Plastic Face Moulded In Move To Identify Body

COLLINGWOOD, Ont. (CP)—Experts in the Ontario attorney-general's crime laboratory at Toronto have fashioned a face of plastic clay for the skull of a young woman's skeleton found here Tuesday in cedar bush near a lover's lane. Police hoped reconstruction of the face might lead to identification. Experts said Friday they thought they could get "a pretty fair idea" of what the girl looked like from the built-up skull and her honey-blond hair. The model face will be photographed and sent to police departments across Canada.

Meanwhile, soldiers from Camp Borden melted snow in the place where the skeleton was found. They used army heating generators and police followed with mine detectors in the search for more clues, such as jewelry or a weapon.

BLUDGEON THEORY
As the investigation continued, "hearts went out at the crime laboratory to determine the cause of death. One theory was that the woman was bludgeoned. Chief Elliott said two motorists have said they saw a man near the place last summer. One reported seeing a man dragging a woman who appeared intoxicated in the direction of the woods where the body was found. Police are also investigating the report of a salesman who said he found a packet of letters and a woman's pink underwear about 30 miles from the scene last July 30. The salesman did not report the find until the body was found. Police said the letters were from an army private at Camp Borden to his wife in Halifax begging her to come west and meet him. The army private was not named.

WAR'S EFFECTS
Oil production in Burma now is about 100,000 tons a year, roughly 10 per cent of the pre-war output.

VALUABLE EXPORT
Canada exported 7,122 motor vehicles worth $16,300,000 to Australia in 1953.

MAKING ROOM
A record total of 153,750 old and battered automobiles were junked in Canada in 1953.

A combination of hard-working experienced telephone construction men and favourable weather has brought about a clean-up of the havoc caused by Monday's storm in record time. Every exchange was in operation last night except Summerside to Alberton, with contact, however, between Alberton, O'Leary and Tignish. "By digging out the butts and resetting the shortened poles we hope to get all the wires placed on them and in full operation to Summerside by Monday night," Mr. G. E. Cameron, plant superintendent, P. E. Island Telephone Company, said last night. Wiresmen are moving along swiftly clearing up the tangled masses and it is hoped that by the end of next week all wire and local services will be normal. "All the crews, both our own and those on loan from the mainland, are doing excellent work, and are turning out experts as they tackled the job of restoring communication on Tuesday morning. The work is being continued on a round the clock basis.

Food Chain Store Would Abolish Railways Agreed Charge Contracts

OTTAWA, (CP) — A spokesman for one of Canada's largest chain food store operators Friday urged the abolition of federal legislation permitting Canadian railways to enter into agreed charge contracts with shippers.

The recommendation was made by Edward Davidson, executive assistant of Loblaw Groceries Company Limited, to a royal commission studying the controversial agreed charge issue. Agreed charges are special low contract rates given by the railways in return for a guaranteed percentage of a shipper's business. Mr. Davidson said the proposed formula to give the railways greater freedom to make agreed charge contracts with shippers would destroy the motor transport industry and threaten the ability of a private company to operate its own highway transport.

SET COMPETITIVE RATES
Mr. Davidson said the railways could compete with trucks with competitive rates comparable to tolls in agreed charge contracts. Competitive rates are set by the railways but they must show the board of transport commissioners the rates are necessary to meet competition and are compensatory. The company opposed agreed charges because they required a shipper to give a set percentage of his freight to the railways. This meant the Loblaw company was prevented from deciding the type of transport for goods it purchased from a shipper who was a party to an agreed charge. "Since we are paying the transportation charges we feel we have the right to decide what method of transportation is to be used to get the merchandise to our warehouses," Mr. Davidson said. Agreed charge contracts contained no guarantee of service by the railways. This was important to his company because most of its products must be moved quickly to prevent losses through market fluctuations.

Eaton Expects To Buy Steel Firm

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cyrus Eaton, Canadian-born financier, said Friday he expects an offer by his associates made for the Follansbee Steel Corporation will be accepted. The Eaton offer had been announced at $21 a share for 464,331 outstanding shares, or $9,750,951. Eaton's expectation was reported by a spokesman at Chesapeake and Ohio Railway where Eaton, a native of Puywash, N.S., is board chairman — shortly after the Republic Steel Corporation issued a statement releasing Frederick W. Richmond, New York financier, from his commitment to sell to Republic the machinery and equipment of the Follansbee plant.

Doctors Have

Continued from page 1 over details of a new consistory in the first three months of 1955. Announcement of the new cardinals at Christmas would mean in practice that they would then become princes of the Roman Catholic church. But the formalities of their elevation to cardinals' rank would only be completed at the consistory.

SLIGHT TEMPERATURE

Authoritative Vatican quarters described as "extremely unlikely" Italian newspaper reports that the Pope plans to hold a bedside consistory in the near future. The Pontiff's temperature dropped to near normal Friday morning but was up slightly again Friday evening. Doctors said this was a normal reaction to Thursday's crisis. All the cardinals now gathered in the Vatican prayed together in the Matilda chapel to lead prayers among the 400,000,000 Roman Catholics throughout the world for the Pope's life.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS

Meantime, extraordinary police precautions were taken inside and outside the Vatican to maintain absolute silence around the papal apartment situated high over the city of Rome. Despite the Pope's improving health, it was assumed that his protracted stomach ailment and recurring hiccupps will not permit him to return to the strenuous life he led until his illness began a year ago.
