Father O. Murphy Given Pastorate Of Purcell Church

Father A. O. Murphy, assistant pastor at Sacred Heart Catholic church, who is a son of the late Mr. T. J. Murphy of Tignish, and Mrs. Murphy, who lives now in Norwood, Mass., leaves this week to take over the pastorate of Our Lady Victory Catholic church at Purcell, Mo. on Saturday relieving Father R. A. Carlin who is going to the Federal Reformatory at El Reno as chaplain.

Father Murphy, who was a student at St. Dunstan's University, came to Capitol Hill, Washington, in April of 1946, as assistant priest under Father Sheaffer until the latter's death, when he administered the parish from July 1, of the same year until November 13 when Father S. F. Luecke was appointed pastor.

Father Murphy is a member of the local Kiwanis club and during his service in the community endeared himself to Catholics and non-Catholics alike.

The new assistant priest at Sacred Heart will be Father Ma'lorj Dugan, at present stationed at St. Francis church, 1901 NW 16. He had been in the state for the past six months.
