FEBRUARY 17, 1892.

Where Do They Come From?

ADVICE from St. Peter's Island state that the Strait is full of ice—piled up mountains high. We hear, too, that there is a great deal of ice off the North Shore. These ice fields could not possibly have been made in this vicinity. Where did they come from?

Barley!

HAVING tried the game of coercing Canada into making trade concessions which would be unworthy of her, and having failed to do so, the United States politicians are now harking back. They now propose that the McKinley Bill shall be modified in respect at least to barley. It seems that several of the border states—the important state of New York particularly—want Canadian barley for making purposes and that the malsters cannot afford to pay the high duty. Indeed, it is said that "the malting interests of the country are being seriously impaired." The consequence is that the United States politicians of both sides are on their marrow bones. We read that the present duty affects not only the importers of barley, but also the malsters and brewers. It also tends to produce an inferior quality of beer and further affects the elevator and transportation interests of the country adversely instead of beneficially. These disturbed "interests" must, of course, be mollified before the Presidential election is brought on; and, consequently, the barley duty is to be lowered—to the mutual delight of the malsters, beer makers and whiskey distillers of the States, and the good, temperate farmers of Canada who grow the kind of barley that is wanted.

Gigantic Coal Combine.

AN important "deal" has been made between the Reading, the Central of New Jersey, and the Lehigh Valley Railroad Companies, calculated to have important future bearings upon those companies, if not upon the entire production and distribution of anthracite coal in the States. The immediate effect of this combine has been to send coal stocks up from ten to twenty points. The secondary effects will be experienced by the people when they are compelled to pay a higher price for coal.

An intelligent observer, (Mr. Henry Clews, of New York,) says that "it is not to be overlooked that the consolidation is an experiment, and that its outworkings must encounter problems new to our industrial experience and the solution of which cannot now be foreseen. In its principle, though not in its form, the compact is virtually the same as that upon which our great trusts have been formed and, with one or two exceptions, our experience of those organizations has not been so as to encourage sanguine hopes of their permanency. Within the past month, two of them have broken up, partly from disagreements among their members, but principally because they have failed to insure the control for which they were organized. The public will regard this new amalgamation of interests as a long step in the direction of a monopoly of the anthracite trade, and certainly not without some prima facie show of reason. How that ordinarily dangerous power will, in this case, be used remains to be seen. It can hardly fail to be viewed with distrust by all classes of the community; for it holds a threat over every consumer of fuel, from the great transportation and manufacturing corporations to the humblest cottager. Moreover, the spread of these great concentrations of capital is steadily building up a hostile public opinion which may some day assert itself in legislation with overwhelming effect; and the courts are accumulating an imposing mass of decisions against combinations whose effect is to impair the free working of the law of competition. There is no saying what may be the ultimate outcome of these self-protective tendencies of public opinion; and, for that reason, it is impossible to judge how far the permanent value of the securities concerned in this amalgamation may be affected by this significant achievement."

The growth and development of "the combine" seems, indeed, to be fraught with danger of revolution in the States in the not very distant future. The white people there will not long put up with the exactions of monopolists. The combinations will need to be very judicious, moderate and careful.

A recent editorial in the Democratic New York Times contains the following words:—"Now the country is unprecedently wealthy. Its debt has dwindled to an insignificant amount, and its creditors are ready to extend their loans at 2 per cent. We have a currency, every dollar of which is worth a dollar in gold. We have all the specie we want, and can get all that we may need. We are feeding the world. We are powerful, rich, prosperous, practically out of debt."

Upon which the New York Press remarks that,— "This amounts to an explicit confession by a leading free trade newspaper, that the United States has prospered under Republican rule in a degree hitherto unparalleled; that the agricultural, industrial and financial interests of the nation are in a thoroughly healthful condition; and that the free trade prophecies of inevitable calamity to follow the enactment of the McKinley law were stuff and nonsense."

The Hospital Concert.

