

TREES IN PROFUSION ENHANCE ISLAND BEAUTY

Gov't To Distribute Books On Islands Shrubs, Trees

A comprehensive reference book, Native Trees and Shrubs of Prince Edward Island, has just been completed and will be put into distribution next week, Hon. Eugene Cullen, minister of agriculture, announced yesterday.

The 115-page book describes in detail 45 of the province's trees and the more common woodland shrubs and contains illustrations on the facing page in each case. These descriptions are concise and most informative and are written in non-technical language.

"This marks the first time that the province has had a text book of its own on native trees and woodland shrubs," said Mr. Cullen. "It should fill a long-felt need for a guide to our native trees. It will be of particular interest to school children in their study of botany and will enable them to identify the leaves they gather for class projects."

Provincial Foresters, Frank Gaudet and W. M. Profit, did a great deal of research before undertaking the writing, editing, and illustrating of this creditable publication.

In drawing the leaves, twigs and seeds of each species, the provincial foresters made the illustrations on one inch squared paper so pupils could reproduce the drawings more easily and get a better idea as to the actual size.

One page is devoted to the description of each tree with the opposite page being used for the illustrations. The common names of the trees and their botanical names are both given. Information as to the particular part of the province in which the tree is found and the conditions under which it grows is also given.

In addition there is a good index and a section explaining special terms. The book has a colored cover and is nicely bound.

The books will go into every school in Prince Edward Island, to special groups and to libraries, Mr. Cullen said. They will also be available on request to leaders of the Wolf Clubs, Brownies, Girl Guides and Boy Scouts.

The department of education will handle the distribution to the various schools throughout the province.

Test Drilling At Hillsboro Bridge Starts

Test drilling to "double check" the rock structure of the river bottom is now underway at the northern approach of the Hillsboro Bridge.

The tests are being carried out in the area where the bridge abutment will be constructed.

The abutments at either end of the bridge will be constructed of two bents of "H" piles with five piles in each bent. These piles will be 100 feet long.

The north abutment will be built first followed by the building of two center piers. The southern approach will be the last part of the substructure to be built.

The builder, Maritime Foundation Limited, has set early March as a tentative date for the start of construction. However, this will depend to some degree on ice conditions.

Deportation Appeal Lost By Young Haitian Couple

MONTREAL (CP)—Mr. Justice Roger Brossard in superior court Friday refused to grant a writ of prohibition against the minister of citizenship and immigration sought by a young Haitian on behalf of himself, his wife and infant daughter. The court action sought to prevent deportation.

His lordship held that the federal government has full and exclusive power to legislate in the matter of immigration and citizenship.

He said, however, that in view of the time of year "the actual date of deportation and its conditions will be so timed and fixed as not to add unnecessary hardship to the petitioner, his wife and child."

HERE SEVEN YEARS

His lordship noted that Jean Oreste Volcy had entered Canada Sept. 6, 1951, as a student with non-immigrant status for one year. Extensions had been made from time to time, the last expiring Sept. 1, 1957.

Volcy's wife, also from Haiti, was legally admitted to Canada March 16, 1957, as an entertainer with non-immigrant status for a period expiring Sept. 30, 1957. The couple were married Aug. 4, 1957, and a daughter was born to the Aug. 21, 1958.

The court said that in October, 1953, the minister stated Volcy and his wife entered Canada as non-immigrants and had remained here after ceasing to be such. The minister ordered them deported to Haiti.

ARGUMENT "FRIVOLOUS"

His lordship said arguments claiming the regulations were discriminatory against certain groups of Canadian citizens were, in his opinion, "frivolous and totally unfounded in law."

Volcy had contended that the deportation orders against the parents of a Canadian infant were "an illegal abuse of power and an absolute nullity as being contrary to public order, good morals and Christian charity."

His lordship said: "It is true the child born to the petitioner

Bedeque Ass'n Aids Delegate To Conference

BEDEQUE — The December meeting of the Bedeque Men's Association was held in the United Church hall recently. President Douglas MacFarlane had charge of the business session. Cyril MacFarlane, treasurer, and his wife is entitled, by reason of her birth having taken place in this country, to be a Canadian citizen. It is, however, equally true that this child, because she was born of Haitian citizens, is also entitled to be a Haitian citizen.

"It is not true that the deportation of her parents will deprive this child of her Canadian citizenship."

reported a balance on hand of $51.50.

The sum of $20 was voted to help defray the expenses of a delegate to the older boys conference to be held at Sackville, N. B. Ralph Callbeck brought up the subject of providing some guarantee of recompense to the societies providing meals for the association.

Zeger Salome suggested that all members who pay in advance for the full season be given a slight reduction and those who prefer to pay monthly be charged a small additional fee. No decision was made and the executive was instructed to consider the matter and bring in some recommendation next night of meeting.

A nominating committee of Heber Myers, Herbert Craig, and Kenneth Mutart was appointed to name the slate of officers for next year.
