Address.

The following address was presented to Judge Kelly on his first appearance in the capacity as Judge, on Tuesday last.

To THOMAS KELLY, Esq., Judge of the County Court for Prince County.

DEAR SIR:—We, the undersigned residents of the Fifth Circuit of Prince County, cannot permit your appointment as Judge of our County Court to pass without giving expression to the feelings of satisfaction with which we have learned of your elevation to so distinguished a position.

The many intimate and agreeable associations which we have had with you both as a citizen, a neighbor, and as our representative in the Legislature, have ever called for our cordial esteem, and the remembrance of the manner in which you have discharged the duties of the various positions which you have been called upon to fill in the past, adds to our conviction that you will fulfil with honor the high and important duties of your commission.

We beg to acknowledge the earnestness which you have ever manifested in the advancement of our interest, both as our representative in Parliament and as a private citizen.

We also cannot refrain from expressing our approval of the action of the Government in appointing as Judge, a resident of this District, one whose interests are in accord with our own.

Permit us in conclusion, to express our heartfelt wishes for your future welfare, and be pleased to convey to Mrs. Kelly the expression of our sincere respect.

We have the honor to be your obedient servants,

REPLY:

GENTLEMEN,—The address which has been just read and presented on behalf of the people of this section of the County, claims my best acknowledgements. The favorable but too complimentary terms in which reference is made to my past career as a private citizen and otherwise, afford me much gratification, now that I am entering upon a new and responsible sphere of duty. To be assured, as I am by this address, that while filling some public positions my conduct has not been undeserving of your approval, is, indeed, very satisfactory; and the value of this approbation becomes enhanced when pronounced, as in the present instance, by those in whose midst I have lived and worked during the last fifteen years. To the liberal-minded and intelligent inhabitants of this Town and Township I am in an especial manner indebted for whatever portion of good fortune may have attended my residence here.

On retiring from the active duties of professional and political life, and assuming the graver responsibilities of the judicial office, I feel flattered by your congratulations on my promotion, and encouraged by your predictions for my future success.

Aside from all personal considerations, I freely endorse your opinion as to the propriety and justice of the policy which recommended a selection from the resident Barristers of Prince County, to fill the vacancy created by the decease of my lamented predecessor. And here, considering the place and the occasion, it may not be inopportune for me to remark that the late Judge Pope, by his cultured mind, his accurate knowledge of human character, and his painstaking labors while investigating the difficulties between suitors, attained a high reputation as an able and impartial Magistrate, and such as any man placed in a similar position might honorably emulate.

Conscious of many deficiencies, but inspired by worthy examples and your good wishes, my constant endeavor will be to discharge the new obligation to which I am called, with diligence, zeal and fidelity.

Please accept my thanks for all the sentiments contained in your address, and for your kind remembrance of Mrs. Kelly, and believe me to be,

Gentleman,
Yours very respectfully,

THOMAS KELLY.

UNITED STATES.

New York, Nov. 26.

Brooklyn's city debt is over 40 million dollars, of which 34 millions are due to the city for arrears of taxes. Prospect Park cost $10,000,000, the waterworks $11,000,000, and the bridge $8,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.

The United States Legation at Paris reports there is no Mormonism in France. Parties inculcating polygamy are liable to banishment; there is no redundancy of population in France, and hence little or no emigration.

New York, Nov. 26.

Early this morning a fire broke out in the car stables of the 8th Avenue Horse Railroad Company on the West side of 8th Avenue. All the horses and cars, with the exception of those on the road, were in the building. The horses were in stalls on the second floor, and in less than 20 minutes, many of them, with a number of cars were ruined. During the progress of the conflagration, loud reports were caused by falling walls. The origin of the fire is not known. The loss was very heavy, and 100 horses perished in the flames. The piteous whining of the agonized animals could be heard above the roar of fire. The firemen made a determined effort to reach them after the employees had abandoned the work, but were driven back. The building contained 12,000 bales of hay, 2,000 sets of harness, enormous quantities of blankets and whips, 2,000 bushels of oats and 1,500 bushels of ground feed. The total loss is said to be $150,000. The foreman, John Welch, and fireman, Henry C. Mount and John Regan, of the same company, were all buried under the smoking mass. Their fellow-workers dug them out quickly, all badly injured. Mount is dead.

New York, Nov. 26.

Albert Lavergne, aged 30, called upon the police last night and stated that in 1876 he was in the jewellery business with his brother in Paris. He was given $30,000 worth of diamonds to sell to a party, but sailed for this country under the name of Abraham Levy and sold the property in New York and went to the Black Hills and squandered the money. Finding himself penniless, he decided to give himself up. The French Consul will dispose of the matter.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 26.

David Vansickle, a farmer living in Delaware County, gave a tramp work and shelter yesterday. After the family had gone to bed the stranger began to ransack the house. Vansickle interfered, when the tramp, with a butcher's knife, cut him severely, and also attacked Mrs. Vansickle. The citizens are searching for the tramp.

New York, Nov. 26.

Floyd F. Curtiss, aged 31, found drowned in the North River yesterday, was the youngest son of a wealthy retired merchant in this city. He had graduated with the highest honors at college, but had become dissipated, and it is supposed while intoxicated he walked into the river.

IRELAND.

Liligo, Nov. 26.

Last evening the police patrol were stoned and four arrests made later in the evening.

Davitt was serenaded by two bands. The police paraded the streets this morning and further reinforcements have arrived. No fresh disturbances occurred.

It is thought that the Government intend to remove the trial of the prisoners to Dublin instead of having it at the County assizes.

A larger number of magistrates are on the bench to-day than hitherto. Mr. Killen's examination is proceeding. Davitt and Daly are present as spectators.

The funeral of the Dowager Countess De Mentjov, on Monday, was celebrated with much splendor. A large number of persons were in attendance.

THE death of John Thaddeus Delane, the Editor-in-Chief of the London Times is announced. Mr. Delane was the son of the former Financial Manager of the Times, and was born in October, 1817, so that he would be a little over 62 years of age. He was educated at Oxford, and was a lawyer by profession, but became connected with the Times as assistant editor, in 1839, and on the death of the editor, the late Mr. T.
