Newlyweds Honoured At New Haven

On Friday night, November 14th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Newman was the scene of a gala event when a very large crowd of people, including relatives, neighbors and friends from New Haven and several other surrounding districts, assembled to honor Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frizzell who were married on October 1st.

They were escorted to the living room by Miss Bernice Gass and Everett Boyie. Mr. Stanley Newman called the gathering to order and a nicely worded address was read, after which a substantial purse was presented to them by Mr. James Tierney.

Charlie very graciously replied, thanking everyone on behalf of Velma and himself, for the gift and inviting all to visit them at their home.

After the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", the groom was bounced. Dancing and social chat passed away the evening pleasantly. A delicious and bountiful lunch was served by the ladies, and all departed for home after extending best wishes to Charlie and Velma and stating they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

Potato Rations For Dairy Cows Tested At Farm

Experiments over the past three years have shown that potatoes make an excellent substitute for turnips in the dairy cow's ration, according to Mr. J. G. Nicholson of the staff of the Dominion Experimental Station here.

In a Dominion Department of Agriculture release it was noted that every year many potatoes were dumped in the woods or some other out-of-the-way spot where they served as a breeding ground for disease. It was also noted that the practice was wasteful.

The experiments conducted here showed that potatoes can be used to replace turnips in the ration of the dairy cow when fed roughly in the ratio of 1 lb. of potatoes replacing 2 lbs. of turnips.

In the tests here the potatoes were normally employed in fishing or in fish plants, on highway and building construction, or in farming and connected occupations.

Of the almost 700 registered unemployed, 400 are drawing benefits. The remainder are unable to qualify for benefits for various reasons. A certain percentage of those out of work are elderly people unable to do strenuous tasks.

There are others who because of physical handicaps can do only light, or part-time work.

There will be less lumbering done in the Maritimes this winter because of a smaller demand from Great Britain and other importing areas. This will have its effect on the Island as well as the other Provinces.

Last winter several hundred men in this Province were engaged in lumbering from autumn until spring, earning good wages. Many others worked in the woods of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

National Employment offices serving lumbering districts on the mainland report that few orders are being received for woodsmen, and that the available supply of help exceeds the demand.

Hallowe'en Party In York Hall

On October 30th a big community Hallowe'en party was held in York Hall, sponsored jointly by the Women's Missionary Society and the Evening Auxiliary of York United Church.

The committee in charge tastefully decorated the hall with pumpkins, black cats, witches and seasonal drapes at the windows.

Much fun and merry making began when the tramps, clowns, Red Riding Hood, stately gentlemen, devils and witches all came masked beyond recognition.

The judging of the best masked characters took place and Mrs. Harry Lewis took first prize in her stately gentleman's costume, Mr. Merrill Craswell of Charlottetown was judged best for men's prize.

After many games had whiled away the hours and a delicious lunch was served, the gay band wended their ways homewards.

A goodly sum of around twenty dollars was realized towards the special building project of the United Church on the mainland. -B.P.

Links Big Cheque Swindle With Bond Thefts

MONTREAL, Nov. 20 - (CP) - La Presse in a newspaper story Wednesday links last year's big bond theft at St. Jerome, Que., with the recently-reported swindle of $250,000 said to have been perpetrated upon the Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto.

The newspaper's story, by Lucien Champeau, says a Toronto business man or financier was prevailed upon by the bond-theft gang to purchase $300,000 worth of bonds at a bargain - $250,000.

Later the Toronto man was told by the gang that the bonds were stolen, $65,000 from a bank in Maxville, Ont., and the remainder from the St. Jerome bank.

The man became alarmed and in desperation, says the story, agreed further to allow the thieves to forge his name in a deal to borrow several thousand dollars from the Bank of Nova Scotia with the bonds as security. Similar borrowings were said to have continued over several months.

The Toronto man rebelled. He had been "hooked" for $250,000 and felt he would be held responsible for the money borrowed under his forged signature once the thefts became known.

He went to the bank, the story says, told of the situation and showed that his signature had been forged. The bank called in insurance company representatives to investigate.

A Presse's story says these details were related to Lieut.-Det.

Unemployment Office Report

According to the officials of the Charlottetown National Employment Office, the number of people unemployed in the local office area, which comprises King's and Queen's Counties, is somewhat higher than it was one year ago. Correspondingly, the total number of people drawing unemployment insurance benefits is greater than it was in November 1951.

It is pointed out by the officials of the local office that seasonal unemployment increases with the approach of winter and this is a problem which confronts Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Various plans to overcome these annual enforced lay-offs have been explored but thus far no solution has been found. A large number of the unemployed are those who are normally employed in fishing or in fish plants, on highway and building construction, or in farming and connected occupations.

Of the almost 700 registered unemployed, 400 are drawing benefits. The remainder are unable to qualify for benefits for various reasons. A certain percentage of those out of work are elderly people unable to do strenuous tasks.

The bonds stolen from Banque Provinciale du Canada at St. Jerome have been valued as high as $1,000,000.

In Toronto, H. L. Enman, president of the Bank of Nova Scotia, denied that stolen bonds were used as collateral for the large loan. "No bonds are involved at all, good or bad," he said. "Nor is any Toronto financier connected with the case. Everything possible has been imagined, but this is a new one."
