

Juniors Grab Series Lead Trim B.I.S. Shamrocks, 7-1

Basilica Youth Club Juniors moved a step closer to the City Softball League finals last night as Father Clarence Roche returned to the mound to hurl a superb four hitter and sink B.I.S. Shamrocks, 7-1 in a semi-final playoff tilt at Memorial Field.

Father Roche finally got a little hitting support from his young teammates and coasted easily to the victory after the Juniors moved into a 3-1 spread in the third inning.

The slender righthander set down the Irish on a quartet of singles, two of which were of the scratch infield variety, and allowed only four balls to be hit out of the infield.

He walked only two and fanned five. It was about the best pitcher's game of the entire playoffs to date.

One of the two free passes to first resulted in the lone B.I.S. tally. Joe Revell took a free trip to lead off the second frame. A sacrifice and a wild pitch moved him to third and he came home on Joe Thistle's bingle.

GET 10 HITS

Thistle, on the mound for the B.I.S., didn't prove to be the thorny problem the Juniors tagged him for 10 hits including a two-run homer by center fielder Dave MacLeod in the sixth frame. Joe walked two.

The Juniors moved into the lead in the opening frame when Apps Arsenalault bunted safely, took second on a passed ball and scored after Billy Hughes lined a single to left.

B.Y.C. went ahead, 3-1 in the third on the strength of Cecil Ladner's two-run single and pretty well wrapped it up in the fourth with two more runs, the result of the only two errors of the entire game, a bunt single by Father Roche and Mark Ladner's run-scoring bingle.

MacLeod added a single to his homer for top batting honors of the game. Cecil Ladner and Hughes each had pairs of singles.

The victory boosted the Juniors into a commanding position in the best-of-five playoffs. Now with a 2-1 lead in games, it could be all over after the two squads come to grips Thursday night.

U.S. POOR SECOND

Soviets Sweep World Shoot

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet marksmen made a clean sweep of the final event in the international shooting championships Tuesday. The United States finished a poor second.

The Russians won 14 of 17 team events and 11 of 23 individual world titles during the 10-day pistol, rifle and shotgun competition.

The U.S. failed to capture a single team event but finished with five individual world titles. The Americans also took two second places and six third places in the individual events, and six seconds and two thirds in team competition.

Finland accounted for three gold, two silver, and two bronze medals in individual performances and two silver and two bronze medals in the team events.

As a grand climax to competition which began Aug. 17, 15 participants in the 300-metre army rifle match smashed the world record of 530 points set by Finland's O. Elo at Helsinki. All contestants used Soviet guns.

Five of the first six places in the army rifle competition were taken by the Russians. O. M. Titik won for the Soviet Union with 555 points, and the Russian team score was 2,737. Yugoslavia was second with 2,644.

Jan Purvis was the winner with Jamie Kennedy doing a fine job behind the plate.

Harry Gay went the route for Summerside.

George Lee hurled a top-notch brand of ball in dropping the Western bantam nine. Donnie Schurman, who fanned 19 Charlottetown hitters in a game last Saturday, took the loss.

In today's Little League action at Memorial Field, the Dodgers and Yankees will tangle at 9:30 a. m. in a sudden-death tilt to decide which of the two faces Braves for the city championship.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

San Francisco once again played dead when they met the champions of the world, Milwaukee Braves.

Sunday the two clubs opened a five-game set in San Francisco's bay park with the Braves leading the Rigney men by 6 games. A sweep of the series would cut that lead to one game and the National League once again would have a pennant race.

The Braves apparently didn't favor any such Giant sweep and the West Coasters gave in to the Milwaukee edict.

After two games were played in this most important set, the Braves had jumped their first place margin to four. When this instead of having the Giants trim it down to four. When this column was written three games remained and the best the Frisco boys could do was finish the set trailing by five. To do this the Giants must sweep the rest of the series and that's quite an order for them when they're up against the Braves.

This was the big opportunity to pull the Braves down with the rest of the boys, but the San Francisco club missed the boat and the chance of a pennant race seems farther away than ever.

If there was some way of having the Dodgers take over for the Giants when games with Milwaukee come up, then the chances are the Braves would not even be leading the National League, let alone enjoying the wide margin that is theirs today.

But such practices are not tolerated and the Giants, horrible as they are against Milwaukee, must look after their own business. And Fred Haney and his boys like very much the way Giants attend to things when they clash with them.

Where could the Braves run up against such 'cousins'?

Softball fans are still buzzing about the 2-1 thriller they witnessed last Saturday afternoon at Memorial Field when Barry's Lions tied out a tenth inning playoff game and the large crowd that were able to be on hand for it, enjoyed it to the fullest. We've just run into one of those periods when the dice keep rolling six-ace. With luck holding, we should have a steady flow of talent into San Francisco for the next few years. Unhappily, the pitchers are still in short supply, but the concentration has been on them lately.

