

Temperance Address to Lieutenant Governor Macdonald.

To the HONORABLE ANDREW A. McDONALD, Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars assembled in semi-annual session at Mount Stewart, and themselves from this their first meeting since your appointment to the responsible position of Governor of this Province to extend to you as a fellow worker in, and true friend of, the cause of temperance, our fraternal greeting, and to convey to you an expression of our gratification in knowing that a distinguished friend of temperance whose influence and example has been prominently before the people of this Province for many years past, has been appointed to that worthy and honorable position.

It will be scarcely necessary to assure Your Honor that the object of our order is to promote temperance habits and sentiments, to save the young, and to reclaim those who have already become slaves to strong drink; and, in common with all temperance friends, to hasten on the day when the law, upheld by public sentiment, will prohibit the traffic in intoxicating drinks.

In this work we feel assured we have the sympathy and support of Your Honor, and therefore we hail with pleasure and congratulate the people of this Province on your appointment.

Accept an assurance of our best wishes towards yourself, Mrs. McDonald and family, and that you may long be spared to enjoy the distinguished honors you have won, and that you may ever be surrounded by Constitutional Advisors, who, by promoting Temperance and the due observance of the law, will advance the prosperity of the people, is our hearty wish. That your term of office may be productive of much good to the province, is the sincere wish of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars of P. E. Island.

J. C. UNDERHAY, G. W. C. T. JOHN A. LAWSON, G. W., Sec.

To the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars—J. C. UNDERHAY, G. W. C. T.; J. A. LAWSON, G. W., Secretary.

I thank you sincerely for the address you have presented me from this important semi-annual session of the Grand Lodge, and for the fraternal greetings it conveys from your association and the societies it represents. I am pleased, indeed, to have this expression of your united gratification that a fellow worker in the great cause of temperance has been chosen to fill the honorable position of Lieutenant-Governor of this Province.

I have long known that the design of your Order, is to promote temperance habits and sentiments—to save the young from falling—to reclaim the intemperate, and increase the respect for the law, which is such an important factor in enforcing its proper observance. Such objects and aims have ever claimed my sympathy, and enlisted my support, and whatever increased influence my present position has given me, will I trust, on all suitable occasions, be used to enforce both by precept and example, those ennobling principles which your Order in common, with all other temperance associations, is earnestly striving to practice and inculcate.

I also thank you cordially, for your good wishes for Mrs. Macdonald and our family, who are all strenuous advocates of temperance in all things.

A. A. MACDONALD, Lieutenant-Governor. Government House, Jan. 9, 1885.

The Artillery Competition at Quebec.

PRIZES AWARDED.

To-day Major Irving received from the Secretary of the Dominion Artillery Association the prizes awarded to the Detachments from Nos. 1 and 2 Batteries of the Island Brigade of Garrison Artillery, at the recent meeting at Quebec. They are as follows:—

Table with 2 columns: Prize description and Amount. Includes items like 'Shifting Ordnance', '1st prize, "A" shift', '4th prize, "B" shift', '40 Pr. Rifled Gun Practice', '2nd Aggregate, No. 1 Battery', 'Individual Prizes', 'Corpl. Connolly', 'Sergt. McKinnon', 'Lieut. Longworth', 'Sergt. Heartz', '64 Pr. Gun Practice', 'Lieut. Longworth', 'Corpl. Connolly', 'Sergt. Heartz'.

It will be remembered that the forty pounder is a breech-loading, rifled gun, with the drill and working of which—being rather complicated—the detachments were totally unacquainted, in fact had never seen a gun of that nature before. Everything considered, the Brigade are to be congratulated on their success.

The Tichborne Case.

The San Francisco, Cal., Examiner of the 7th inst., publishes a long interview with Edmund Orton, who returned on the last steamer from Australia, where he went at the instance of Miss Georgina Baring, daughter of one of the Baring brothers, celebrated London bankers, for the purpose of identifying Arthur Orton, who is confined in Paramatta lunatic asylum at Sydney, N. S. W. He states that he did identify him as his brother, and is therefore thoroughly convinced that the Tichborne claimant, recently discharged from prison in London, is really Roger Tichborne, heir of the Tichborne estate. The real Arthur Orton, now in Australia, will be taken to London to further establish his identity.

REV. D. A. STEELE, of Amherst, N. S., has been prosecuted with $250 by his congregation.

Crime in the City.

We publish below, a statement of convictions made in the Stipendiary Magistrate's court, from the 1st Jan., 1877, to the 31st Dec. 1884. The statement also includes the number of cases sent for trial to the Supreme Court.

