The Walking Match.

The Island Man Still the Champion.

CLOW WINS EASILY Score 195 Miles 7 Laps.

Special despatch to the Examiner

SUMMERSIDE, Sept. 25.

The race last night was won by Clow, Unknown having withdrawn at 10 o'clock after scoring 187 miles and 12 laps.

Clow finished out the 36 hours, and at the close looked as fresh as when he started in the race.

It was not until about four o'clock that Clow showed his speed and commenced to lap the Unknown, who was pretty well fagged out.—He fell to the ground two or three times, hurting his knees badly, and had to leave the track to have them attended to.

At six o'clock Clow was leading by over a mile, which he gradually increased, amid the cheers of the crowd, scoring at the finish 195 miles 7 laps.

Both men were presented with innumerable bouquets and silk handkerchiefs during the evening.

There were well on to 800 people in the Hall last night.

Hart says he is not done with Clow yet.

EUROPEAN.

VIENNA, Sept. 23.

The rumored occupation of Dulcigno by the Albanians, and the retreat of Turkish garrison, are unfounded. The Turks still held the town castle with two battalions. Their main force is at the northeast of Dulcigno, where they occupy a flanking position both in the direction of Magnera, where the bulk of the Albanians are encamped, and in the direction of Antivori, where the Montenegrins are.

RAGUSA, Sept. 23.

News has been received from Cettinge that in consequence of Riza Pasha's lack of vigor, Montenegro has been advised by one of the Powers to proceed to action, and that the advance of the Montenegrins on Dulcigno would commence on Wednesday.

SCUTARI, Sept. 23.

Thirty-five leading inhabitants of Dulcigno presented a protest to the foreign consuls declaring that their fellow citizens will never consent to be detached from the Turkish government, and that if the Montenegrins attempt to advance they will be repelled forcibly. Several Consuls refused to accept the protest. Two Catholic and two Mussulman members of the league have gone to Tusi to urge the defence of Dulcigno.

In consequence of Admiral Seymour's ultimatum, Riza Pasha urged the League to submit to the cession of Dulcigno, threatening, in the event of a refusal, to resort to force and to ask reinforcements from Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 23.

It is stated that a great council was held on Monday, at which the Sultan declared he would not agree to the cession of any territory. The British and Italian Ministers afterwards had an audience with the Sultan and delivered an exceedingly disagreeable and unpleasant message.

PARIS, Sept. 23.

Papers of all shades of opinion agree that the appointment of Bartholemy is a guarantee of pacific policy.

LONDON, Sept. 23.

A Paris despatch says the Council of Ministers have resolved to create the portfolio of Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs. It is certain that the Cabinet will make no change in the foreign policy of the Government, but will execute religious decrees.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 23.

There are reports of serious disturbances in Canton. The Europeans have been threatened and are in a state of alarm. The Catholic mission has been attacked. The military have been called out. Several rioters have been killed and wounded.

PARIS, Sept. 23.

The known partiality of Bartholemy St. Hilaro for Greece is probably the cause of his appointment to the ministry of foreign affairs.

UNITED STATES.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.

The reunion of the society of the Army of Cumberland is concluded. Five thousand persons were present last night at Laengerfest Hall. President Hayes telegraphed his compliments from Sacramento. Gen. Ben. Harrison delivered an oration on the character of the American soldier. A poem entitled Thomas Chica Malgna, was recited by Mrs. Sherwood. Gen. Garfield was called out. He spoke, complimenting the orator and the recitation.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 23.

The members of the Franklin search party, under Lieut. Frederick Schwatka, of the United States Army, were picked up by Capt. Michael Baker, of the bark George and Mary, of New Bedford, at Depot Island, on the 1st of August, they having returned from their sledge journey to King William Land on the 4th of March of the present year. The sledge journey was the longest ever made through the unexplored Arctic region, they having been absent eleven months and four days. During that time they travelled 2,819 geographical or 3,251 statute miles—the only sledge journey ever made that covered the entire Arctic winter. They made a complete search of King William and the land adjacent to the mainland, travelling over the route pursued by the crews of the Erebus and Terror upon their retreat towards Back's River, and while so engaged buried the bones of all remaining above ground and erected monuments to their memory. Their research established the fact that the records of Franklin's expedition are lost beyond recovery. A large quantity of relics of Sir John Franklin's expedition have been gathered from each spot where the graves were found, and a few tokens were selected that may serve to identify those who perished there. They brought the remains of Lieut. John Irving, third officer of the Terror, which were identified by a prize medal found in his opened grave. No material sickness occurred during their absence.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.

