

Keep in mind that Scott's Emulsion contains the hypophosphites.

These alone make it of great value for all affections of the nervous system.

It also contains glycerine, a most valuable, soothing and healing agent. Then there is the cod-liver oil, acknowledged by all physicians as the best remedy for poor blood and loss in weight.

These three great remedial agents blended into a creamy Emulsion, make a remarkable tissue builder.

For Business Men

Start at the Bottom.

Two boys left home with just money enough to take them through college, after which they must depend entirely upon their own efforts. They attacked the collegiate problems successfully, passed the graduation, received their diplomas from the faculty, also commendatory letters to a large ship-building firm with which they desired employment. Ushered into the waiting room of the head of the firm, the first was given an audience. He presented his letters.

"What can you do?" said the man of millions.

"I would like some sort of a clerkship."

Well, sir, I will take your name and address and should we have anything of the kind open, will correspond with you."

As he passed out he remarked to his waiting companion: "You can go in and leave your address."

The other presented himself and his papers.

"What can you do?" was asked.

"I can do anything a greenhand can do, sir," was the reply.

The magnate touched a bell, which called the superintendent.

"Have you anything to put a man to work at?"

"We want a man to sort scrap-iron," replied the superintendent.

And the college graduate went to sorting scrap-iron.

One week passed and the president, meeting the superintendent, asked:

"How is the new man getting on?"

"Oh," said the boss, "he did his work so well and never watched the clock, that I put him over the gang."

In one year this man had reached the head of a department and an advisory position with the management at a salary represented by four figures, while his whilom companion was maintaining his dignity as "clerk" in a livery stable, washing harness and carriages.—Selected.

Business of To-day.

Commerce has become a far more complex affair in our time than it ever was before, and can less than ever before, be successfully prosecuted upon any routine or rule of thumb system. The conditions of trade change from day to day. New scientific discoveries new financial complications, new political situations, enter more and more as factors into many branches of commerce. A man's mind needs now to have not only a watchful alertness in noting such changes, but a capacity for appreciating the consequences which a change may have upon matters which seem to lie out of the immediate sphere of its influence. In short, since the problems a business man has to deal with are now more intricate and delicate than in older and simpler days, the business man needs always more and more to accustom himself to think about these problems, approaching them from every side and not merely adopting the view which he finds among his friends or in the newspapers. He has to beware of trusting to fixed ideas and positive rules. He must watch the commercial and political sky as the captain of a sailing ship watches the carry of the clouds and the freshening of the wind and the direction of the swell. And his observation must be a reflective observation, leading him on to a forecast. All this is obvious when one comes to think of it; and I dwell upon it only because the old idea that business was an easier sort of occupation than the learned profession, needing a less active intellect, still half survives in many quarters, and disposes men to underestimate the worth for commercial life of a stimulative intellectual training.—North American Review.

Shutting off Steam.

"Shall we stop our advertising for a while now?"

This is a question that some business men are apt to ask themselves, particularly in the summer, or during what they regard as their "dull season."

Suppose your engineer asked you: "Shall I stop putting coal on my fires, sir?"

What would you reply? "Why, no—unless you want the engine to stop!"

The advertiser who thinks of discontinuing may argue, "We have been advertising so long and so steadily that our name and specialties are well known, and we intend to advertise again when business is better in our line than it appears to be now; in the meantime our business won't stop."

No; neither will the engine stop the minute the men suspend shoveling in coal. The point is, however, that when the engine is to be started again, ten times as much will have been lost in power as has been saved in fuel or feed.

Using up reserve force never pays.

It is a loss, however it may be looked at. The buying public is prone to forget. It is, moreover, much more difficult and much more expensive to regain a lost customer than to prevent his straying away.—Money Maker Magazine, Chicago.

ASTHMA PERMANENTLY CURED.

A Well-known Canadian Notary Public Suffered for 35 Years—Permanently Cured by Clarke's Kola Compound.

R. D. Pitt, Esq., Kamloops, writes: "I had suffered for at least 35 years from the great oppressiveness of asthma and shortness of breath. I had during these years consulted many physicians and tried all the remedies, until the doctor told me I might get temporary relief, but I would be always troubled. I tried Dr. Clarke's Kola Compound, and after taking the first bottle I became greatly relieved, and three bottles have completely cured me. I can now breathe as naturally as ever, and asthma does not trouble me in the least. I feel it my duty to bear testimony to the unparelleled effect this remedy has had in my case, and would urge all suffering from this disease to try Clarke's Kola Compound, as only those who have suffered all these years as I have can appreciate what a blessing this remedy must prove to sufferers from asthma." Three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound are guaranteed to cure. A free sample will be sent to any person troubled with asthma. Address: The Williams & Macpherson Co., 121 Church Street, Toronto and Vancouver, B. C., sole Canadian agents. Sold by all druggists. When writing for sample mention this paper.

Clarke's Kola Compound is the only permanent cure for asthma; is now successfully used throughout the leading hospitals in England and Canada.