By it, a steady decrease of crime in the city is shown. Only in one class is a large increase noticeable, and that class of offenses—breaches of City by-laws—is petty. The Temperance advocates will be pleased to see the constant decrease in the number of drunkards convicted since 1877. The year '77 appears to have been one of remarkable inebriety. In that year no less than seven hundred and twenty-nine persons were convicted and fined for drunkenness, while in the year 1884 only two hundred and twenty-nine persons were convicted. The year 1881 was the most temperate on record. Only one hundred and ninety-three persons were convicted for being drunk during that year. The crime of larceny has decreased from fifty-three convictions in 1877 in the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court, to nine in 1884. In 1877 ten thieves were sent for trial in the Supreme Court, but in 1884 no serious robberies occurred. The offences committed came under the heading of petty larceny, and were disposed of by the Stipendiary Magistrate himself. A steady decrease in actions of assault has also taken place. In the year '77 sixty-six convictions for larceny were made, while in the year 1884 only twenty-nine came before the court. In all other classes a steady and pleasing decrease in crime has taken place, as may be seen by this statement:—

Table with 2 columns: Year and Number of convictions. Rows include Drunkenness, Larceny sent to Supreme Court, Breach of License Law, C. T. Act, Vagrancy, Trespass, Breach of Merchant Shipping Act, Assault, Keeping and Frequenting Brothel, Nuisance, Non-obedience, Forgetting with Police, Obtaining property under false pretences, Abuse and profane language, Breach of City By-laws, Other offences, Sent to Supreme Court.

The "other offenses" committed since 1877 are mostly trivial, but the list includes a few serious crimes, such as arson, highway robbery, etc. In the year 1877 one case of assault with intent to rape occurred; the assailant was committed for trial in the Supreme Court. A single individual was in that year committed for trial in the Supreme Court for riot. Three others were committed for trial in the same year for shooting with intent to maim; and two were sent up for burglary. In 1878 two cases of manslaughter were sent up for trial in the Supreme Court; and in 1879 a case of highway robbery was similarly disposed off. In 1883 two cases of highway robbery occurred; and only one took place in 1884. During this period but two cases of arson—one in 1882 and one in 1884, and one case of embezzlement—occurred.

This statement is highly gratifying, first, because it shows a remarkable decrease in all classes of offences; and second, because it proves that Charlottetown, with its population of ten thousand two hundred and eighty souls, has as few if not fewer criminals than any other city of the same size in the Dominion.

The Trouble in Lennox.

Our advices from Lennox, says the Halifax Herald, are to the effect that the "drover" or "mysterious stranger," who has recently taken such an active part in the Ontario elections in the Grit interest, did not come to time in the late contest. To his absence, it is asserted, the Lennox Grits are imputing their defeat, and are angrily asking what delayed his coming. To this question no decided answer is being given, though it appears that some of the more ingenious among the electors have a theory which may or may not be correct. It has long been asserted in "Tory" circles that the aforesaid "drover" or "mysterious stranger" was a P. E. Islander. Now it is well known that in the crisis of the late contest Sir Richard Cartwright wrote a letter to Mr. L. H. Davies of Charlottetown. By some mishap the letter got opened while passing through the post, and Mr. Davies and his little pocket organ have been frantic with rage ever since. The theory therefore is that the latter in question was an appeal for another visit from the missionary "drover," that a clerk in the Kingston post office recognizing his hand writing, and seeing to whom it was addressed, possessed himself of its contents, and thus largely destroyed the usefulness of the Macedonian cry it contained. At any rate no "drover," muffled or otherwise, ventured into Lennox in the late contest, and the Grit party suffered in consequence. They had Blake, Cartwright, Patterson, Charlton, and a host of others, working with and for them, but without the P. E. L. "drover" with his five dollar bank bills, and his rallying cry, "remember Allison," the Grits of Lennox were utterly powerless for battle. Blake's heavy oratory, Cartwright's high falsetto screams, and Patterson's thunder fell on heavy ears, who having grown accustomed to the "drover's" musical notes refused to be charmed by any other. But "some one had blundered" and the "drover" feeling that recognition and arrest awaited him should he appear again on the old Concessions in the back townships of Lennox, refused to "go west." Like the lover of her in the Moated Grange he came not, and with equally sad results to those who awaited him.

The Minister of Finance has intimated his intention of bringing on legislation during the coming session to make Mutual and Co-operative Life Associations subject to the inspection of Government officers, and to compel them to make a deposit with the Government for the benefit of policy holders, the same as regular stock companies are to do. In view of this a convention of delegates from various associations of this character doing business in Canada, both American and Canadian, will be held in Ottawa, on the 13th inst., to discuss the matter.

The Examiner is condemned by the Halifax Chronicle and the St. John Telegraph! We are undone. To throw a little ridicule upon their brother in arms, the Patriot, for pronouncing the Post Office clerks guilty, before trial, and for publishing to the World the fact of Sir Richard's private communications with Mr. Davies on political matters, because an envelope was accidentally or designedly torn, is a very grave offence in their estimation. We must hasten to eat 'umble pie.

PICOU BANK—The directors' report and annual statement of the affairs of the Picou Bank has been issued. The statement (after retaining $14,840.16 for interest on deposits and notes and bills not due) shows net earnings for the year of $25,576.18, and the surplus profits on hand from last year $73,879.54, or, in all, $99,455.83. Out of this amount the directors have made provision for losses in connection with the Logan Tannery amounting to $90,000.
