Schools of Charlottetown

MIDSUMMER EXAMINATIONS

Upper Prince Street School.

THE girls of Upper Prince Street School had their turn to-day. There was a large assemblage of visitors, including Mr. Nicholson, Superintendent of Education, J. B. Macdonald, Esq., Chairman of the Board of School Trustees, Thomas Handrahan, one of the members of the Board, Chief Justice Sullivan, Mayor Haviland, Councillor Horne, Hon. David Laird, Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Washington Territory, Messrs. T. C. James, —— McGowan, James Welsh, Theo. Moore, B. Balderston and a large number of ladies. The hall in which the closing exercises were held is much too small. The children were packed like herring in a box, and a large proportion of the visitors had to stand. All who took part in the examination seemed to be satisfied that substantial progress has been made by this school. The chairman, the Chief-Justice, the Mayor and Rev. Mr Thompson each highly complimented both teachers and pupils. Mr. Macdonald stated that the average of marks was higher than in any previous year. The entertainment in the upper hall was (except for the crush) very pleasing as it was highly creditable to the school:
