NEW YORK (AP) — A trap laid by Canadian police led to the arrest here Friday night of the Mexican ambassador to Bolivia and two other men and seizure in Montreal of millions of dollars worth of smuggled heroin.

Estimates of the retail value of the 134 pounds of heroin ranged from $15,500,000 to $25,000,000 at United States prices and to $82,000,000 in Canada, where narcotics are scarcer.

A federal narcotics official said during the weekend the smuggling ring had a "definite link with the Cosa Nostra," the name applied to the organized underworld.

Meanwhile, the Mexican government filed the ambassador, Salvador Pardo-Bollard.

The Mexicans called his involvement "a very dishonorable and painful thing."

A federal narcotics bureau official in Washington said Pardo-Bollard had destroyed any claim he might have had to diplomatic immunity upon his entry into the U.S. by describing himself as "tourist."

RABBI VIEWS BEATLEMANIA

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto rabbi sees the "Beatlemania" that is sweeping Canada as proof that civilization has failed ten-fold.

Rabbi Gunther Plaut of Holy Sepulchre Temple says in a Synagogue publication civilization must have failed if the Beatles can become the idols of the "shrieking, heaving, auto-piloting juveniles."

However, some Toronto churchmen see no harm in the Beatles' rock 'n' roll group.

Msgr. B. T. Kille said: "Elders may be shocked, but I'm sure they are just expressing a passing fad, the same as many in the past and others yet to come."

And Rev. Guy Firsh of the United Church of Canada said: "If the Beatles are being harmful, they might well stimulate young people to get out and do something to become known."

Canada Only Nation Able To Send Troops

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS (AP) — United Nations Secretary-General U Thant was reported Sunday to be having trouble finding countries to make up an international peace-keeping force for Cyprus, even if he gets general agreement that there should be one.

Of all the countries that might generally be acceptable for such a force, only Canada so far seemed willing and able to supply troops for it.

That, meanwhile, brought together Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou and British delegate Sir Patrick Duggan for the first time as he continued his search for agreement among Cyprus, Britain, Greece, Turkey and members of the UN Security Council.

The two men, after 1 1/2 hours in Thant's office, told reporters they could do nothing. Thant himself said: "I think the picture will be clearer tomorrow."

The council is scheduled to resume its Cyprus debate Tuesday.

TALKS DEADLOCKED

SOURCES informed on Thant's talks said there was a deadlock on whether any final resolution on the force should mention the 1960 Cyprus constitution concerning Cyprus in addition to calling for respect for Cyprus' internal affairs.

Thant, meanwhile, brought to a halt a battalion of about 850 troops standing by for UN emergency call for UN troops in Greece. About 7,000 troops in Cyprus and estimates of 10,000 voluntary strength for the international force run up to 10,000.

OTTAWA (CP)—Praising only on questions relating either to biculturalism or education, the Canadian University Liberal Federation gave a speedy approval Sunday to a long list of resolutions ranging from Canadian recognition of Red China to exclusion of MPs from control of the Liberal Federation.

The students voted for making the presidency of their organization open only to bilingual candidates in future years.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Johnson's efforts to end a long-continued boycott of the United States-Soviet wheat deal hit a new snag Sunday when union leaders demanded that 50 per cent U.S. shipping be used for grain sold to all from certain countries.

Willard Wirtz said this raised problems of great magnitude for the deal, but he said it was not a new issue, but one that had been discussed in consultation with Johnson, appeared to the unions to lift the boycott until such a conference could be called.

The White House also was reported to have made a direct appeal to union leaders.

"I wish we had somebody working as hard as we do for the Soviet Union," said President Johnson.

Wirtz said the deal was brought to his attention for the first time when he came here last Thursday.

Fear Has Turned Cyprus Into Vast Armed Camp

NICOSIA (AP)—Cyprus is a vast armed camp.

In every town, village and hamlet of the island republic, thousands of young men, in some cases even women, are receiving weapons training.

The 160,000 population of the island can be observed on both Greek and Turkish-Cypriot sides.

The Greek-Cypriots, who outnumber the Turkish-Cypriots four to one, say they are preparing for a possible invasion from the Turkish mainland, 40 miles from the island's north.

Turkish-Cypriots, isolated in their own island and by the Turkish sectors of the island's 160,000 population, are preparing to repel a three-sided Greek attack.

Fear motivates both sides, and out of fear has come organization and planning.

Since the fighting between the two communities broke out at Christmas, two distinct defence forces have sprung up on the island — one Greek and one Turkish.

Each is composed of hundreds of irregulars, but the nucleus of the formerly unified Cyprus police force, 2,000 men, is being trained by the army.

After the outbreak of fighting, the Greek-Cypriots have split up into 60-per-cent Greek and 40-per-cent Turkish components.

The Greek-Cypriots are almost completely controlled by

Wilson Planning Aid For Near-Free Zone

LONDON (AP) — Harold Wilson said Saturday the labor government will provide aid to work within the Atlantic ally.

He made plain he shares that expectation.

On Western trade with Communist nations, he said there is no difference between the labor and Conservative views. He said Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home outlined to British cabinet in Washington last week.

"In general we do not believe in the use of economic sanctions as the right way to fight the struggle for competitive peace and stability."

A new Parliament must be elected by Nov. 3.

Labor's plan for a nuclear-free zone is in line with its idealistic approach to nuclear weapons.

As party spokesmen have defined their attitude in parliamentary debates, they see the U.S. and Soviet Union as the only powers capable of developing and controlling the nuclear deterrent.