THERE was a large and fashionable audience present at the concert given in the Lyceum last evening, and everyone appeared pleased with the manner in which the ladies and gentlemen who took part acquitted themselves. Every number was generously applauded, and nearly all the vocal selections were encored. But for some reason or the other four of the numbers on the printed programme were omitted, and no explanation or excuse was offered to the audience. This is not as it should be. Persons who engage to assist at concerts should make every effort to keep their engagements, and those who have no intention of taking part should not allow their names to be used. Last night the conduct of some of the ladies was simply disgraceful. The managers of the concert should see that this offence is not repeated in future. The only satisfactory way of dealing with people who do not know how to behave themselves at public gatherings is to promptly eject them. Mrs. Rouse, Mrs. Byrne and Mrs. Maurice Blake are old favorites with concert-goers, and all three sang well last night. Miss Sullivan also acquitted herself very well in her solo "Ever Constant." She is evidently a great favorite. Miss Winnie Blake, who made her debut in Wellington's charming "Forget, Forget," made an excellent impression. Miss Blake has a sweet, musical voice, and there is a naturalness about her singing that makes it a real treat to listen to her. We certainly hope to have the pleasure of hearing her often in the future. Mr. H. A. Tanton sang "Madrigal" in capital style. Mr. Charles Hartman rendered "We're Homeward Bound" excellently, and Mr. L. Cooke sang "Sweetly Sleep" very well indeed. The piano solos by Miss Annie Quirk and Miss Fanny Weeks were well executed, as was also the violin solo by Miss Macdonald. Mr. Vinnicombe's violin solo was played with all that talented gentleman's skill, and was rapturously encored. Mr. C. B. Warren's reading "Malbrand and the young Musician," was given in splendid form. Mr. Warren is an excellent reader. The officer we hear him the better we like him. The scene from Richard III., by Mr. A. C. McMahon, was in costume, was an excellent piece of acting for an amateur. The same gentleman also impersonated Henry Irving (a la Dixey), singing "It's English You Know." This also was well acted. The writer saw Dixey impersonate the celebrated English tragedian in Boston, and it therefore in a position to bear testimony to the excellence of Mr. McMahon's work. Mr. McMahon's make up and mannerisms on the stage last night closely resembled those of the great tragedian as exemplified by Henry Irving, who it is generally admitted, is one of the cleverest and brightest comedians on the American stage to-day. The performance closed with the National Anthem. The accompaniments for the different singers were played by Misses Carter, Watson and Anderson. They gave every satisfaction. The concert was under the direction of Mr. H. A. Tanton. The proceeds were in aid of the Charlestown Hospital.

Wesley Mission Band Social.

NOTWITHSTANDING the numerous attractions elsewhere, the social and entertainment given by the members of the Wesley Mission Band last night was well attended. A short literary and musical programme was well carried out, after which the refreshment and candy tables were liberally patronized by young and old. One of the chief attractions of the evening was the Art Loan Association, which was a source of unbounded merit and interest. We understand that the receipts amounted to something over $36.00. The ladies in charge at the different tables were,— Refreshment Table—Mrs. Mark Wright, Miss Annie Beer, Miss May Dawson, Miss Daisy Lewis, Miss Leticia Fennell, Miss Susie Barrett, Miss Hattie Collings. Candy Table—Miss Winnie McGregor, Miss Lillie McGregor, Miss Eugenie Moore, Miss Phoebe Lurge, Miss Pearl Taylor. Art Loan Association—Mr. W.P. Doull.

Notes and Comments.

—Montreal Star.—"The strikingly distasteful result to the Liberals is no doubt a great measure due to their attempt to carry the ponderous load of disloyal unreciprocated reciprocity and disgraceful Mercierism."

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

THE ELECTION CASES

Before the Supreme Court.

