

THE EASTERN GUARDIAN

AGENTS:—MONTAGUE: Harold F. Landry, Mrs. Byron Stewart, Mrs. Bruce MacPhee, Miss Joyce Wigginton, Pius McKinnon. AGENT GEORGETOWN: Waldon Lavers.

The Guardian may be bought at the following places in Montague: Blue Dome Restaurant, and Guardian Office; in Georgetown: The Post Office; in Souris: The Snack Bar and H. Richards & Son.

*OUR WONDER SILK print dresses at $7.95, now in stock at the Jo-Anna Dress Shop.

*C-I-L PAINTS and Varnishes. Ask for color cards and new shades, new prices. At Stewart & Beck's.

*A SPLENDID COLLECTION of Spring's newest coat and suit fashions just arrived at the Jo-Anna Dress Shop.

The many friends of Mrs. Garfield Johnston are sorry to hear she is ill at her home in Peter's Road.

Miss Florrie Beaton accompanied by Miss Wanda Nicholson and Miss Alice Collins, all of Montague, were recent visitors to Charlottetown.

Mr. John Baker, accompanied by Mr. H. D. Murray, Montague, were business visitors to Charlottetown yesterday.

*THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA. — Services for Sunday, March 8th, as follows: Montague 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Cardigan 2:30 P. M. Montague Sunday School 10:00 A. M. Rev. F. N. Young, Minister.

*The many friends of Mr. Peter MacCormack, De Gros Marsh, are sorry to hear he is a patient in the King's County Hospital. All wish him a speedy recovery.

*MONTAGUE United Pastorate, Rev. J. M. Fraser, minister. Sunday, March 8th, Montague 10 a.m., Sunday School and Bible class, 11 a.m. Morning service, 7:30 p.m. evening service. Lower Montague 3 p.m. church service.

Mr. Earl Clair and Mr. Boyd Allan, both of Montague, left on Wednesday for Charlottetown where they have enlisted in the Royal Canadian Navy. Mr. Clair is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clair, and Mr. Allan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Allan.

*EN ROUTE HOME—Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Pepler, who spent the past several weeks in Bristol, England, are expected to arrive at their home in Montague shortly. While in England, Mrs. Pepler's father, Mr. Timms, passed away.

*KING'S MILL, Montague, will not be buying logs until further notice.

*PANTRY SALE, Saturday March 7, at Stewart and Beck's by United Church Ladies' Aid.

*GEORGETOWN PASTORAL CHARGE.—United Church of Canada. Services for March 8th. 11 A. M. Milltown Cross. 2:30 P. M. Sturgeon. 7 P. M. Georgetown. Rev. W. A. Paterson, Minister.

*Mr. James Landrigan, Sturgeon, is a patient in the King's County Hospital, Montague. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

*HOME ON FURLOUGH—AC. 1 Earle G. Coffin, who enlisted in the R.C.A.F. last September is at present spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Coffin, Fortune. He has been stationed at Clinton, Ontario, where he has completed the first phase of a communications and radar technician's course, having led his class. He has now been posted to Greenwood Falls, and leaves next week to take up his duties there.

*RECEIVES SAD NEWS—Word has been received by Mrs. M. A. MacPhee, Heatherdale, informing her of the death of her sister Annie, widow of the late Angus MacKenzie, formerly of Charlottetown, at the home of her daughter in Great Falls, Montana, on February 21st. Mrs. MacKenzie, formerly Annie Bruce of Grandview, has resided with her daughter in Montana since the death of her husband several years ago. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Alex Scott, Halifax, N. S., Mrs. Marian, Mrs. Godfrey, Seattle, Washington, Florence, Mrs. Jack-son, Great Falls, Montana, also two sons, Dan, Seattle, Washington and Bruce in California. Also one sister, Mrs. M. A. MacPhee, Heatherdale, P. E. I. and one brother, Angus Bruce, Long Beach, California. Another brother, Dr. John Bruce, predeceased her several weeks ago.

The Delaware Gap in the Kittatinny mountains of New Jersey is 900 feet wide between mountain-sides 1,600 feet high.

Members Of Island Judiciary Active In War Claims Hearings

The first hearings of the War Claims Commission will commence shortly in Ottawa. Deputy Commissioner, Judge C. St. Clair Trainor of Charlottetown, flies to Ottawa today to sit on the initial hearings. He is one of two Deputy Commissioners appointed to hear War Claims, the other being Judge C. W. A. Marlon, of the County of Ontario. All findings by the Deputy Commissioners are reviewed by the Chief War Claims Commissioner, Thane A. Campbell, Chief Justice of Prince Edward Island. The Chief Commissioner may refer findings back to the original Deputy Commissioner or hold a further enquiry himself before making recommendations to the Government. Final recommendations take account of priorities in the classes of claims allowed. Claims for death, personal injury or maltreatment have top priority and are paid in full before any other class, then follow claims for property losses up to $5,000; $10,000; $15,000; $20,000; and $50,000 and over. It is not expected that the lower priority claims will be paid in full.

