

Side Council To Ask Estimates On Repairs To Old Post Office Building

His Worship, Mayor Henry W. Wedge told the press at the conclusion of a brief meeting of the Town Council last evening that the building committee had decided to ask for estimates regarding the cost of repair and restoration of the old post office building on Summer Street. This will give the committee an idea of the average estimated cost of necessary repair work, should it be decided to rebuild the old post office for permanent use, one of the recommendations put forward by architects G. K. Pickard and J. F. Toombs previous to the last council meeting February 25th.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

The lads taking all the bows in Summerside this week are Jimmie Grady's Midgets, who won the Town's first Island hockey crown Saturday night after a nip-and-tuck struggle with the Charlottetown aggregation. All through the play-off trail our local Midgets have shown a disposition to keep on fighting when things were going against them.

Correspondence read included three applications for the position of assessor, one for town constable and one for the position of reading light meters. Four councillors were present, with councillors Steele and MacDougall unable to attend because of other business.

Evidence Completed In Potato Cases At S'ide

The repeal of the section of the P. E. I. Evidence Act under which several witnesses have declined to answer questions on grounds of self-incrimination during recent hearings of three charges against the Summerside firm of Simmons and MacFarlane Ltd., was forecast last evening as the hearing concluded before Magistrate R. S. Hinton, Q.C.

In making this forecast, Mr. J. O. C. Campbell, Q.C., counsel for the accused, noted that the legislature now in session had apparently taken note of the events at the hearings, and has already given first reading to a bill repealing section 6 of the Evidence Act, and substituting a section similar to the wording of the Criminal Code, thus bringing the act in line with legislation in the other Provinces.

While the amendment does not apply to cases already in progress, Mr. Campbell noted that the repeal of this former loop hole in the Evidence Act means that this principle of the American fifth amendment is at an end so far as future cases under the P. E. I. Evidence Act is concerned. During the hearings last evening two witnesses declined to answer questions of Mr. J. Johnston, Counsel for the Potato Marketing Board, on grounds of self-incrimination. The first of these, Mr. Clifford Francis, an employee of Simmons and MacFarlane, when sworn was asked, "What are your duties?" but declined to answer on the grounds that "my answer might incriminate me or the corporation accused."

While the Banham and Midget games were as close as you could wish to see, the Pee-wee and Paperweight battles were very one-sided. Round scores of 10-1 and 18-1 can only mean that our youngsters do not get proper practice, and we suspect that having them play through the seasons in cross-section rinks is the villain in the situation. When ten players are slugging it out in such a small space, they do not get a chance to develop their stick-handling, nor do they get enough skating to give them "legs" for the play-off rounds which take place on the full-size surface.

We know the problem of those whose job it is to give these little fellows practice during the winter. They have a very crowded schedule, and if they did not divide the ice area into thirds, they would not be able to accommodate all the boys who want to play. In the last analysis it is better to give all the kids a chance to participate in this program even if we can't develop good teams. But we think some arrangement might be worked out whereby the best of the Paperweights and Pee-wees could have a practice at least once a week on the full-size surface.

Break At S'ide Bowling Alleys

A break at the Capitol Bowling Alleys made sometime Saturday night or early on Sunday morning netted the intruders about $100.00 in cash. Gaining entrance through a window on the south of the building, the thieves opened a cigarette vending machine and took what cash there was in it but did not bother to loot the machine, which was well stocked with cigarettes. Employees of the alleys discovered the break on Sunday and police are investigating.

Death In U.S. Of Miss Maud Wisner

The death of Miss Maud Wisner, formerly a resident of Alberton, occurred Saturday night at a nursing home in Quincy, Mass., following many years of poor health. She was eighty-one years of age.

When travel on Prince Edward Island was still in the early stages of development, the Wisner family came from Cherry Valley to Hills River. From there they moved to the nearby town of Alberton where Mrs. Wisner was the highly respected proprietress of a well kept boarding house. This property is now the residence of Mr. Winston Currie. After some years she and her daughters lived at the corner of Church and Alberton Streets. At this time Miss Wisner was a clerk in Rogers' store.

Some thirty years ago Miss Wisner moved to Wollaston, Mass., but as long as health permitted she made frequent visits to Hills River. While resident in Alberton, Miss Wisner was a valued member of the Methodist choir. To the United Church she presented a pulpit Bible in memory of her mother and sister.

She is the last surviving member of her family. The funeral will be held from Alberton United Church on Wednesday at 2 p.m. with interment in Woodlawn cemetery.
