Church, persecuting the clergy, plundering nunneries and monastries, assassinating the Pope's subjects, and setting at defiance the laws of God and man, good or bad? Are they, by their conduct in persecuting the Church, doing the work of God, or the work of the devil? Answer that, Mr. Elder. Evangelicals of your stamp have hitherto sympathized with these "godless" characters; but we shall be happy to learn that you have discovered the evil tenor of your ways. In that case we shall witness no more sympathy in your columns for Chiniquyism, which is raised almost to the third heavens at the contemplation of the persecution of Catholics in Italy and Spain.

5th. As to England, Mr Laird says "that the lower classes in England are the most ignorant that are to be found in Europe." This is an admission that will surprise many. Evangelicals of the Elder's stamp should then direct their labors towards the conversion of these poor ignorant creatures instead of flooding Ireland, Italy, and Spain, with soup and Bibles. If many of the people in England are ignorant, we think they can hardly come up to the people of Edinburgh in drinking whiskey on Sunday. Laing, a Scotchman of character, told us some twenty years ago, that the people in that city drank, on one Sunday, whiskey to the value of upwards of two thousand pounds sterling! The ignorance of the lower orders in England cannot be imputed to a religious education, but rather to the want of such an education. Besides, religion is often known, but not practiced. For example, we know an Elder who has read his Bible since he was able to read, and had the Gospel preached to him regularly; yet such is the depravity of human nature, that he scruples not calumniously to accuse ladies and gentlemen of teaching murder!

The third day of March next is appointed for the meeting of the Legislature of this Island. What course will be adopted by the Government upon the subject of Public Education? Will Mr Hensley and his associates silently presist in their resolution of last session to withhold public aid from St. Dunstan's College and other Catholic schools, or will they bring the question of grants to denominational schools before the House, and in the event of their failing to carry it, appeal to the people? We believe that a majority of the electors of Prince Edward Island are in favor of affording aid to all efficient denominational schools. Nearly one-half the population is Catholic, and every intelligent Catholic elector desires that education shall be based upon religion, while many Protestants are quite as much in favor of aiding denominational schools as are Catholics. It will be remembered by many of our readers that the Catholic Bishop last session petitioned the Executive for grants in aid of the schools established by Catholics. The prayers of his petition was rejected. The subject was debated in caucus, and Mr Hensley, most energetically as we are informed, expressed his opposition to any grant in favor of Catholic schools. And when, during the recess which followed that Session, a vacancy occurred in the representation of Summerside, and a candidate came forward as the advocate of Catholic and other denominational schools, the influence of the Government was excited against him, and against the Bishop and his clergy by whom he was warmly supported. The reason of this opposition is obvious. The success of Mr. Pope at Summerside would probably have occasioned a break up of the Government. The advancement of the Education Laws, so as to afford justice to Catholics, would then have been brought before the Legislature and the Country. This would not suit Mr. Hensley, although we feel assured that the constituency which he mis-represents, if appealed to, would, by a vast majority, declare in favor of compliance with the reasonable request of the Bishop—that same request which Mr. Hensley, for the sake of conciliating the bigots whose support is necessary to enable him to hold his office, rejected. The important subject of religious education engages the attention of the people of Nova Scotia—Catholic and Protestant. At a meeting of the Diocesan Church Society, recently held in Nova Scotia, in the proceeding of which the Rev'd George Hodgson took a part, a resolution in favor of denominational schools was unanimously passed, and in the newspapers we have read with much satisfaction the able letters written upon the subject by two Catholics—Drs Cameron and McGregor. In this Island, the ablest member in the Opposition in the Assembly, Mr. Haviland, has publicly declared that the policy pursued by Mr Hensley and his associates is unjust to Catholics, and has pronounced in favor of aid to all efficient denominational schools. The intelligent member for Summerside, Mr. Green, has expressed similar views upon the subject; and although every member of the Government and every supporter of the Government in the Assembly owed his election to Catholics, the application of the Catholic Bishop for a share of the School grant, was last session disposed of in caucus, and the wishes of Catholics were utterly disregarded. Mr. Hensley is evidently opposed to to granting aid to Catholic schools, and although there are associated with him in the Government, and in the Assembly, those who are in reality in favor of such grants, the Attorney General has succeeded in inducing them not to bring up the subject for discussion. Is it not the duty of all electors, Catholics and Protestants, who are in favor of granting aid to denominational Schools, to make known their views upon the subject to their Representatives, and to insist upon having the question tested in the Assembly. Had Catholics done their duty at the Summerside Election, an opponent of grants to Catholic schools would not have been returned. They allowed themselves to be deceived and were used as tools by their enemies. Were the Representatives of the Catholic districts to vote upon this subject in accordance with the wishes of their constituents, we should very soon have the Education of the country placed upon a proper basis. It is evident to us that Mr. Hensley, the Leader of the Government, not only does not represent the views of his constituents upon the subject of Education, but that he is using the power which they delegated to him to injure a cause in which they are deeply interested—the cause of education based upon religion.

