HAPPENINGS

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. MacMillan were in Saint John for the weekend.

Mrs. Sam Kays entertained Friday evening at her home at a shower for Mrs. Helen Callaghan. The rooms were attractively decorated with spring flowers and yellow candles. The bride elect was presented with a gift of cut crystal.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Maurice Block and Mrs. Norman Stewart. Those assisting in serving were Miss Lily Kays, Mrs. A. Ghiz, and Mrs. J. Ready. Piano music was furnished by Miss Hazel Kays.

Miss Mary Gavin, R.N., is on a short visit to her sister, Miss Elizabeth Gavin, Tignish.

Mrs. Jack Pierce, 44 Victory Avenue, gave a stork shower last Saturday in honor of Mrs. Leigh Walton. The latter leaves Charlottetown at the end of March and will be in St. John, New Brunswick, for several months.

Mrs. Earl Clark has returned to her home in Brackley after spending a very enjoyable visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Merrill Clark, and grandson Paul at Ville La Salle, Montreal. Mrs. Clark also visited friends in Roxboro.

HAMPTON W.I.

On Monday evening March 3rd, the Hampton W.I. were welcome guests of Mrs. J. H. Myers. The president, Mrs. Gordon Villett called the meeting to order, after which the ode was sung and the collect was then repeated in unison.

The minutes were then read by Mrs. George Dunsford (in the absence of the secretary), approved and signed. Roll call was answered by 10 members, one new member being welcomed. On motion it was agreed to send $1.00 to Home Economics scholarship fund.

Correspondence was read and discussed. Plans were made for Red Cross Canvas and Red Cross work distributed. It was agreed to donate a sum of money to help shingle hall roof.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Before remodelling a room, assess its natural advantages and disadvantages. Windows and doors should be used to full advantage, while low-ceilinged spaces can be used for tables, storage chests and benches.

ELLEN'S DIARY

The Recipe? Yes, Ellen, That Must Be A Good One

"We may as well face the situation squarely" James offered soberly to a visiting farmer this evening, "where stabling is concerned the season is only, we may say, about half gone."

"Yes" our company agreed "even the best of springs won't take the stock off to grass before the latter part of May. Oh, some of the young animals may be out before that, but usually they'd be as well kept in."

"But this is going to be an early spring, they say" the younger farmer from the house across the lane smiled. "Wasn't this like an April day! There's little depth of frost in the ground — if any. Aren't some harvesting their parsnips — just moving aside the snow and digging them as easily as if it were the fall?"

"That could be so too" our visitor nodded. "But still it could be a long spring."

"Yes, and pretty frosty, too" James commented. "Anyway, we can reckon on three months of indoor feeding yet for the cattle."

"And the hay in our loft is down to the cross-beam" the visitor chuckled ruefully. "And that says the feeding season should be better than half gone! And bales don't give the same security that was in the unbaled hay. With it, the last half was more lasting than the first."

"You'll have plenty of grain" the younger farmer offered.

"With the hay crop as it was" James said, "the winter has taught more than one farmer the value of his straw. With it, and a bite of grain, and some roots, it's amazing how well you can rough young cattle through."

"I give my calf a bite of straw now and then" Mack observed. "I girted her today and by the tape, she's pounds heavier than when I bought her. We must" he nodded to his grandfather "take time to weigh her one of these days."

And March summoned a pair of jays from the spruces in the valley below, to come up to the ward and the president presented her pin.

Mrs. E. Bernard, librarian, reported briefly on the chairs which have been ordered for the library.

Upon motion it was decided to place the name of a deceased member the late Mrs. Lester Sherren in the Book of Remembrance.

It being Education week, Mrs. (Rev.) C. R. Moase, a former schoolteacher gave an interesting and informative talk, her subject dealing mainly with the problems of teachers and suggesting some remedies.

The program committee, Mrs. C. B. Matheson and Mrs. G. I. MacKay then took over and a panel, (shaped after the popular television program, "Fighting Words") was presented with Nathan Cohen on the person of Mrs. MacKay, who introduced panelists Mary MacKay, Margaret Carew, Ruth Bagnall, Joyce Moase and Cecilia MacQuaid.

A spiritual discussion followed on the subject, "Is television harmful to children." After twenty minutes of lively argument pro and con, Nathan Cohen waved "her" hand and the panelist were off the screen.

A really interesting discussion followed with everyone taking part on the merits and faults of television.

As our next regular meeting falls on Easter Monday it was decided to postpone, it for one week.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by committee in charge. Meeting closed with the "Queen."

PLEASANT CIRCLE W.I.

The February meeting of Pleasant Circle W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. E. Noonan with an attendance of eight members. Meeting opened with Mary Stewart collect.

Roll call was answered by original poems composed by the school pupils from Grade I to Grade VIII and judged by Mrs. Alban Keough and Mrs. Walker who had quite a time deciding the winning poet or poetess in each grade.

Prizes of ball point pens were given to the winner by the teacher, Baby and Get Well cards were sent out by Mrs. Muttart.