The grand jury has found indictments against the publishers of the News, World, Sun, Star, Truth, Staats Zeitung, Commercial Advertiser, Police Gazette, Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, and The Despatch for publishing lottery advertisements.

The Three Days Walking Match.

(From our own Correspondent.)

SUMMERSIDE, Sept. 24.

Last evening a large crowd assembled to witness the close of the second day's walk. The interest and excitement continued to increase as the hours passed on. At 5.15 the Unknown was presented with a bouquet of flowers. He then put on extra speed, and gained two laps on Clow. At 5.30 Clow left the track, and during his absence the Unknown added ten laps to his score. At 5.50 Unknown left the track, and Clow reduced this by 6 laps. Upon his going on the track both walked abreast at a smart pace for a short time, when the Unknown shot ahead, but was soon overtaken by Clow. At 6.30 the Unknown was doing some fast walking, closely followed by Clow, who, up to this time had not gone at his best speed. They both kept at their usual rate of speed until 7.30, when they started off on a run, amid the clapping of hands. Here Clow was the recipient of another bouquet of flowers, which he carried with him around the track amid hearty cheering. On the 114th mile both men were going at a tremendously fast walk. At 8 o'clock the score stood Unknown 116 miles 14 laps; Clow 116 miles 6 laps. During the next hour the Unknown had gained four laps. At 9 o'clock, the score was, Unknown 121 miles 12 laps; Clow 121 miles. Clow again left the track, and Unknown added 3 more laps to his lead. On the 123rd mile, Clow started on the run, and Unknown leaving the track, he lessened the lead of his opponent. At 10 o'clock, the Unknown was leading by 3 laps, the score being Unknown 125 miles 22 laps; and Clow 125 miles 19 laps. By the time the 127th mile was reached the Unknown had but one lap of a lead. At 10.30 the Unknown led by 3 laps; there was no change in the lead until 10.45 when Clow left the track, and on his appearance again Unknown had increased his lead to 12 laps. In the next quarter hour Clow had reduced this by 4 laps, and when the referee declared the "time up," the score stood: Unknown 130 miles 21 laps; Clow 130 miles 13 laps. The contest was close throughout the evening. Betting was indulged in by a large number, even the young boys wishing put a dollar up on their favorite. During the evening it was rumored that an attempt had been made to tamper with Clow's drinks. This rumor caused quite a "breeze," and upon making enquiry it would appear that some one had been interfering with what they had no right to. The pluck of Unknown is admired by a great many, and it is evident that Clow, to use the words of a city editor, "has woke up the wrong passenger." In conversation with Clow he said: "I don't win my races in the first day." On the third day of the match at Toronto, a short time since, Clow was ten miles behind. Before the end of the day he had taken first place and the championship of the Dominion.

THIRD DAY.

The referee, in starting the men off on the third and last day, paid quite a compliment to both men. As in the previous two days, the Unknown took the lead, closely followed by Clow. At 12 o'clock the Unknown had a lead of 8 laps. During the next hour, Clow had gained upon the Unknown, and at five minutes to one had a lead of one lap. At 1 o'clock the score stood: Clow, 144 miles, 4 laps; Unknown, 144 miles, 4 laps. Both men appeared in good condition, and Clow was heard to remark to one of his friends, "This is going to be my day." This morning it is reported that the Unknown's name is Jerry O'Corrigan, an Irishman. With the exception of the various rumors afloat, nothing is positively known as to who he is. At 2 o'clock the Unknown was leading by 4 laps,—the score being Unknown, 149 miles, 5 laps; Clow 149 miles, 1 lap.