Some of the Decisions.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. The Supreme Court of Canada opened yesterday. Of the election cases the first four referring to Haldimand and North Waterloo were withdrawn. The elections of Dr. Montague (Conservative) and Mr. Bowman (Grit) are thus concluded. In the Belchasse case Col. Amyot is confirmed in his seat. In the Argenteuil case the appeal was dismissed and Christie (Opposition) is confirmed in his seat. In the La Prairie trial, the Judge held that six months had elapsed before the day of trial was fixed, and that the trial could not proceed,—without the time occupied by the session the trial would have been in time. The appeal was allowed, and the case sent back to be tried. In the Prescott case the appeal was dismissed, and the appellant's Counsel failing to appear, Hargrave (Grit) is thereby unseated (?). The North Perth case is being argued.

Last of the Bonapartes

LONDON, Feb. 17. In the West London police court yesterday, Clovis Bonaparte, son of Prince Louis Lucien Bonaparte and William Alexander Thompson, solicitor, were charged with conspiracy together to defraud Rosalie Clovis Bonaparte, the alleged wife of the former, of jewelry, valued at £20,000. They were held for trial.

The Premier.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. Premier Abbott's physician has enjoined absolute rest on the part of the premier, who has been working hard during the past two months and is now suffering from overwork, combined with a severe cold and a bilious attack.

A Candid Admission.

TORONTO, Feb. 17. Mr. Laurier, speaking at the Liberal Club, admitted the possibility of the Abbott government having fifty of a majority when Parliament meets.

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—10 a. m. Northerly to westerly winds, fine and cold.

General Telegraphic News.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Michael Davitt, in his speech at Middleton to-day said it was not generally known that the Irish properties were mortgaged to English bankers and others to the extent of £160,000,000. He announced that he would not run for parliament before the general election.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Count Zedillo, the newly-appointed foreign minister at Rio Janeiro, advised that the reports of impending revolt in Brazil were untrue. Since the restoration of legal order in November last the elements of agitation had no existence. The different states organize their own governments without fear of disorder resulting. The congress has passed a vote of confidence in the government.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Feb. 15.—Great distress prevails in the mining town of Mystic. Its depopulation is feared. The Iowa Central Railroad, a month ago, made rates to St. Paul, Minneapolis and other towns, which shut out Mystic and gave the coal trade to Centerville and Forbush. As a result, eighteen mines have been closed. Six hundred miners and their families are in want.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—It is rumored here that the C. P. R. have received assurances from the imperial government of a subsidy towards the construction of a cable between British Columbia and Vancouver. Vice-President Shaughnessy, who has just returned from Japan, is reported to have made an arrangement with the Mikado's government for the use of their land lines. An endeavor is now being made in England to loan a company to undertake the commercial cable and the C. P. R. The route of the cable has already been chosen and presents few obstacles, certainly less than those in the Southern Pacific on the route to Australia.

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—The Universalist ministers of Massachusetts in weekly conference here to-day adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, that in the payment of the Universalist ministers of Massachusetts it is not only right, but expedient that the legislature of the state, now in session, should secure to the women of the state the right to vote in all municipal and presidential elections."

WASKAN, Feb. 15.—Large numbers of arrests continue to be made here in connection with alleged nihilist plots. There were recently arrested here 350 persons. They were sent to St. Petersburg and from there sent in exile to Siberia. There yet remain 160 political prisoners in Waskan citadel.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15.—Miss Carson, of Toronto, who for the past ten days has been undergoing examinations in the laboratory of the inland revenue department for a certificate as public analyst, has been successful. She is the first lady in Canada to undergo examination.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—A despatch from New Orleans says that at least the true secret of the withdrawal of the Louisiana state lottery from the political arena is out. A stockholder of the company has said that the Louisiana state lottery will be removed to Mexico in 1893. President Diaz has already expressed himself favorably to the project, provided the lottery will make as favorable a proposition to the Mexican government as was made to the State of Louisiana. It is understood that John A. Meyer favors the City of Mexico as the location for headquarters.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Kipling is very much like his novels—a bit disappointed when by a press reporter last night he professed great agitation because the public took any interest in him. "I pay my hotel bills," he said, "and don't owe anybody. What am I going to do? I don't know; really I can't say. I may go to San Francisco, but don't know. When will I starve? Really I don't

GEO. CARTER & CO.,

SEEDSMEN,

Charlottetown, P. E. Island.

