

The WEEK at S. D. U.

As you might have gathered from the states of officers published in these columns, St. Dunstan's is not populated entirely by football-playing young men. Direct reference to our co-eds was not omitted deliberately; but it seemed appropriate to withhold everything but the essentials until there was some news of significance to report concerning them.

At St. Dunstan's, it is now taken for granted that the girls are as much a part of the institution as is the football team, for instance. From this it follows that they have every right to an organization of their own, which, indeed, they have. The society is called the Sigma Delta Sorority, and is open to all young ladies who are or have been students at St. Dunstan's University. The object, all-sublime, is the religious, social, and cultural development of the members.

Last week, the Sigma Delta Sorority was reorganized for the college year of 1950-51. The girls hope that this will be one of the most active years in the history of the organization. The officers are: President, Katherine Roche; Vice-President, Bethany MacDonald; secretary-treasurer, Irene Burge. The executive committee is composed of a member from the sophomore class, Mary Creighton, a member of the Freshman class, Mary Gillis, and a Faculty Adviser, Rev. J. P. E. O'Hanley.

Local B. I. S. Monthly Meeting

First Vice-President J. W. Hogan was chairman at the regular monthly meeting of the Benevolent Irish Society held last evening in the Whelan Memorial Hall. A large crowd of members were in attendance and quarterly reports were submitted by W. Hogan of Profit Committee, P. W. Boyle, Finance Committee; Claude Carol, Social Committee; E. W. Hogan, Entertainment Committee; and Cornelius Corrigan reported for the Whelan Grave committee. It was decided to paint the exterior of the hall in the near future, and to have the annual party for members and their children on Halloween. A committee was appointed to select and make arrangements for the 1951 St. Patrick's play, and was made up of the Executive and eight members of the Society. Initiation night was planned for the 20th of October when several new members will be received into the Society. During the course of the evening a letter of thanks was read which had been received from a recipient of aid from the organization.

Fisher-Seale Wedding

At St. Dunstan's Basilica on Monday morning, September 4th, at nine o'clock, Marie Frederica, daughter of Mrs. William Seale and the late William Seale, Charlottetown, was united in the holy bonds of Matrimony to Henry James, son of Mrs. Henry Fisher and the late Henry Fisher, Charlottetown. Reverend Francis MacDonald performed the ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial Mass. Reverend Louis P. Callaghan was present in the Sanctuary. Mrs. Joseph Dougan played the wedding music and several appropriate wedding hymns were rendered by the soloist, Mr. Frank MacIntyre. Autumn flowers decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her brother, Fred, the bride looked winsome in a gown of Angel Mist with a train of princess lines with beauteous collar and lace yolk, long gloves extending over the hands in points, with full skirt ending in a short train. The finger-tip veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of Fink Delight roses with maiden hair fern. Mrs. F. A. McKearney, as matron of honor, was the bride's only attendant and was attractively dressed in a gown of soft green taffeta with matching mitts, a picture hat, and carried a bouquet of peach gladiol.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Joseph Fisher, and Mr. P. A. McKearney acted as usher.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Queen Hotel to the immediate relatives of the bride and groom and a few friends. The table was beautifully decorated with multi-colored gladiol and three tiered cake topped with sweet peas. The toast to the bride was proposed by Reverend Louis P. Callaghan and responded to by the groom.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left on a honeymoon trip to Fairfield, Maine and Boston, the bride travelling in a cherry red garbaird suit, black velvet hat, matching accessories and carried a winter white shortie coat.

Says PEI Premier Carried Ball For Maritime Rights

By Austin S. Cross, Ottawa

It remained for Prince Edward Island to save the Federal-Provincial conference from being a flop, as far as news is concerned. Large Walter Jones, Premier of Prince Edward Island, caught Page 1 when, a la Malik, he almost took the point of indiscretion, that he is the most fearless, verbally, of all the ten Provincial Premiers. As the oldest in point of age, domino, he will not take any back sass from anybody, including the Prime Minister himself.

It seems to me that Mr. Jones had all the best of it, at least up to a point. This ferry service is part of the Confederation pact. Mr. Jones says that by putting it in the hands of the Canadian National Railways, it made it vulnerable to strikes. That is true. He insists that the ferry, operated by railway, offers discriminatory tariffs against trucks. This I can well believe. I also imagine that the Canadian National, in loading their ferry, would first of all, make sure all their stuff got on before they worried about trucks and cars.

From CNR's point of view, this is right enough, for the waterborne nine miles is regarded by them as an extension of their own rails over water.

If I read the despatches aright, Prime Minister St. Laurent says that the Federal Government had kept to the letter in the matter of the ferry boats. There he seems to be taking bad precedents. For it was Shylock who followed the letter of the law. And look what happened to him. I do not precisely see Bull in a China Shop Jones acting in the role of Portia, but I do feel that Jones in this instance does have all the best of it.

