Hearing Adjudged On Manslaughter Charge

The preliminary hearing of Gordon Carr, Victoria, charged with manslaughter opened yesterday morning before Stenard Magistrate Gilbert A. Gaudet and was continued until 5 p. m., when an adjournment was ordered until 4 p. m. on July 26th.

Mr. Somerled Trainor of the firm of MacPhee and Trainor appeared for the accused and Mr. John P. Nicholson appeared for the Crown. The charge arose out of the death of Ellsworth Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Ferguson of Carr, paid who was struck and almost instantly killed at 12:30 on the morning of June 25, last, by a truck driven by the accused.

At the morning session the evidence of Cons. D. W. Thorston and Cpl. A. L. Johnston of the R. C. M. P. was given, dealing with measurements indicating the relative positions of three cars in close proximity to the accident and the location of the truck involved after it had traversed a delineated distance immediately before and directly beyond the spot where the deceased is said to have been struck. A number of photographs were exhibited showing the cars involved with the truck ditched and overturned on the side of the highway in conformity with the evidence as to the direction being travelled.

Evidence given at the afternoon session showed that two cars were parked on the right side of the highway close together, back to back, while a third car was parked on the left side close by. The situation arose over a tire change being necessary on the Ferguson car.

Earl Francis's Evidence Earl Francis gave evidence that he was hailed by Ferguson and asked for the loan of a jack, which he removed from his trunk. Two of Francis's car wheels were on pavement and two on gravel. Witness saw another car coming from the direction he came from. Car was driven by Mr. Holmes who stopped and gave him a jack. Holmes drove to other side of road got out of car. Holmes' wheels were all on the pavement not over three feet from Ferguson car. Witness heard flashlight on the jack and car was half jacked when truck came along. He heard noise as if he had struck other car. Up to the time witness saw the truck, Ferguson was working at jack, stooped over; he was changing the right rear tire.

Witness said he saw Sheldon Hardy first then Gordon Carr, who asked "Who was it?" "Carr seemed sober to me, I did not smell liquor." Questioned by Mr. Trainor witness said she saw Carr at the dance about 10 p. m. he was sitting down. She heard no crash but felt the car falling off the jack. "Carr was coming up over the bank of the ditch when I first saw him. In my opinion he was perfectly sober and I did not smell any liquor," the witness concluded.

Mrs. Trowsdale's Evidence Mrs. Trowsdale stated that she was in the Ferguson car when the flat tire occurred, and remembered Holm coming along. She heard Ferguson ask him if he had a bumper jack, and his reply was "Yes I have one." He then drove past. As far as witness knew, he did not get out of his car then.

Witness further stated, "The first knowledge I had of the truck was when I heard it approaching. I was watching for it to go by on the left side, and did not see it until they passed on the right hand side. There was no sound of brakes or horn. I felt the car slip off jack with at thump just as the truck passed and got out to see what had happened. The truck was in the ditch."

The party included former Marliners from as far west as Vancouver, B. C., and north to Flin Flon, Man. All four of Canada's Atlantic provinces are included in their destinations. Some had not visited the east for over fifty years and others, who are married to westerners or Marliners who served with the armed forces and met for the first time while in the services.

Several have made trips previously on these special trains which have been operated from Western Canada to the Marliners for the past four seasons, the first one being known as the "Blue-nose Special", the second, "Spud Island", and last year the special bore the name of "Herring Choker". This year Newfoundland is included.

Those making the trip on the special train included, for Prince Edward Island, Mrs. K. Briggs and her young son Albert, of Edmonton, Alta., en route to Summerside; C. E. Chandler and Mrs. Chandler of Albright, Alta., destined for Charlottetown. Mrs. Chandler was born at Wheatley River. James N. Carter, Pitt Meadows, B. C., to Winslow where he was born. MONTEAL, July 23 — (CP) — The Earl of Elgin and Kincardine has arrived in Canada to attend centennial celebrations for the Ontario County of Elgin, named for his grandfather, Governor-General of Canada when the country was founded.

COWES, Isle of Wight — (CP) — The first sea trout caught in the Medina River — caught itself. An angler started his outdoor motor suddenly and the fish leaped into the boat. It weighed 28 ounces.

Questioned by Mr. Trainor witness said two faulty jacks were under the car when the third was inserted between them. He saw approaching car which he signalled from the centre of the road, he would say the approaching car had dimmers on, and no change was made in lights. "Holmes said he had been sick and for us to use the jack and he would sit in his car. He mentioned giving more light and backed his car closer to the jacked up car. Carr and his companion Hardy, walked all right. Detected smell of beer or liquor on Carr."

Miss Crosby's Evidence Miss Catherine Crosby gave evidence as to having been at dance at Bonshaw with Ferguson. She knew Carr but did not see him at the dance. Left the hall at 12:10 a. m., got out of car when flat tire was noticed following deceased; two other ladies remained in rear seat of car. "He loosened nut before car jacked up. Jack would not work" witness said. "I stood on ditch side of our car when Francis came up, then got in the front seat alone. Heard noise of a car coming and figured it was from the dance. Saw truck going by, and saw it going into ditch. Saw Carr after the accident. Don't know who was driving the truck. Did not see any sign of liquor on Carr. Was misting rain. Only a few minutes elapsed between the arrival of Francis's car and the truck."

