British trade returns for the month of October show a decrease in imports of £4,881,000 and an increase of £987,000 in exports, compared with the corresponding period last year.

The Halifax Herald prints a list of forty books now in Nova Scotia printed during and before the fifteenth century, and says it far surpasses the Caxton celebration in Montreal, and is the oldest collection on the continent.

Some of the party organs in France have written that the Bonapartist tradition rested on the head of young Prince Victor. The boy is at school, and when his comrades hand him his cap they say, "Tiens, Toto, v'la ta tradition."

Miss Braddon (Mrs. Maxwell), the novelist, who has a shrewd Scotchman for a husband, lives in elegant style in a London suburb, and keeps riding horses, fine carriages and park hounds. There is a large double family of children. She is a good housekeeper.

The wedding of Miss Lizzie Cameron, daughter of Senator Don Cameron, and Mr. William Hornblower Bradley, son of Justice Bradley, of the United States Supreme Court, will take place on the 17th inst., in Harrisburg. A daughter of Senator Bayard will be one of the bridesmaids.

An American once captured Carlyle, who had refused to see him, by writing some flattering verses on a card, and the two corresponded until the American died. The poor old man, grieving because he has not strength to work, sits with the fires still smouldering within him and waits for the time when he must go. "Uproot error," he says to those whom he admits to his room.

George Eliot that her best novel is "The Mill on the Floss," from which and from "Adam Bede" her publishers have made more money than they have made from her other works. Prince Leopold called on George Eliot recently and said he had read "Middlemarch" nine times. George Eliot (now Mrs. Grosse) appears to be in excellent health. She and her husband have been visiting English country houses, including her own in Surrey. She will now take up her residence at Chelsea, London.

An English bachelor saw a handsomely dressed young lady on a Boston street and was told that she was the daughter of a wealthy merchant. He became acquainted, and the girl knowing the woman who watched the interests of an elegant house whose owners were at the seashore, was permitted by her to receive him there. She also gave him dinners there, hiring waiters. She told him that her parents were in Europe. He proposed, was accepted, and found that the wife he had won was a shop girl.

A Fact Worth Knowing.

If so, go to your Druggist and get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. This medicine has lately been introduced from Germany, and is selling on its own merits. The people are going wild over its success, and Druggists all over our country are writing us of its wonderful cures among their customers. 2,400,000 samples have been given away free of charge. A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."
