He Took the Hint.
General Harrison, in 1885, sent Dr. Bedloe of Philadelphia to Canton as consul. During his term the doctor was spending a month or two in Washington and was largely in evidence in social and political circles. About this time the Gridiron club gave a dinner and both gentlemen were guests. The doctor told a few stories early in the evening, and later on the president made a speech.
"I was charmed," he said in his soft, graceful way, "to hear the clever anecdotes from our distinguished consul to—I mean from Amoy." Then he passed on to other topics, but the doctor took the hint, and the next steamer carried him back to his post.
It was not the first time that Dr. Bedloe had experience with presidents at club dinners. Once President Cleveland was a guest at the celebrated Clover club in Philadelphia, of which the doctor is a famous wit. The Cloverites always interrupt their guests when they rise to speak. Knowing this, Mr. Cleveland began:
"Go on, gentlemen; I am prepared for the worst."
There came an instant's pause, and the doctor cackled shrilly:
"So are we."—Philadelphia Post.

Music and Matrimony.
Captain Becker, an official of the Kongo Free State, won the affection of many of the natives in a very curious way. He bought a good loud playing barrel organ and allowed the natives to turn the handle. The captain was very anxious that the people should be married in accordance with the Christian religion, and when it was known the organ would be played at all such marriages the increase in the number of Christian weddings was remarkable. Things were generally arranged so that one wedding took place each day, in order that the organ might be heard regularly. It turned out afterward that several couples had been married twice, in order that the organ might be played at their nuptials.—Sussex News.

Fatal Hesitation.
"It appears that Charlie asked her to marry him."
"Yes."
"And she hesitated before she said 'yes.' Then Charlie said, 'Take a little time to think it over.'"
"Well!"
"And Charlie has never said anything more about it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Case of Hiding.
It is considered the thing to hide the orchestra at a party behind a screen of palms. Why hide the orchestra? As a rule, the players are fine looking men, and it is interesting to watch them play. Why not hide some of the guests? They look worse than the orchestra.—Acheson Globe.

The great city of London began on the banks of the Thames, surrounded on all sides except the river by a bulwark of forest, interspersed with swamps. Paris rose on an island of the Seine, with a protecting wall of water all around.

TANSTRAID JUNOTON, P. Q., 12th Aug. 1893.

MESSRS C C RICHARDS & Co.
GENTLEMEN,—I fell from the bridge leading from a platform to a loaded car while assisting my men in unloading a load of grain. The bridge went down as well as the load on my back, and I struck on the ends of the sleepers, causing a serious injury to my leg. Only for its being very fleshy, would have broken it. In an hour could not walk a step. Commenced using MINARD'S LINIMENT, and the third day went to Montreal on business and got about well by the use of a cane. I can sincerely recommend it as the best liniment that I know of in use.
Yours truly,
C. H. GORDON.
