PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. David Watson, jr., are at the Davies. The London Graphic to hand contains a very fair likeness of Hon. F. Peters, of the Bearing Sea Commission.

Mr. A. J. McNeill of Stanley Bridge, is in town. He is registered at the Revere. There registered at the Hotel Davering yesterday Geo. W. Elliott, Georgetown; A. W. Hensler, Halifax; G. M. Ross, Hamilton; John G. Green, Galt; R. C. Davies, Quebec; M. P. Arthur, Berlin, O. T. P. R. Corson, Toronto; Sol. Vinberg, Montreal. The arrivals on Saturday included: E. B. Binard, St. John; E. Maloney, Quebec; Ernest E. Rose, do; A. E. Massie, Fredericton; Fred. S. Scott, Montreal; William Lee Church, Boston.

On the journey, whether by boat or by train, keep strictly with your own party. There will probably be a number of your friends, very likely your pastor and his wife, in the company, and you must be careful to stay where they stay, and go where they go. You are not an independent traveler. You belong to a party, and must conform to its regulations. Especially when your objective point is a strange city, where you will be thrust among hundreds of people unknown to you, be sure that you do not separate in any way from your own particular group.

Arrived at your destination, you will probably find that quarters have been assigned to you in hospitable homes. Here, as you are received with friendly greetings, do your utmost to prove that you appreciate the kindness shown. Give as little trouble as possible to your entertainers. Every home has its fixed hours for meals, and visitors should be ready at the moment, so that the hostess shall not be embarrassed in her proceedings by any lack of punctuality in theirs. If prayers in the family are before breakfast, be sure that you rise early enough to attend them, and in every point make your visit a pleasure to them who kindly invite you to be a guest beneath their roof.—Harper's Round Table.

The Logical Thing. Assistant (to house physician)—We have just received an aeronaut who fell 2,000 feet, and a foot-ball player who got tangled up in a snarl. I am the only doctor who is not engaged. Which shall I attend to first? House physician (impatiently)—I have often told you that in a case like this you should first attend the man who is most seriously injured. Look at the football player, of course. The halibut man can wait.

He started the Indian Famine Relief fund with a handsome subscription, and his January salary as Mayor he has divided between five of the charitable institutions. SOURIS NOTES

The many friends of Dr. McLellan are glad to see him back again. Dr. W. O. Peake has opened a dental parlour on a door to Melish & Melish, where he is prepared to alleviate the sufferer from "that mischievous-making chief." Success to our young dentist. Mr. Watson Logan, of Georgetown, is visiting his friends in Souris.

It is pleasing to note that our friend Alex. Brennan is improving from the effect of the blow he received while playing hockey on last Monday night.

Mr. Allan McDonald, merchant, hung before his store yesterday a very attractive sign. This piece of workmanship was executed by our well known local artist, John A. Power.

Mr. E. McKenzie has been very ill this past week.

Mr. J. O'Neill was in town yesterday.

The Scott Act offenders enjoy at the present time peace and tranquillity. Perchance this is due to the fact that a local election is not far distant. At present only two places are engaged in the selling of intoxicating liquors. Now is the time for the prosecutor (or whose duty involves this) to wipe it out.

In the early part of the fall a movement was on foot to incorporate the town of Souris, and also to form a fire brigade. But, as on former occasions, it "has wasted its sweetness on the desert air," and has entirely been let drop. There is no reason why, if the people of Souris should not succeed in having this town incorporated, they should have at least a fire brigade and suitable street lamps.

PROWSE BROTHERS

THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN.

IN THEIR NEW QUARTERS. Hazard & Moore are Now Doing Business, in Their New Store.

Messrs. Hazard & Moore, booksellers and stationers, have for years been doing a splendid business on the south side of Queen Square. But having outgrown the accommodation there they have moved across the square into more commodious quarters, and they may now be found in the new building, 100 Queen Street, in the new building, 100 Queen Street, in the new building, 100 Queen Street.

