EDUCATIONAL COLUMN

Edited by Inspector McCormac.

EDUCATION OF THE BLIND.

In the last annual report of the Board of Managers of the Halifax School for the Blind we notice the following paragraphs referring to the attitude of this province in regard to the question of educating the blind.

"Five pupils, one girl and four boys, from the Province of Prince Edward Island, are in attendance. The number should be larger, and no doubt could be were the Government and Legislature of Prince Edward Island to give the question of the education of the blind the consideration to which it is justly entitled. Were Prince Edward Island to make no provision for the free education of those with sight we should not be able to question her policy with respect to those who are blind, but whereas in educational matters she proudly holds the position of the banner province of Canada, it is somewhat paradoxical that she occupies such an unenviable position with respect to the education of her boys and girls who are deprived of sight. We most respectfully recommend this matter to the earnest and thoughtful consideration of the public-spirited men and women of Prince Edward Island.

"Nova Scotia and New Brunswick provides for the free education of all the blind of those provinces. Newfoundland makes provision for the education and training in this school of eight pupils. Last year there were 112 pupils in attendance at this school. Of these 66 were from Nova Scotia, 34 from New Brunswick, 5 from P. E. Island and 8 from Newfoundland. The teaching staff consists of eight resident and ten non-resident teachers."

EASTERN TEACHER'S ASSOCIATION.

The first annual convention of the teachers of the eastern half of the province will be held at Montague Bridge on Thursday and Friday, 28th and 29th of June next. A very instructive and interesting programme will be presented and it is to be hoped that many teachers will be present. An entertainment will be given on the evening of the first day.

THE SCHOOL GROUNDS.

How many school-houses stand, small and weather-beaten, beside the country road! How familiar the grounds about the buildings are! They consist of an eighth or a quarter of an acre of land, selected possibly because it was good for little else—not a tree to offer a hand's breadth of shade, or a shrub or vine to break the monotony or to hide the unsightly outbuildings. Does it seem, then, a poor, insignificant thing, this plain little building and its patch of barren ground? It is the most tremendously significant thing in the whole history of our country. Under its roof the judge's son and the cobbler's boy fare alike and grow up to know and respect each other. Men whose only educational advantages were a few years in these rude benches have won success in every department of human activity. Is it, then, unreasonable to urge that the rural school grounds be made more attractive by the planting of trees and shrubs? With little expense the bare ground about the building can be converted into a place of beauty. The pupils, themselves, with the aid of teachers and friends can do it. Is it not a work well worth undertaking? Certainly it is, for the growth of the imagination and the artistic nature will result, the finer sense will be developed and the character of those who do the work will be straightened. A love of beauty will be imparted which will last through life and manifest itself in the homes which these pupils shall build in future years. The work of adorning the grounds of rural school houses is one which will exercise an important and lasting influence for the good of the national life. Teachers, pupils, trustees, ratepayers, friends of education, co-operate in the matter of beautifying the school grounds. From almost every rural school have gone forth into the world men and women who have won success in life. Many of these, if they were made acquainted with your plans, would be glad, I am sure, to share with the pupils of today in the honor and pleasure of embellishing the grounds of the old school house.

Any convenient day will be appropriate to carry out this work. The 30th Regulation of the Board of Education says: "Some day in May should be set apart by the trustees of every school throughout the Island for the purpose of planting shade trees, making flower beds, and otherwise improving and beautifying the school grounds. Arbor Day, when observed in this way, will be considered as a holiday."

LITERATURE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.