Payment will be made out of German reparations made available to Canada under the Paris agreement. Japanese assets in Canada under the terms of the Treaty of Peace with Japan, and under the Treaty of Peace with Italy so far as funds are available.

The Chief Commissioner and Deputy Commissioners are appointed under the War Claims Regulations, adopted Oct. 9, 1952, which are based on the Report of the Advisory Commission of War Claims, the Rt. Hon. J. L. Halsey. The Chief Commissioner and one of the two Deputy Commissioners appointed to date are members of the Prince Edward Island judiciary.

The time for claims to be submitted has been extended to December 31, 1953. Compensation can be claimed for unlawful damage by ex-enemy nations to life or property, including maltreatment of prisoners-of-war, imprisonment by the Japanese or by the SS, Gestapo or Leadership Corps, all declared criminal organizations by the International Military Tribunal, Nuremberg, is deemed to have involved maltreatment. Other prisoners-of-war are required to give evidence of specific instances of maltreatment.

The Chief War Claims Commissioner serves without pay but receives his actual travelling and living expenses while absent from his residence, for which accounts must be submitted.

Potato Marketing Problems Discussed By Mr. Saville

A suggestion that potato growers might pool their entire crop and place it under the control of the Potato Marketing Board, in a proposition similar to that of the Western Wheat Board, was advanced in the Legislature yesterday by Mr. George E. Saville, Liberal, Fifth King's, when he spoke in the Draft Address debate. He thought farmers had expected too much of the Potato Board because he insisted the law of supply and demand pertained to potato prices the same as anything else. If the Marketing Board had control of the crop he felt the potatoes would all be sold, but not always for a high price.

Mr. Saville could attach no blame to the Board for its advice to not ship all their potatoes at once. Farmers who did ship in the fall benefited from the orderly marketing which was suggested, but if all the potatoes had been shipped the market would have broken long ago. He did not approve the destruction of the beavers in this Province and felt that though some fields may have been damaged as a result of their dams they should have been moved. He maintained the water level which he stated is dropping continually.

Much work has been done on roads in the Georgetown district, he said, and cited the excellence of the Seven Mile Road which was placed in first class condition by crews from Cardigan and Georgetown. He also spoke of the Geo'town Eagles Win King's County Ch'ship

Geo'town Eagles Win King's County Ch'ship

"In one of the best games of the season played in Georgetown last night, the Eagles defeated Morell 7-6 and won the King's County Intermediate B hockey title by 14-11 on the round. The game was exceptionally fast and featured good slide handling, passing and goal-tending. MacNeill sank three for the winners and F. Landry picked up three points. H. MacLean, starry Eagles' centre received a cut in the head in the second period requiring three stitches but he came back in the third to score a goal and set two assists.

R. McAdam and W. McAdam led the Morell point-getters. The Eagles now advance against Milton Hornets in the King's-Queen's Intermediate B playoff.

Georgetown — Goal, Sullivan; defence, W. MacLean, A. MacPhee, Johnson; forwards, H. MacLean, A. Murphy, MacNeill, Stevens, MacDonald, A. Landry, F. Landry, MacSwain, MacConnell, B. Murphy.

Morell — Goal, MacKinnon; defence, Coffin, G. McInnis, A. Eldershaw, A. J. McAdam; forwards, and would be especially valuable as a "finisher" for those not going further with their education.

Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan remarked that it was only what we should have been getting 10 years ago. He referred briefly to maintenance of Hillsborough Bridge by the C.N.R. and the fact that the Government had sold at a good profit four spans of the 11-span Chinese bridge it purchased some time ago.

He said he would be much interested in the development near Robinson's Island in the Rusty's area. He thought it was planned to shut off one entrance to Rustico Harbour, probably by the use of aboiteaux and foresaw the possibility of a new highway for the National Park and a new bridge at Stanhope. He said he also had some plans to discuss with the National Park people regarding building of a road to the Park.

Despite opposition to the plan he stated that a course would be prepared for Grade XI and the examinations corrected by the Atlantic Provinces Examining Board. He believed the proposed course will be suitable for all students.

provided through the Fishermen's Loan Board the speaker said of one dragger that the average income per man was $2,027. Speaking of the high insurance on this type of boat he said efforts were being made to establish a fund which would permit the fishermen to pay in the same amount as the present premium for three years when it was sufficient money would be on hand to cut the rate in half. The present premium is $2,200. He said he had reason to believe the Federal Government would participate in the plan.

Mr. Cullen stated that though transportation services might have been adequate ten years ago, they were entirely inadequate now. He quoted traffic figures of a decade ago and last year to show the sharp increase.