THE NEW JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT.

Our contemporary the Patriot, true to its proclivities, has strongly recommended the leader of the Old Tory Party, to be appointed the new Judge, when the present Legislature shall pass the Act. This recommendation from that quarter might naturally be expected; but for the party in power to follow it, would be quite another thing. It would be recommending a man who for the last thirty years has obstructed and opposed every measure of Reform that has been carried by the Liberals, contrary to the wishes of himself and the old family compact.

If another Judge is to be appointed, the Hon. Charles Young should be the gentleman to get it, if he would accept it, as he has especial claims to the office. When the late Chief Justice Jarvis died in 1852, Judge Young was then Attorney General, and waived his right to be appointed, in favor of the present Chief Justice, for the reasons set forth by the Minute of Council, as printed in the appendix of the Legislative Council Journal of 1854, as follows:—

"Extract from the Minutes of the Executive Council.

Council Chamber, 21st May, 1852.

The Board having given mature consideration to the several documents submitted by His Excellency yesterday, upon the subject of the appointment of a successor to the late Chief Justice Jarvis and the Honorable the Attorney General, in his place, having stated that he wished to withdraw his claim to and application for, the vacant appointment, (founded on his present position as Chief Law Adviser of the Government), for the following reason, namely:

That by the appointment of the Honorable Robert Hodgson the pension of that gentleman, amounting to £200 per annum, will be saved to the Colony, and its best interests will thus be subserved.'

And the Board fully recognizing the validity of the Attorney General's claim, as well as the force of his reason, and the disinterestedness of his conduct, would respectfully recommend to His Excellency, that the Honorable Robert Hodgson be provisionally appointed Chief Justice of this Island.

[A true Extract.]

Charles DesBrisay, C. C."

Judge Young has shown his capacity to fulfil the duties of a Judge by the various learned decrees he has given in the Surrogate and Probate Courts during the last seventeen years, upon as difficult questions as have arisen in the Supreme Court, and from which no appeal has ever been demanded. He has given decrees in very many important estates, among which may be mentioned that of Irving's of Cherry Valley, of Lisle Annie Compton, in which the Hon. James C. Pope was assailed and honorably acquitted—and of McEwen's Estate of Summerside—in all of which he displayed much legal acumen and astuteness. Other substantial reasons might be given. The above alone will suffice.

We think that there should be another Judge appointed to the Supreme Court; but whether the Legislature in its wisdom will pass the Act authorizing it, is a question we cannot answer. We know that many of the members are opposed to the creating of new offices with salaries, and that they would prefer postponing the measure to a future day.

A judge must, however, sooner or later be appointed, and we hope the present efficient Judge of the Surrogate, Probate, and Insolvent Debtors Court will receive the appointment of Judge of the Supreme Court.