After all, it is a terrible thing for a Province to be isolated for nine days because some officials in Montreal and Ottawa let their brains run away with their ego. From Premier Jones' standpoint this should not happen.

Now then, up to this point, one is bound to be with the Premier. Notably is he right if the vehicular traffic is discriminated against by the railways.

Yet all in all, I suppose a person from Central Canada might say: why should all of Canada cater to an Island which can hardly muster the population of London, Ontario; that today is hardly the size of Winnipeg? In other words, no one would expect the Federal Government to get overwrought about Winnipeg, and make special concessions worth millions, just over a couple of ferry boats.

It seems to me that the real answer lies in the Province itself. It is the shrine of independence, the soul of free enterprise. If the Federal Government does not please them, why do they not run their own ferry boat service. If the CNR is operating with a high hand, then out that hand down a bit by other ferry boats, exclusive for motor transport elsewhere. F.E.I. could dig up the money somehow, and perhaps also offer a 24 hour a day seven days a week alternative to the present CNR schedules.

If I were as independent as the Islanders feel they are, I'd tell the Federal Government that they knew what they could do with their ferries, and go build some myself.

Confederation deals or no Confederation deals, the best way to get such a ferry would be for the Province to build one. Maybe Nova Scotia would help, if the southern terminus could be located along the Pictou-Pugwash frontier.

Hon. Walter Jones has always been known for his free and blunt speech. One time I met him in the Chateau Laurier and he had come to a boil about something that was another one of these Federal-Provincial lovefeats.

"Maybe you should not be in Confederation at all," bellowed Walter, over his shoulder, along the suite Chateau Laurier hall.

"Where should you be?" I asked innocently.

"I don't know," he shot back "Maybe out in the Gulf some place, maybe out in the fog, running rum."

For a Province that then was that was quite a speech. But Walter Jones, who has in his lifetime done such things as play U.

S. football and act as an American civil servant, seems to be scored of nothing and of nobody. Once I met him on a train going in to Chicago. He was on his way to a cattle sale in Wisconsin. A late spring had made feed crops late and light. He noted this, and said he would wire back to the Island, where seeding was going to be planted more feed. Apparently he had market for it there, or maybe the Island had. I never heard how that deal came out.

I had rather expected that Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, Nova Scotia Premier, would be the one to take a walk. Because once, after having signed up with the Federals, he shot back from Nova Scotia: "They have not seen the last of my bonnets or me." I am always waiting, indeed, hoping, that Angus L. will cut loose some of these days, and rip into our boys here on The Hill. Up till now, however, he seems to have gone along placidly.

Thankoffering Service Trinity Auxilliary

The Thankoffering Service of the afternoon Auxilliary of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, was held on Thursday at 3 P.M. in the Social Hall with the President, Mrs. G.M. Avard presiding.

The opening worship service was conducted by the Christian Stewardship Secretary, Mrs. A.D. MacLennan. After singing hymn 669, "All People that on Earth do Dwell", psalm 45, "O Come let us Sing unto the Lord" was read in unison. Mrs. MacLennan gave a very beautiful meditation on the theme for the day, "Stewardship". She showed clearly that all one's time, talents and money were a stewardship from God, and challenged the members to use them more fully for the advancement of our Master's kingdom.

A reading entitled "Much More" by Mrs. A.B. Bagnall stressed the need of each one doing and giving much more than ever before for the great missionary work. She also read a very touching little poem on "Much More" written by Grace Nowell.

Hymn 20, "Lord of all being, throned afar", closed the devotional period.

The business period opened with the reading of the July-August, and September meetings by the secretary, Mrs. A.B. Bagnall, which were approved. The treasurer, Mrs. J.Y. MacFadyen gave the financial report which was adopted. The names of four devoted members "who walk with us no more" were read by Mrs. Bagnall—namely, Mrs. J.T. Lantz, Mrs. G.H. Holbrook, Mrs. R.H. Rogers, Temperance and Christian Citizenship Secretary, and Mrs. Lloyd Carleton. The sympathy of the Society goes out to the bereaved families.

One hundred and five calls were made during September by the Community Friendship Secretary, Mrs. Windsor. The Supply Secretary, Mrs. MacNair, announced that a box of warm clothing would be packed during the month for Labrador and notice of the day that donations would be received for this box, would be announced in the Church bulletin.

Mrs. Avard spoke of the coming visit of Dr. Florence Murray recently returned missionary from Korea on Thursday evening, October 26th. Also the Baby Band party would be held on the afternoon of October 26th. All were interested to hear that the Baby Band of Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, is the second largest in the Maritime Conference Branch.

A short discussion followed on a suitable gift from our auxilliary for the new United Church at Borden. Mrs. Bustin kindly offered to write for information on what would be most suitable.

Mrs. Avard expressed to the treasurer, Mrs. MacFadyen the regret of the Society on hearing that she would be absent from the city for the winter.

At the close of the business period, Mrs. Bustin brought to the meeting the highlights of the Maritime Branch Conference which met in Mt. Allison University, Sack-