Questioned by Mr. Trainor, witness stated she saw Holm's car approaching far away, showing bright lights then dimmed; saw his car stop near the Ferguson car and also saw the Holm car back behind Ferguson's car. She saw Ferguson working behind his car and saw him again, lying on the road.

Questioned by Mr. Nicholson, witness said "Carr spoke to me after and asked me what happened. He was all right."

Mrs. Trowsdale's Evidence Mrs. Trowsdale stated that she was in the Ferguson car when the flat tire occurred, and remembered Holm coming along. She heard Ferguson ask him if he had a bumper jack, and his reply was "Yes I have one." He then drove past. As far as witness knew, he did not get out of his car then.

Presentation & Address To Dr. & Mrs. Ashford

Rev. Dr. H. E. D. Ashford and Mrs. Ashford were agreeably surprised at the annual Sunday School picnic of Trinity United Church which was held at Dalvay yesterday, when an address and presentation was included in the programme. Mrs. Ashford was presented with a silver tray and a cheque for a substantial sum was handed to Dr. Ashford.

The address was read by Mr. G. Reg Howard and the presentation to Dr. Ashford was made by Mr. Jack McNair, the presentation to Mrs. Ashford being made by Mr. George Newman.

The gifts were fittingly acknowledged by Dr. Ashford who summed up by saying, "Several people have mentioned to me that I would not like Edmonton as well as Charlottetown. My answer is, I don't intend to try."

Dr. Ashford, who expects to preach his farewell sermon at Trinity next Sunday night, has made arrangements to leave on Monday to take up his new charge in Edmonton, Alta. The picnic which followed the accepted routine of sports, swimming and good things to eat, was largely attended by children and parents, and was a most enjoyable affair.

Text of Address "Reverend Dr. Ashford and Mrs. Ashford: "We, the congregation of Trinity Church, realizing that this is the last occasion, with the exception of the Church services next Sunday, that you will be with us as our pastor, feel our hearts deeply stirred. We think with pleasure of the last three years, as you have led us in the affairs of our Church, but we sincerely regret that this happy relation is so soon to terminate.

"When almost four years ago you came here with the cavalcade and preached, some of our leaders realized the value of the work you would render excellent service as our guide in spiritual affairs. Your record as a missionary in the home field and in the foreign field, your record as a chaplain with the Air Force, your record as a Superintendent of Missions for the United Church in Western Canada, all led us to expect great things of you, and in those expectations we have not been disappointed. When a year later you were inducted into this pastoral charge, your forceful and engaging personality became at once apparent.

"Anyone who looks over our church property today, and compares it with what it was four years ago, will see everywhere a part of a monument to you and to your work. Today we have a church manse of which we need be in no way ashamed. Our ministers have studies or offices that we feel are second to none. Even the grounds about the manse have been improved by the labour of both yourself and Mrs. Ashford. Approaching the Church from Prince Street, we are impressed by the improvement made by the new steps and entrances. Our organist has a studio which any musician might envy. Inside the Church itself the brightened walls and ceiling, the rich carpets of the aisles and pulpit platform all remind us of your untiring effort to have this Sanctuary a fitting place for the services of worship. The beauty of the Lord's House is a meaningful phrase as we look about.

"But these improvements, made at a cost of over thirty thousand dollars, raised under your leadership, are material things. They are the temporal things of which the Scripture speaks; but it is the things that are not seen that are the abiding things. During your ministry our givings to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund have grown from $8,650 to approximately $13,000; our receipts for the local church work to approximately $24,000 a year. Our membership has been increased by seven hundred and fifty persons, a congregation in itself.

"Our societies have enlarged their membership and increased their usefulness. Our Church School has been going from strength to strength. Two years ago this summer, as a result of your effort, our Church was visited by Reverend Charles Templeton, who conducted successful missions throughout the Province while acting as our summer supply.

"The gains from all this work will for years to come serve to keep your memory green in Trinity Church. These are the memories that crowd in upon us on this occasion. Time does not permit that we recall what you have contributed to the life of our community. Suffice it to say that in the Church, in the Community, and in the Province, your place will be most difficult to fill.

"Now as you go on vacation, and as in September you take up new tasks in the historic MacDougall Church, Edmonton, we wish to assure you both that our thoughts go with you, and our prayers that God's richest blessing may rest upon you and yours will follow you. We ask you to accept as a token of our appreciation these gifts — one may disappear with the passing of the days, the other we hope will remain with you to the end of your lives.

"Signed on behalf of the Congregation of Trinity Church."

BRACKLEY POINT W. I. The July meeting of Brackley Point Institute met at the home of Mrs. Gregor MacCallum on the evening of July 3rd.

In the absence of both president and vice-president, Mrs. Fenton McLeure was appointed to conduct the meeting. After the usual opening procedure, roll call was answered by passing in get-well cards, and minutes were read and approved.

The members were pleased to learn that there were no sick calls during the month. The new sick committee appointed for the following four months was Mrs. George Hughes and Mrs. Howard Cudmore.

The school visitor reported that the hall organ had been placed in the school for the assistance of the pupils with their music. An interesting letter was read from the adopted Institute in England expressing thanks for parcels received, and the sum of $43.00 was collected from the district for the Salvation Army.

It was suggested that the Institute sponsor a Shur-Gain Amateur Cavalcade in the early fall, and the secretary was asked to make inquiries regarding same. Collection was $2.70.

After the meeting adjourned the hostess served a delicious lunch. The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Hughes, where roll call will be answered by passing in "pennies equal to the size of the shoe."