Shocking Accident.—On Monday afternoon the dwellers on Queen Street were startled by an explosion which proceeded from the Hardware Store, late of Starbird & Co., now, H. E. McEwen & Co. The plate glass windows were blown into the street and dense volumes of smoke were seen to issue from the store. But, more startling and melancholy than all, two men enveloped in flames, were presently seen to rush frantically from the premises and, in terror and trepidation, strive to bury themselves in the snow-banks which encumbered the streets. On investigation into the circumstances, it was found that a Mr. McRae, belonging to Lot 4, but more recently of Cherry Valley, had entered the store for the purpose of purchasing some caps which would fit a loaded pistol, which he held in his hand. Mr McEwen took the pistol and proceeded to a box containing caps cartridges, &c., over which he snapped the pistol, without knowing that it was loaded. The consequence was, that the pistol went off, and in discharging, communicated the sparks to the cartridge and powder-box, which immediately exploded, with the results which we have already stated. Mr. McEwen, being immediately over the powder box was severely injured, and fears are entertained of his recovery. Mr. McRae was more fortunate, and escaped with less damage, but he has received sufficient injury to confine him to the house for some weeks. The building escaped without much injury. This sad accident should be a warning to others how they handle fire arms, especially within range, we might say, of a powder magazine. Mr. McEwen was but a short time in business, having succeeded the late firm of Starbird & Co., about the close of the navigation.—Her.

A shocking calamity happened at Vernon River, a few weeks since, to the family of a colored man named Sheppard. The man and a son were out after fence rails or wood, and the boy was despatched home with the horse and a load—the father remaining behind to cut more. A long time having elapsed, and the boy not making his appearance, Sheppard went to look for him, and found that the horse had fallen a short distance from the house. He passed on, and not finding the boy, returned, when to his horror, he saw the boy's feet projecting from under the horse, and quite dead, a part of the traveller having entered his back. The father's reason fled, and he returned home on his hands and knees, and in his frenzy threw a young child out of doors into a snow-drift. He killed the horse either by shooting or with an axe; and we believe attempted bodily harm to his neighbors, who caused him to be placed in Georgetown Jail. The authorities at that place applied to his Worship the Mayor, for permission to place Sheppard in the Asylum. Mr. DesBrisay placed the matter before the Government, who authorized the removal of Sheppard to the Asylum, and the unfortunate man was brought to town last week. The bereavement of the poor family was sudden and shocking.—N. S.

Fatal Accident.—We regret to learn that two men in the employ of the Barton Mining Company, were killed yesterday at the Marsh Colliery. They were coming up the shaft when, the rope breaking, the bucket fell to the bottom, and both were instantly killed.—E. Chron.

Fire.—About eleven o'clock on Saturday night last, the large barn—150 feet long—of Robert Trotter, Esq., of this place was noticed to be in flames, and although all possible assistance was given to save it, the whole building with its contents was burnt down in a short time. Five horses, 55 head of cattle and 20 sheep perished in the flames. A large quantity of hay, straw, grain, a mowing machine, farming utensils, &c., was also destroyed by the raging element. The loss is estimated at £1500, there being no insurance. Much sympathy is felt in the community for this sad calamity to Mr Trotter, it being the second time that he has lost severely by fire. We trust that a generous public will assist him in his present difficulties.—Antigonish Casket.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Summerside Bank, held on the 2nd inst., A. McMillan, M. P. P., J. L. Holman, R. T. Holman, F McNeill, T. Keily, D. McDonald, and Wm. G Strong, Esqrs., were chosen Directors for 1869. J. L. Holman, Esq., was subsequently appointed President of the Bank, the Hon J. R. Gardiner having resigned his connection with the institution at the close of the year.

WHELAN EXECUTED.

Ottawa, Canada, Feb. 10.

Whelan made a statement last night to the County Attorney and Police Magistrate that he was present when McGee was killed, but did not fire the shot.

Mrs. Whelan visited her husband to-day in company with her spiritual advisers. She is very much excited.

The hour of Whelan's execution to morrow is fixed at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. McGee has written a letter to a gentleman in this city requesting him to visit Whelan and say that she freely forgives him, as his punishment will be ample for the offence.

