HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Michael Pasher, 85 DesBrisay Crescent, left Thursday morning for Hamilton, Ont., to spend some time with her sister and brothers, Mrs. Viola Bateman, Jack, Fred and Dave Woolridge.

Mr. and Mrs. John MacKay, Albany, left Tuesday morning for Boston, Mass. They were accompanied by their son, Dennis, and nurse, Mrs. Wendell Wood. Dennis will enter the Children's Hospital there for treatment.

Dianne Rupert, nurse-in-training at the Saint John General Hospitol is spending a vacation in Charlottetown with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Donald and family have returned to Sackville, N.B., after spending the weekend in Charlottetown as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Donald.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Duncan, 217 Grafton St., Charlottetown, recently celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary. They were honoured at a dinner party given by their family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Duncan, Kent St.

Their daughter, Mrs. Stewart Rogers, Moncton, N.B., arrived by plane for the happy occasion.

Mrs. Ella Jardine celebrated her eighty-third birthday on Saturday at the home of Mrs. Edith Wall, RN, of Baltic.

Mrs. Jardine was a life long resident of Kensington before taking up residence with Mrs. Wall. She has one son, Dr. Eric Jardine, who lives in Sydney, N.S.

During the afternoon many neighbours and friends called to extend many happy returns of the day to Mrs. Jardine. She was the recipient of many lovely cards and gifts.

A supper which included a prettily decorated birthday cake was served by Mrs. Wall.

Murray Harbour United Baptist Missionary Society and Ladies Aid held their recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Harris with the president, Mrs. Thomas Fraser, presiding.

A hymn, prayer and meditation by the president and scripture reading in unison opened the meeting. Members read individually from the "overseas Missionary Digest", about the work the missionaries are doing.

Mrs. Marion White, organist, was presented with a purse.

Lunch was served by the hostess, with assistance from some of the guests.

Sacred Heart Church Scene Of Double Ring Ceremony

Sacred Heart Church, Borden, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Stella Yvonne, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LeBlanc, Borden, became the bride of John Emmett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hagen, Springfield.

Rev. Arthur Pendergast performed the double-ring ceremony, and celebrated the nuptial mass. Teddy Grant and John Ceretti friends of the bride, served as knights of the altar. During the ceremony appropriate hymns were sung by Mrs. Arthur McCarville accompanied by Mrs. Clinton Howatt, church organist. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with bouquets of red roses anw white mums.

The winsome young bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white lace, the fitted waist of which extended into tiers of nylon net in back. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a tiara of crystals, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Anita Hagen, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and wore a gown of blue nylon chiffon with matching headdress and mitts, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white mums.

Miss Jean Hagen, sister of the groom as bridesmaid, was dressed in a gown of pink nylon chiffon with matching headdress and mitts, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white mums.

Mr. Roger LeBlanc, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Mr. Paul Hagen, brother of the groom, and Mr. Dean Sexton, friend of the bride, ushered the guests to their pews which were marked with floral sprays and satin bows.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table, covered with a lace tablecloth, was centered with a wedding-cake and adorned with bouquets of cut-flowers and white tapers. Rev. Father Pendergast proposed the toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom. The best man proposed the toast to the bridesmaids. Mrs. Emery Richards circulated the guest-book.

Mrs. LeBlanc chose for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of brown lace over taffeta with winter-white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Hagen, mother of the groom, wore a mauve ensemble of chiffon over taffeta with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the reception the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. For travelling the bride wore a brown and beige wool sheath dress and brown fur jacket with white accessories. A reception for the newly-weds was held later at the home of the groom's parents. Prior to her marriage the bride was the guest of honor at a shower at her home. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sexton also entertained for the young couple. Residents of Springfield district honored them with a post-nuptial shower at the home of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagen have taken up residence in Borden where the groom is employed with the C.N.R.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Thoughts Reach Ahead As March Paces Last Mile

Tonight, we add stout sticks to the fire, and are a little surprised to see lacy white designs, delicate it is true, etched on the panes. Late winter-days, we live now. March paces the last mile of the way. Thoughts reach ahead. Even now, it comes to mind, Spring is come to the calendar. . .Ear to the drifts. we shall before long hear, the thawing: streamlets will commence to course. Fields now snow-spread will bare, buds swell. House-wives will put by the fine quilts and rugs, and the other lovely handicraft winter-made, and turn thoughts on things to come: to soaps and cleansers, to paints and wallpapers and all the aids and intriguing necessities that go with the house-cleaning time. . And one day when the sprngtime's glints tip the wavelets in the stream, and the sun beams warm over all, we think we shall desert all its blandishments, and taking down a bamboo rod from a shelf in the garage-and not without the best of young company come in a new open season for trouting, to try our luck at "the fishin'."

Today was a mixture of spring and winter: brilliant sunlight, sky a robin's egg blue, sheltered eaves a-drip. And on the other hand, little wind - blown drifts were restless on the cold fields.

"It's a cool day," we remarked to a caller in the yard.

"That it is," he agreed. "Though it's only what we might expect- Do you mind the Candlemas Day? As bright as this morning, it was. Yes, meaning, 'Two winters in one year!' And aren't we having just that? We can go by the groundhog," he smiled.

We glanced at the remains of the wasps' nest, silvery-gray shreds caught to the sheltered peak of the eastern gable - there were the Virginia Creeper clings and to which the honeysuckle vine climbs.

"But the location of the wasps' nests doesn't mean a thing, does it?" we chuckled.

"I'll not argue the point," he smiled. "For we never know just how high the drifts will reach. And remember, Ellen, no matter what the calendar man says to the contrary, we're not yet 'out of the woods!' "

Stables were being tidied then, horse and sleigh waiting by a door to bear off to a field the humus a farm-commentator declared of late to be "the best fertilizer of them all!" Mack was lending a hand there. Scample a great shaggy-coated dog, seated on the summit of a drift in the barnyard watched the progress of the work. And the hours spent away steadily toward the dusk.

"Now isn't that nice!" one opening a letter in our presence back in the year smiled, obvious ly much pleased. "See how she begins it!"

"Dear Friend O' Mine," it said. How meaningful the salutation And deeply satisfying and withal how easy, as Edgar Guest points out, it is to be a friend.

"Be a friend. You don't need money,
You need a disposition sunny;
Just a wish to help another,
To get along some way or other;
Just a kindly hand extended
Out to one who's unbefriended;
Just the will to give or lend,
This will make you someone's friend.

Be a friend. You don't need glory;
Friendship is a simple story.
Cheer the lad who's bravely trying,
Pity him who's sadly sighing;
Just a little labor spend
On the duties of a friend."

Until Monday — — Diary — Good-night. . .

HOUSEHOLD HINT

If your living room is also your family room, you can make it ready for guests at a moment's notice, despite children and all their playthings, if you spread muslin sheeting down for the children to play on. This can be gathered up quickly by the four corners, toys and all, for instant clean-up.

A cleaning closet should include hooks for brushes, mops and brooms, so they can hang free. This saves wear and tear on the equipment, keeps it from falling over and getting entangled and makes cleaning the closet itself easier.