OUR SEEDS SUIT THIS CLIMATE.

THIS is where we have the advantage, and our customers as well. Our Seeds are suited to the climate and soil of Prince Edward Island; have been tested and proved and found to be the best. Here is where we claim superiority over all foreign seedsmen, and the rapid increase of our business shows that the people of this Province see where their interests lie. Scores of people who formerly sent abroad for their seeds do so no longer. We get their orders, and the benefit is theirs as well as ours.

Successful seedsmen are reliable men. A man must deal honestly to prosper in the seed business. His seeds will tell their own story when they grow. Many of those highly prized, finely-illustrated specimens of vegetables in the pages of the big catalogues are what they are said to be when grown in certain latitudes, but planted under different conditions of soil and climate the result is failure. The plants miss the favoring conditions of their native land.

Our Seed Catalogue contains a list of several hundreds of varieties of Seeds, fully described and illustrated. If we knew of better seeds than those we have in stock we would get them, for we think the best none too good for us to sell or for our customers to buy.

If interested, write for our Illustrated Seed Catalogue for 1892. Address:

know. Will I collect material for some new novels? That I don't know, and would not say if I did. I may stay in New York a few days and may travel over the world, but don't know how. I don't know what I am going to do—have not made up my mind as yet—but if you want to say something you may write that I will go to Cuba, the Bahamas or else where. It won't be true—but what's the difference?"

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—It has just been learned here that Byron Hirsch recently came to this city disguised as an immigrant, and went through Castle Garden to investigate the system. The millionaire had heard that the commissioner had appointed gave no help to immigrants, but pocketed most of the money. He accordingly disguised himself as a poor Hebrew and took steerage passage across the Atlantic. When New York was reached he went into the dingy pens of Castle garden along with the remainder of the Jewish exiles. As soon as the commissioners came down the baron begged of them a little assistance. Assistance was brusquely refused, and he was thrown aside by the very men who were handling his money.

More About Dogs. Sir.—It will be with the greatest pleasure that all pedestrians and travellers will hear of the contemplated slaughter of dogs without collars. Charlottetown is full of savage, growling, barking and biting brutes, among which the large Newfoundland is by odds the worst and by far the most dangerous and they principally should be exterminated. In view of this, I wish to point out to His Honor the Stipendiary that boys will be altogether useless to catch this kind of dog. They dare not touch these savage brutes and will capture only little inoffensive curs, and, perhaps, valuable animals. Even if a dog of value has a collar on, nothing is easier than for theseurchins to pocket the collar and "collar" the dog off to be shot for his "consideration." Unless the police put the dogs into a pound, where they can be identified by the owner, valuable, some expensive dogs will be sure to be destroyed as our force can't be expected to discriminate always between the thorough bred and mongrels. I imagine that in case my dog on which I put a high value, is captured and destroyed in spite of collar and cure, I will be able to get satisfaction from someone.

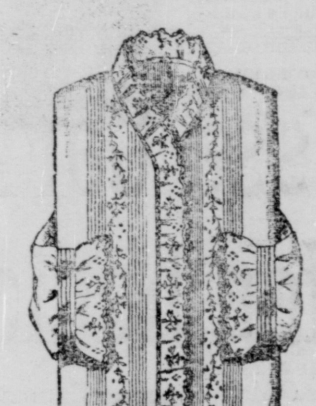

Misrepresentation. Sir.—The Grits are masters in deception. They are striving to make the faithful believe that Bowers increased his majority in Digby County, N. S. Such a statement is false. The Grit majority in March last was 73 and Saturday it was 275. But the party press admit that the Grits added 400 more names to the list of the Conservatives, which would require Bowers to poll 473 votes to be equal to his former contest. In other words, Gritism has fallen off in Digby about 200 votes. The election of Bowers was virtually a defeat.