Whelan is expected to make a speech to-morrow. He reads his prayer book and Bible with great attention, and is visited by the Grey Nuns.

Ottawa, Feb 11

The morning was dull, accompanied with drifting snow from the east. The country people began to arrive at an early hour, and set about securing good positions to see the scaffold and hear the last words of Whelan who was to be there executed.

Up to 9 o'clock, a. m, there were about 3,000 people on the east side of the Jail.

By 10 30 o'clock the crowd had increased to 7 000 or 8,000, but all was quiet and orderly.

At 10 o'clock the prison physician reported Whelan in good nerve, and that no agitation or flurry was noticeable in him. A short time after the Sheriff announced everything in readiness for the execution.

At 11 o'clock Whelan was pinioned and, accompanied by the Sheriff and the priests, led from prison, looking very pale and excited, but he moved along with a firm step and mounted the stairway to the scaffold, distinctly responding, as he walked, to the prayers of the priests.

After the pater noster had been repeated, he said, "I beg pardon for any offence I may have committed. I forgive all parties who have injured me and ask forgiveness from any one I may have injured. God save Ireland and God save my soul."

The executioner fitted the white cap, drew it over his face, adjusted the rope and in a few moments the drop fell. Whelan was suspended by the neck for four minutes, suffering intensely and then breathed no more.

The execution took place at 11 35 o'clock, a m., precisely.

It is rumored that Whelan left a written paper in the custody of the Sheriff which has not yet been made public.

Montreal, Feb 12

Whelan's body was buried in the precincts of the jail at Ottawa this afternoon.

THE DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT

Given by the Pupils of the Convent School under the direction of their teachers, the ladies of the Congregation de Notre Dame, came off on Monday evening last, as advertised, at Central Hall.

Among the Church dignitaries present, we noticed His Lordship the Bishop, Very Rev. James McDonald, and Revs. P. Doyle and J. Quevillon.

The occasion was altogether a very pleasant one, and, considering how short the time for preparation was, and that all who appeared did so for the first time in their lives, reflected the highest credit not only upon the pupils themselves but upon their indefatigable teachers.

The hall was well lighted and well provided with comfortable seats, and on the occasion we speak of was filled with a highly respectable audience of over three hundred persons. The programme was not a very elaborate one, but such as it was, was faithfully and most commendably carried out.

The music was excellent, and the singing good, while some of the simple dramas presented were enacted with spirit and talent.

It would, perhaps, be invidious to particularise, but we cannot help mentioning Miss Howe, Miss McNeill, Miss Mawley, and Miss Carrie McEwen as being the possessors of remarkable good voices, and for singing their parts with taste and correctness. In dialogue, Miss Green (daughter of Chas. Green, Esq.), Miss McLellan, Miss Mary Connors, and Miss Darby, are worthy of especial mention. In the delineation of comic character, Miss Sarah and Elizabeth McEwen are deserving of the highest praise. They did their parts so well, and with such spirit, as to call forth frequent applause from the audience. But, as we have before observed, all did well; and we should judge, from this beginning, that their next performance will be much better, and, if possible, more worthy of patronage.

The audience seemed highly delighted with the evening's entertainment, and all departed not only satisfied, but (being most of them interested in the development of capacity in their children) hopeful of the future progression of their youthful entertainers.

The amount netted by this entertainment, we hear, was about twenty pounds.

The Hall proved in all respects fully up to the expectations entertained of it from our description, and, when finished, will prove a highly useful ornament to Summerside, as we hope it will long continue to be to its public spiritual projector, Very Rev. Mr. McDonald.—Progress.