The Prowse Block, in which they are now located, is a large and imposing brick structure, three stories high. The book and stationery store is on the ground floor, and is 23x30 feet, with a private office in the rear. In the front of the store, to the right of the entrance is the stationery department, and further on along the same side is a department set aside for school books and sundries, also blank books, etc.

The left of the entrance are the magazine and newspaper departments. The various departments to which reference has been made are well stocked with the very latest ideas in the different lines, and besides there are a hundred and one other things which neither time nor space will admit of our enumerating. Even if we did go into details it would be impossible to give anything like a correct idea of the goods that are on sale. They must be seen to be appreciated.

The counters are polished walnut tops, and each is three feet wide. The greater portion of the counter to the right of the entrance has a plate glass top. This is a new idea here, and through the glass the goods in the cases below may be readily seen. The shelves, drawers and other woodwork are all of the latest pattern, and the Nile green and terra cotta effects so skillfully applied by Mr. Mackenzie, that the whole an artistic finish that cannot fail to attract the eye.

The store is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. In the shop windows will be placed electric reflectors, similar to those in James Pater's and Co's store. An elevator connects all three floors.

The appointments of the store are very complete, and the proprietors and their staff of clerks are at all times courteous and obliging.

The whole of the floor over the store is used as a printing office and bookbinding. Each of these departments is well equipped with modern machinery, and an electric motor is to be placed in position in the near future. A system of hot and cold water has also been introduced. The printing department is under the direction of Mr. John Mackenzie, and Mr. William G. Gillespie presides over the bookbinding part of the business. Each department turns out good work.

The third floor is used as a storeroom. Messrs. Hazard & Moore are to be congratulated upon their enterprise. By close attention to business they have worked up a good trade, and they have terminated up to it. Therefore in order to be able to meet the wants of their patrons they have had to secure larger quarters, and they are pleased with their move. They have THE EXAMINER'S best wishes for continued success.

Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla neutralizes the acid and cures rheumatism.

The widow of Mr. Edgewood, the postal clerk killed in the recent railway disaster near Dorchester, is completely prostrated and her recovery is very doubtful.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea, is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind 1 1/2 v.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

LOOKS LIKE A FAKE. Sir,—The Patriot of Saturday publishes the following despatch:—

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Tablet, the chief Catholic organ of Great Britain, owned and managed by Cardinal Vaughan, published an article yesterday on the Manitoba School Question, in which it says: "Hon. Edward Blake's opinion is a sad disappointment. It is now clear the best course of the Catholics is to support Premier Laurier in trying to carry out negotiations with Manitoba to a successful conclusion."

There are a few inaccuracies in this despatch which make it look a trifle fishy.

In the first place the Tablet is not published on Friday as the despatch intimates; in the second place the Tablet is not controlled by Cardinal Vaughan.

It may be pointed out also that it is not more than two or three weeks since the Tablet published an article condemning Laurier's alleged settlement of the School Question.

CATHOLICS. THE DRIVING PINK.

Sir,—I wish to draw a word to the letters of "Stockholder" and Dr. Jenkins about the management of our exhibitions. Nearly all the items of expenditure in the financial statement appear excessive.

For this the directors are at least nominally to blame.—If they do not intend to closely watch every item they should make room for men who will faithfully execute their trust. Too much seems to be left to the active manager. The history of our local corporations shows that directors generally regard their duty as of a limited advisory character. This should not be. The directors are appointed to look after the interests of the public and of the stockholder and presumptive wrong is the defence.

On the other hand, the neglect of the directors does not wholly excuse Mr. Warburton. True, the directors fix his salary. If Mr. Warburton is entirely without conscience, he can properly pay out himself behind this defence. If he has a conscience he is fully responsible for receiving over-pay. The ordinary stockholder cares little for these ordinary distinctions. They want from their Secretary a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

The public demands an economical administration of this Exhibition business. Mr. Warburton may be courteous and efficient. To these virtues a model secretary must add economy. Economy alone will never pay a dividend. Pending the meeting of stockholders this evening, I will not comment on Mr. Warburton's efficiency except to say that his friends will be wise in dwelling as lightly as possible on this element of his qualifications.
