The Ambassador.

If thou canst reach her heart, my rose,
And teach it to forget,
Then hast thou done far more than could
Thy sister violet.

Tell her from me that wintry skies,
And days of storm and rain,
The violet and the rose forgive
When summer comes again.

—Chas. Converse Tyler, in Feb. Lippincott's.

Intangible.

Was it his breath that brightened my face?
Was it a touch from his spirit's grace?
Only a smile was left there to trace
The soul of the thought to its hiding-place.
—Kate P. Lathrop, in Feb. Lippincott's.

Francis Parkman, D. D.

Dr. Bellows, who was an admirable raconteur, used to tell very good stories of Dr. Parkman, who was very dry.

Dr. Parkman was once met by a ragged fellow in New York, who rushed up and almost embraced him, and said, "My dear pastor, how glad I am to see you here! Could you lend me three dollars to get back to Boston with?" etc., etc.

The doctor, in narrating this incident, remarked in his fine formal manner. "After carefully perusing his features, he did not strike me as one who had enjoyed gospel privileges lately. I said, "My friend, that particular three dollars to which you refer I do not happen to have about me to-day."

D. Parkman was one of the list of the clergy to wear black silk gloves whilst preaching, with the forefinger cut off to facilitate the turning over of the leaves of his sermon.

He made a great impression on the youthful Sarah Butler, afterwards and now the celebrated Mrs. Wister, who accompanied her mother, the great Fanny Kemble Butler to church one day in her early youth.

The little maid insisted in talking in church, and looking up at Dr. Parkman, she said aloud, to the amusement of the congregation, "Mother, is that God?"

Some one telling Dr. Parkman of this, as a mortifying incident, he remarked, gravely, "Why extinguish so early a spirit of reverence?" — From "Recollections," by M. E. W. Sherwood, in February Lippincott's.

THE originator of Estey's Emulsion spent several years of his life in perfecting this preparation. Not a bottle of it was put on the market until he was satisfied that it was the best ever introduced for the cure of coughs, colds, bronchitis and all wasting diseases. Thousands of bottles have been sold, and he has never heard a complaint regarding it. jan2 1m d&w

A snowstorm in Spain put a stop to all telegraphic and railroad communication with France.

AN old smoker declares that he has been using "Myrtle Navy" tobacco ever since the second year of its manufacture and that during that time he has never suffered from a blistered tongue or parched tonsils or any other of the unpleasant effects which most tobaccos will leave behind them. His experience, he says, is that no other tobacco which he has ever tried is quite its equal and that in value for the money "no other comes anywhere near it."

The famine fever is increasing at a terrible rate in Russia.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. 1yr

TORONTO, Jan. 22.—The Empire publishes an affidavit by one John Cuthbert, a retired tavern-keeper, to the effect that in February 1888, W. T. R. Preston, grit organizer in Ontario, called on him and saying the by-elections were coming on, asked for a subscription to help the grits. Cuthbert demurred on the ground that he was a conservative, but was told that the Mowatt government issued tavern licenses and they would use him well if he complied. Cuthbert finally gave a cheque for $100. A fac simile of the cheque is published in the Empire. Cuthbert says he saw a list of fifty or more tavern keepers, each of whom subscribed $100.

WITH GLOVES ON.

The hands of the patient referred to below were so sore and offensive that he had to wear gloves continually to hide his hands, until he used

PHOSPHOLEINE

(Pronounced FOS-FO-LEEN),

when they became smooth and soft.

SCROFULA AND SALT RHEUM.

Dear Mr. Eagar.

I have much pleasure in giving you a record of the effect produced by the use of your PHOSPHOLEINE. The following cases have come under my particular attention while visiting the sick and poor: A case of Hereditary Scrofula.—The patient had tried most of the blood purifying remedies and Sarsaparillas in use, but for the past 19 years obtained no relief. After taking three bottles of your PHOSPHOLEINE his flesh became smooth and healthy, and he is now completely cured. A case of severe cough in the last stages of Consumption: The cough was eased, and the patient regained flesh and strength. This case is past curing, and the patient was pronounced so by physicians; but had she obtained of your medicine sooner, would no doubt have been cured. A case in which patient had given up the use of alcohol: The craving was cured, and the patient was regaining health and strength. A case of loss of flesh, great weakness, and indisposition for exertion of any kind, has been restored to health and strength by using your PHOSPHOLEINE. I have also recommended it to many who have been suffering from Dyspepsia, loss of strength and flesh, and in every case it has effected a cure. I have derived much benefit from the use of it myself. I remain yours, &c.,

E. C. NEWBERY.