IN MEMORIAM

Oh, father dear you're gone to rest, where many went before,
The Lord has found for you a home, beyond this earthly shore.
You suffered patient to His will, you never did complain.
Although you had been tortured with such dreadful pain,
You died in favor with your God, you tried to do His will,
I trust that we you left behind, your example may fulfil.
You taught us in our early days to walk in wisdom's way,
And reverently and fervently for every blessing pray.
To love our neighbor as ourselves to help them in their need.
To clothe the poor and naked, and the hungry for to feed.
The Lord has called you from this vale of misery and woe.
He found for you a happy home where all the just will go.
You left me here, dear father, in sorrow, grief and pain,
For to be called an orphan, oh how I dread the name.
But now that you are gone to rest within your earthly tomb,
I hope you're numbered with the bless'd in your sweet happy home. R. I. P.

M. E. Wynne.

We deeply regret to say that Mr. H. E. McEwen, who was injured last week by the explosion of gunpowder at his establishment, is still in a very precarious state.

Mails.—On Saturday night last the couriers with the Colonial and American Mails arrived at the General Post Office. This morning about 2 a. m., a Colonial and a portion of the English Mail was received. Boat left this morning for Cape Tormentine to bring over Colonial and balance of English Mail.

We have seldom seen a finer display of ladies Dress Materials than that exhibited by our friend Robert Young. They consist of an almost endless variety of fancy Dresses, from 10½ per yard upwards. Coburgs, in almost every shade and quality, Winseys, good and heavy, from 11d per yard, French Merinoes, in all the leading colors, very cheap, Prints from 8d per yard very good and nice Ginghams from 9d. Ladies would do well to take a note of this.

Remember the Literary and Musical Entertainment by the members of the above Institute, to come off on Wednesday evening next at St. Andrew's Hall. A pleasant evening may be expected. Doors open at 7 o'clock. Admission for the evening 6d. Ladies free. Season tickets 1s 6d. Members tickets 3s.

Charlottetown Debating Club

On Friday evening last, the question of "Vote by Ballot," was opened by C W. Hall, Esq. who submitted the following resolution — Resolved, That "Vote by Ballot," (in contra distinction to the present mode of voting by word of mouth) is the best known method of preserving the purity of election, and of ascertaining the true choice of the people—which, after an animated discussion, was decided in the negative by a small majority.

Subject for next Friday evening's discussion, "Should Decimal Currency be introduced into this Island?" Opener, Mr. P. S. McGowan.

Pownal Literary Institute.—On Wednesday night last, Edward Roche, Esq., lectured on Geology before this Institute. The lecturer treated his subject in quite a popular style, and, in the discussion which followed, the lecture was pronounced one of the best with which the Society had yet been favored. Instead of burrowing under ground amid strata, rocks, and fossils, he rather addressed himself to the changes which the earth's surface is undergoing, and the effect of these changes upon climate, animal and vegetable life, &c. The lecture was carefully prepared, abounded in useful information, and occupied an hour in its delivery. Next Wednesday evening Mr. Alex McNeill, of Mount Mellick, will be the lecturer, his subject being "Instinct."—Com.

DISASTERS.

Queenstown, Jan. 12—The bark Erycina Capt. Gay, arrived here to-day from San Francisco. She landed here Capt. McArthur and seven men of the Nova Scotia schooner Freestone State, bound from P. E. Island with oats for Appledore, in Devonshire. Capt Gay reports that on Jan. 7 in lat 46 27 N, lon 22 12 W, fell in with the Freestone State, waterlogged, masts and bulwarks gone, hatches stove in, and the sea making a breach over her; took of the crew, who were found to be in a deplorable condition, having had nothing to exist upon for seventeen days previous but the oats which flowed through the hatchways and some biscuits saturated with salt water, and were confined in the forepart of the vessel, the only place they could live in. In addition to the cargo of oats she had a large quantity of deals in her hold, to which is attributable her floating so long. [There is no Freestone State on the N. S registry. The schooner probably belongs to P. E. Island.]

St. Michael's, Jan. 4—The Aerolite, from P. E. Island for Swansea, which put in here leaky Dec. 30, was ordered to be surveyed, and is now transhipping her cargo (oats) into the Queen of Clippers, which will take it to Swansea. It is reported that the Aerolite is to be sold.
