

Prison Sentences Given S'ide Fair

OF THE GUARDIAN
Francis Joseph "Peanuts" Arsenault, 29, was sentenced to three years and Wayne Joseph "Flat Top" Crow, 38, to two years in Dorchester Penitentiary yesterday for breaking and entering MacLeod's Store, Albany on the morning of Dec. 30.

The two Sunnyside men were sentenced in Prince County magistrate's court by Magistrate Charles MacDonald. They both had pleaded guilty to the break and enter charges yesterday for breaking and entering MacLeod's Store, Albany on the morning of Dec. 30.

Crow Prosecutor George McMahon said he had received instructions from the attorney general to ask for "stiff sentences" for both men because of the seriousness of the incident. Mr. McMahon said the store owner Alastair MacLeod fired several shots from a revolver to scatter the men from the building after they had been discovered.

Crow came out with a pitchfork, but when he saw MacLeod with a gun dropped the pitchfork and headed toward MacLeod. He was then arrested by the police. You haven't got the guts," MacLeod said Arsenault once in a while.

Crow's previous record included a term in the Sunnyside Jail for a long string of convictions from 1948 to 1957 including breaking and entering and assault.

The magistrate gave Crow a three year term, and said he considered Crow to be truthful.

Arsenault told the court that he has had chances for good employment in the Sunnyside since 1960, "but then the record would come up and there would no longer be a chance."

'New Blood' Rumored For Election S'ide

SUMMERIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

Rumors that some "new blood" will participate in the race for mayor and the three council seats are circulating widely with 47 days to go before the civic elections are held.

The election will be held Feb. 25 and rumors are heard that Mayor J. Ernest Morrison will have at least three opponents for the key position should he elect to run for a second year.

When questioned as to whether he will re-appear, Mayor Morrison, who succeeded W.A. Currie in the key civic post two years ago, after serving a number of terms as a councillor, said "I don't like to say now; I haven't made up my mind yet."

He added, however, "as far as I know now, I feel it is only fair that I should, seeing it is centennial year."

Herbert Schurman, the other candidate returned to the council after an absence of a few years. Mr. Schurman refused to comment on his action, the newspaper says.

The two year terms of the other three members of the town council, Garnet McKinnon, Leonard Wood, west ward; and D. Alex Macdonald, east ward, expire next year.

The mayor failed to comment on his action, the newspaper says. He added it learned from one source that an incident in Wednesday's game had annoyed Montreal Canadiens led to Bower's annoyance.

At one stage of the game, Canadiens rookie John Ferguson sped across the Toronto goal mouth, brushing against Bower, causing him to head into the boards. When play halted, Bower skated toward Ferguson with his left hand, and gave him a friendly pat with his right hand when he saw the rival player was all right.

"Imlach, according to this source, told Bower that his son was between the goalposts to stay there. When there was a further reference to the episode, Bower reportedly steamed off the ice with words to the effect that he would play the game his own way."

The Hawks, in first place for the first half of the season, won six of the 12 spots on the two teams, announced Monday night. The Hawks, in first place for the first half of the season, won six of the 12 spots on the two teams, announced Monday night.

Bower To Miss Weekend Game

TORONTO (CP) — Veteran goal tender Johnny Bower of Toronto Maple Leafs will miss two weekend games with Boston Bruins and next week's practice sessions because of an injured left hand, announced Thursday.

He will be replaced in Toronto nets by alternate goalie Don Simmons.

Bower has a swelling and bruising of his left hand, paralyzing his index finger.

"I have seen this about three times in the last three weeks," said Toronto's coach Punch Imlach to his left hand reason for Bower's absence.

The Globe says Bower "jumped a gilly" into the Leafs' dressing room on Monday before Thursday's practice session.

He was to end and hurled his equipment to the floor.

Guidance Of God Is Topic

ALBERTON — "The Guidance of God" was Rev. Keith Hobson's sermon theme at Alberton week of prayer service Thursday evening.

"In guiding us God sometimes says no, sometimes yes, but always He leads us. We are living in a time when men and women are beset with a lack of purpose and by frustration. This should never be for those who are children of God," said Mr. Hobson.

"Don't expect God to give you a blue print of your whole life," he warned. "So do it with all your might as well as you can. The people who take one step to achieve something. Lives are changed, faith is strengthened, usefulness is increased and God is glorified."

Looking forward, the way may appear tempestuous, but in looking backward we see evidence of his guiding grace," he said.

Worship was conducted by Rev. W. Ness. A song, "The Great Thou Art" was sung by Rev. David MacDonald.

This evening worship will be led by Rev. Peter Durck.
