CABINET MEETING AT OTTAWA

Government Providing for Its Friends

CONSERVATIVES SHOULD PERFECT ORGANIZATION AT ONCE.

It is Believed that Polling Will Take Place Between the 18th and 25th of October.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—There was a fairly good attendance of ministers at Saturday's Cabinet meeting. But it is announced that only routine business was transacted. By routine business it meant the filling of all existing vacancies in the public service and the promoting of those of the Government's friends whose law does not stand in the way.

The Conservatives should not delay a moment in perfecting their organization and getting ready for the campaign.

It will be a short one as everything points to the date being between the 18th and 25th of October, for polling day. Some alleged knowing ones talk about the first week in November;—but this would be out of the question as the roads all over Canada would then be bad for driving.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

It was his privilege during the trip across from Pictou to meet the Island athletes who were returning from Halifax flushed with victory after defeating the crack athletes of Nova Scotia. They showed the mettle of which Island athletes are made, and he had great pleasure in wearing their colors tonight.

Recently, while in the historic city of Quebec, he had met six young fellows from the maritime provinces returning from South Africa. One of them was from Prince Edward Island. All had been wounded in the memorable fight of Paardeberg, and every man of them expressed his willingness to return to Africa and do his duty as he had done before. All Canada mourned the loss of the brave lads who laid down their lives in South Africa in defence of British institutions. Their gallant deeds will live long in the memory of a grateful and sympathetic people, and those who have not fallen will be welcomed back.

Sir Charles brought his remarks to a close by again thanking those present for the splendid reception given him. His remarks were frequently punctuated by applause, and when he concluded three rousing cheers were given.

Hon. Mr. Foster was then introduced, and briefly addressed those present. It had, he said in opening, been stated by a public man well known in this province, in some public way, that a Liberal-Conservative could not be found here with a fine-tooth comb. Four years later he (Mr. Foster) came into the town and found the Liberal-Conservatives very much in evidence. No public man could today be found to say that such was not the case.

He felt highly gratified at the reception that had been tendered him by the Liberal-Conservatives of the City of Charlottetown. The electors are evidently fully active to the public questions of the day. In twenty years he never saw the electorate of Canada more keen for discussion nor more desirous of receiving the policy of the Liberal-Conservatives.

The Liberal-Conservatives change their policy along the lines of consistency. The Liberals make changes without regard to consistency or principle. "If you don't believe this," said Mr. Foster in conclusion, "come to the rink tomorrow night and I'll prove it."

Mr. Foster's remarks were received with great enthusiasm. Applause greeted him at various stages, and when he finished three rousing cheers were given.

Mr. W. S. Stewart, Q. C., in response to repeated calls, came forward and made a few remarks. He returned heartfelt thanks for the magnificent reception accorded the distinguished statesmen who had honored us with their presence. They deserved the great tribute. The Liberals had shamefully violated their pre-election pledges, and he felt sure that their conduct in this regard would meet with the disapprobation of every man in Canada who liked to see promises kept. If the electors return the Liberals to power, said Mr. Stewart, it will indicate that they approve of such conduct and they will go on in their evil ways and do even worse than they have done. Sir Charles was advancing in years but he was not going to depart without seeing the Prime Minister. He again thanked everyone for coming out to do honor to the visitors and invited all to go to the rink on Tuesday night and hear the public questions of the day discussed.

Three hearty cheers were then given for Mr. Stewart, whose speech was frequently interrupted by applause.

Sir Charles Tupper and Hon Geo E Foster were met at Pictou by Senator Ferguson, Mr Alex Martin, M P, Mr W S Stewart, Q C, Mr Thos Handrahan, Mr J T Mellish, Mr J B Dawson and Mr R. B. Norton, representing the Liberal-Conservative Association and the Tupper Club. Previous to the departure from Pictou of the Princess, Sir Charles and Mr Foster addressed a large concourse of people from the platform of the car, their remarks being received with great enthusiasm.

During the passage across nearly everyone on board was presented to Sir Charles and Hon Mr Foster, including little Miss Riggs, whose brother, it will be remembered, was killed at the battle of Paardeberg, his lifeless body being found nearest to the Boer trenches when the fight was over.

The athletes returning from Halifax were also introduced, and they presented Sir Charles with their colors which he gladly accepted. Afterwards Sir Charles spoke for about fifteen minutes his remarks being well received and heartily cheered by the team. Remarks appropriate to the occasion were also made by Senator Ferguson, Mr. Mar. M. P., Mr. W. S. Stewart, and Mr. J. B. Dawson, all of whom were enthusiastically cheered. Mr. D. A. McKinnon, who captained the Island team, made a fitting acknowledgment of the kind and helpful things said by the different speakers.

As the steamer was coming in the harbor there was a display of fireworks which was acknowledged by the blowing of the steamer's whistle. The Island athletes who did so well at Halifax were given a warm welcome home. As the steamer came up to the wharf they were greeted with cheers and the Abegweit "cry," and Capt. McKinnon was "bounced."

Mr. Foster will speak. The return fare will be one dollar. Ladies going by this train can return by the mail special if they so desire.

On Thursday, Sept. 6th, an opportunity will be given our citizens of hearing two of our most talented artists before they leave us for some time. FUNERAL YESTERDAY.—The funeral of Mrs. Murray, wife of Mr. William Murray, the well-known baker, was held yesterday morning at nine o'clock. The attendance of citizens was exceedingly large. The pallbearers were John MacEachern, James Eden, Andrew Sullivan, Charles Reilly, Francis Trainor and James O'Brien. Rev. J. F. Johnston conducted the services at the church and at the grave. The casket was covered with flowers, the gifts of sympathetic friends. Mrs. Murray's last illness was of short duration. Her bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

MARRIAGE AT ST. DUNSTAN'S.

There was a large congregation at St. Dunstan's Cathedral yesterday morning to witness the marriage of Mr. John Connolly, the Queen Street grocer, and Miss Mary T. Keardon, daughter of Mr. Daniel Reardon.

The impressive ceremony was performed at six o'clock, and Father Reardon, who tied the nuptial knot, was assisted by Father Connolly, the officiating clergymen being brothers of the bride and groom respectively.

The bridesmaid was Miss Rose Connolly, sister of the groom, and Mr. John Reardon, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen.

The bride looked charming. She wore a travelling dress of fawn broadcloth with silk trimmings and gloves to match, and carried a handsome ivory prayer book.

The bridesmaid's dress was of blue cloth with white silk trimmings, with hat to match and white gloves.

After the service in the church the bridal party and the immediate relatives of the happy couple partook of breakfast at the residence of the bride's parents, Fitzroy Street east.

The bride received a large number of handsome and valuable presents.

Breakfast over Mr and Mrs Connolly were driven to the railway station en route to Boston. A great many of their friends were at the station to see them off and wish them every happiness in life.

The bridesmaid and groomsmen and the mother of the bride accompanied Mr and Mrs Connolly as far as St John.
