DIED. At New Zealand, January 1st, 1892, after a lingering illness of two years, Brigadier, the beloved wife of James Cantwell, Postmaster, leaving a sorrowful husband, one son and three daughters to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother.

Oh, why have you left us, dear mother? Shall we gaze on thy face no more? That face never mirrored by stern anger, Now brighter on heaven's bright shore.

We know that thy soul is now happy, Enjoying the glories above; Look, then, down on us you've forsaken, Who cherish your memory in love.

Ah, yes! we shall one day behold thee, More beautiful and loving than here; And enjoy our heavenly Creator, Whom on earth we there and revere.

We will visit thy grave in St. Alexis, And will guard it and keep it so green; On it we'll strew flowers, dear mother, No prettier garb shall be seen.

'Tis hard, very hard, to part with thee, Our hearts are saddened and sore; But we know that thy spirit will aid us To meet on the gl'rious shore.