A very interesting paper on "Children's Literature" was recently read before the Montreal Literary Society by a talented young lady, Miss Ferguson. The paper opened by quoting the words of Prof. Elliott, of Harvard, who said that it was always through children that the best work is to be done for the uplifting of any community. The writer went on to point out the great value of love for reading which should be encouraged in all children. This taste may be implanted by the mother reading aloud to her little ones. Children will listen with the keenest pleasure to a story when they are too little or too careless to want to read to themselves. Some of the happiest memories, as many people know, are of the mother reading and telling stories to the boys and girls. Picture books are recommended as interesting children in events and impressing them upon their minds. Miss Ferguson mentioned a number of books suitable for children, but the part of the paper most interesting was that dealing with Canadian literature, which is apt to be overlooked. Nothing should be left undone to encourage a national spirit in the children of the Dominion, and the books of our own best writers should have a prominent place in their affections. Among those named as prominent in Canadian literature were Parker, Kirby, McLennan, Frechette, Drummond, Fraser, Bliss Carmen and Charles G. D. Roberts. The late Grant Allan and Robert Barr must be included in the list of Canadian writers, and Mrs. Mary Hartwell Catherwood, although not a Canadian, has given us some stirring stories of the people, "The Romance of Dollard," for instance, should be read by every Canadian. Edgar Maurice Garth, Henry Cecil Walsh and many others might be added to this list of writers.

In conclusion Miss Ferguson said: "Let us then encourage the reading of our own Canadian literature, for to it we look for help to set aside these racial distinctions and strifes which unscrupulous politicians and newspapers are stirring up throughout the land."

—The consul of Sweden and Norway in St. John's, Newfoundland, offers a reward to any and all persons who may find articles connected with the Polar expedition of Herr Andree, the aeronaut. The reward is especially directed to whalers bound for Davis' Strait, which connects Baffin Bay with the Atlantic and to fishermen proceeding to the coast of Northern Labrador next month. The impression is that Andree may possibly have reached some region touched by Newfoundland whalers or fishermen from which relief might be obtained from the Eskimos.

You Will Find Griffiths' Menthol Liniment, Taken Internally, and Applied to the Chest and Back Between the Shoulders, Superior to Any Other Remedy.

Mrs. Jas. Sutton of McNab-street N. Hamilton, writes: Last winter our boy Edward had kept us awake several nights with a hacking cough. Cough mixtures did not relieve him. One night, when putting him to bed, we gave him several drops of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment on sugar, and rubbed his chest. He did not cough that night, and in less than two days, with continued treatment, was completely cured. Griffiths' Menthol Liniment is a pure emulsion of Menthol and is the only non-poisonous liniment made. 25 and 75 cents.

THIS WAS A MIRACLE

A Woman Known to be Dying, Brought Back to Life.

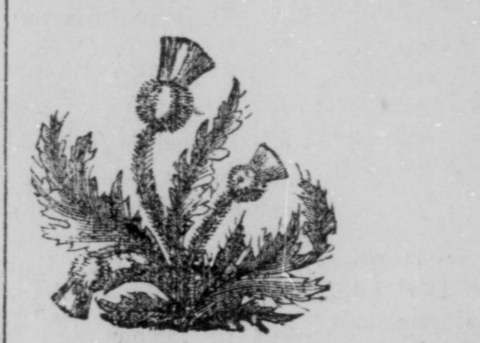

Diabetes Had Brought Mrs. Allbright to the Brink of the Grave—Death Expected Daily—Yet Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

LITTLE RIVER, N. B., May 14.—Never in the history of this district has there occurred such a startling event, as the remarkable—almost miraculous recovery of Mrs. D. Allbright, after Diabetes had brought her so low that life seemed actually on the point of dying out.

This event is certainly worthy of all the great importance attached to it, for it opened a new era in medical science. It proved conclusively, and beyond all contradiction, that man possesses a means of conquering Diabetes—a disease that formerly killed every person it attacked.

Mrs. Allbright was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Her case was the worst ever known in this district. She used to swell, and bloat to an enormous extent, and her agony never abated. No sooner, however, had she begun to take Dodd's Kidney Pills than a great change set in. The bloating ceased; gradually the pain left her; her sleep became sound and unbroken; her appetite returned, and with it came strength such as she had not known for years. Writing of her recovery she says: "Before I thoroughly realized it, I was well again—well and strong, healthy and happy, although only a short time before, my friends were convinced I could not live."

This case is a fair example of the wonderful power of Dodd's Kidney Pills over Diabetes. It is entirely unnecessary to state that these pills are the only known cure for this disease. That fact has been proved thousands of times, and is admitted by everybody.