Well Hubbell should be a pretty fair judge of a ballplayer, especially a pitcher. He wasn't too bad himself back in the early thirties.

New York Yankees continue to run away with the American League and opinions have been expressed that probably this 1958 version of the Bombers is one of the great Yankee aggregations.

What does Casey Stengel think? Is this one of the great Yankee teams?

Here's what Old Case has to say:

"Nobody likes to knock his own club, but this is not an experienced team. Some of these men don't know how to play. They think they do but they don't. The Yankees can be improved. This isn't even close to my top club."

Casey isn't going to give any of this year's Yankees any cause for conceit.

What makes a baseball team great?

The answers you'll get will be many and most of them will contain some very sound logic. An old Brooklynite was asked recently to give his answer to the question and Babe Herman replied in this fashion.

"Give me an old pitching staff backed by a young club, instead of a young pitching staff and and mostly old players around 'em, as is the case with the Dodgers. Veteran pitchers will give you more clutch victories, youth more speed in the field and on the bases."

Who wants to disagree?

Floyd Patterson, heavyweight champion of the world has said that he would be willing to fight Harris again and that he thought Harris would "stand a good chance" against any of the heavyweight contenders.

Patterson came out of the scrap still the champion and richer by $311,000. Harris went back to Texas with 14 stitches in his face and his $100,000 guarantee. The latter took the sting out of the former.

Patterson said if he had been the referee, he would have stopped the fight in the 10th round because of Harris' cuts and admitted that he felt compassion for his bloodied opponent.

"If you had been a fighter and looked at Harris face in the 10th and 11th rounds and see what I see in his eyes, you would feel a little quail of pity, too," Floyd said. "I didn't stop trying to knock him out but I did try to lower my punches a little."

There's not too much of the killer instinct in a champion who talks in such a manner. And if he can hold his crown without becoming blood thirsty, then more power to his punches.

Charlottetown Little League Abbies took the Island championship by turning back Summerside, 2-1 at Memorial Field Tuesday afternoon.

The home nine took the best-of-three series in straight games.

In the second part of the twin-bill Charlottetown Pony Leagueers dropped Summerside bantams, 7-5.

The Charlottetown team scored single runs in the first and second frames in building up their winning margin. Summerside got its lone tally in the third.

Jan Purvis was the winner with Jamie Kennedy doing a fine job behind the plate.

Harry Gay went the route for Summerside.

George Lee hurled a top-notch brand of ball in dropping the Western bantam nine. Donnie Schurman, who fanned 19 Charlottetown hitters in a game last Saturday, took the loss.

In today's Little League action at Memorial Field, the Dodgers and Yankees will tangle at 9:30 a. m. in a sudden-death tilt to decide which of the two faces Braves for the city championship.

BLISTERS CALGARY COURSE Martell C.P.G.A. Winner

By JAC KSULLIVA N Canadian Press Staff Writer CALGARY (CP)—Henry Martell of Edmonton shot a four-under-par last round 66 to win the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship Tuesday night with a 54-hole total of 209, just one stroke up on second-round leader Murray Tucker of Toronto.

Al Balding of Toronto, pre-tournament favorite, skyrocketed to three-over-par 73 in each of the second and third rounds for a 213 total and a third-place tie with Jack Kay of Montreal.

Martell, winner of the CPGA title in 1953, came out of nowhere to take the $1,000 first prize. He entered the final 18 holes eight strokes behind 36-year-old Tucker and five behind Balding.

The sandy-haired Edmonton golfer opened the tournament with a 74, followed with a 69 second round and caught fire with 34-32 nines in the last 18.

It was a heartbreaker for Tucker, who ballooned to a five-over-par 75 following 67-68 rounds. He was the only one of 33 starters to crack the Calgary Golf and Country Club course below par-70 figures over the first 36 holes.

Tucker won $700 and Balding and Kay picked up $350 each.

Fifth place was taken by Bud Loftus, assistant pro at the 6,277-yard Calgary course, with 215, one stroke up on Jim Doyle of Sandy Hook, Man. Loftus won $400 and Doyle $300.

John Hendrick of Hull, Que., was seventh with 217, good for $200.

Despite the showing of Martell and Tucker the pros played poorly. They floundered around the layout in one of the poorest exhibitions of golf seen in this tournament in years as only Martell beat regulation figures for 54 holes. Tucker hit par on the button.

The over-50-year-old pros, who cut up a special $525 pot for the first 36 holes, were up with the leaders but dropped back in the last 18.

Braves Pound S.F. Giants For 8th Time; Phils Win

In the only other daytime game in the majors, Philadelphia defeated Chicago 10-3, with Robin Roberts winning his 14th.

In the American League a scheduled night game between Detroit and Boston was postponed because of rain. The game will be made up tonight as the second half of a day-night doubleheader.