He told of the work of the foresters in planting 12 acres, mostly to red pine in the sub-marginal soil near Iona. They had almost 100 percent growth with this type, but lost about 40 percent of the Austrian pine.

Regarding vacant farms he said there were too many non-resident owners who bought places to use only for summer homes and the land was soon overgrown in brush. They should not be allowed to take it out of cultivation.

He maintained there should be a truck service operating between Georgetown and Pictou and leave the Wood Island service for cars. He foresaw a big increase in population in Cape Breton in the next 50 years and said we should be ready to supply the market there. "Transportation must go with production," he stated, in suggesting we should persuade the Federal Government to open a Georgetown-Pictou service.

The meeting was concluded by an excellent address by Mrs. Ernest Bell, retiring recording secretary of the Diocesan Board.

Living Costs Continued from page 1

The new index is considered the official index and a more accurate gauge of price change. The bureau plans to publish the two indices simultaneously until next September when the old yardstick will be discarded.

Stalin saw the young revolutionary state emerge as a power whose word was vital in the councils of the nations. He led his country to victory in the Second World War.

Stalin's directives were a command for all Moscow-style Communists. Any national Communist party which did not accept the Stalin line was "excommunicated."

A clear example of this was provided by the expulsion in 1948 of Marshal Josip Tito's Yugoslav party from the Cominform grouping of the main national Communist parties in Europe.

Stalin's most-publicized man in Russia—the official Soviet press mentioned his name many times a day—he was unknown personally to the Russian man-in-the-street.

His photograph was displayed by the thousands on the streets of Moscow on public holidays. But only two or three times a year did he appear in public on important Soviet occasions.

In recent times, he mostly remained in seclusion, somewhere inside the vast Kremlin fortress, where he had an apartment, or in his villa a few miles outside Moscow. Red Army men kept day and night guard on the entrances and exits of the Kremlin, and on the country villa.

Later, however, he had spent more and more time in the sunny Black Sea area, where he had a country estate not far from where he was born.

Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

For almost 30 years, Stalin was at the helm in Russia as back-stage political director in his capacity of secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

He played a vital part in the transformation of a primitive, backward state with a semi-feudal structure into one which emerged from the Second World War as the second mightiest industrial and military power in the world.

Consolidated Revolution Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

For almost 30 years, Stalin was at the helm in Russia as back-stage political director in his capacity of secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

He played a vital part in the transformation of a primitive, backward state with a semi-feudal structure into one which emerged from the Second World War as the second mightiest industrial and military power in the world.

Later, however, he had spent more and more time in the sunny Black Sea area, where he had a country estate not far from where he was born.

Concluding (Continued from Page 5) national secretary treasurer, Mrs. H. K. S. Hemming; candidates' secretary, Mrs. W. J. Harrington; social service secretary, Mrs. J. T. Rodd.

Following the resolutions and voting of money, noontime prayers and the devotional address were given by the Rev. G. R. P. Ebbary. Luncheon was served by the ladies of St. Paul's to both the D. C. S. and W. A. delegates. Mrs. H. L. Wigglesworth spoke to the delegates, telling her audience in interesting fashion of the links between the work of the W. A. and that of Synod. His Lordship the Bishop and the Rev. J. R. McMahon spoke briefly.

After luncheon, the delegates met again for a brief meeting and discussion period, when an interesting address was given by Mrs. J. A. Lawson, provincial president of the Canadian Association of Consumers.

The meeting was concluded by an excellent address by Mrs. Ernest Bell, retiring recording secretary of the Diocesan Board.

Living Costs Continued from page 1

The new index is considered the official index and a more accurate gauge of price change. The bureau plans to publish the two indices simultaneously until next September when the old yardstick will be discarded.

Stalin saw the young revolutionary state emerge as a power whose word was vital in the councils of the nations. He led his country to victory in the Second World War.

Stalin's directives were a command for all Moscow-style Communists. Any national Communist party which did not accept the Stalin line was "excommunicated."

A clear example of this was provided by the expulsion in 1948 of Marshal Josip Tito's Yugoslav party from the Cominform grouping of the main national Communist parties in Europe.

Stalin's most-publicized man in Russia—the official Soviet press mentioned his name many times a day—he was unknown personally to the Russian man-in-the-street.

His photograph was displayed by the thousands on the streets of Moscow on public holidays. But only two or three times a year did he appear in public on important Soviet occasions.

In recent times, he mostly remained in seclusion, somewhere inside the vast Kremlin fortress, where he had an apartment, or in his villa a few miles outside Moscow. Red Army men kept day and night guard on the entrances and exits of the Kremlin, and on the country villa.

Later, however, he had spent more and more time in the sunny Black Sea area, where he had a country estate not far from where he was born.

Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

For almost 30 years, Stalin was at the helm in Russia as back-stage political director in his capacity of secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

He played a vital part in the transformation of a primitive, backward state with a semi-feudal structure into one which emerged from the Second World War as the second mightiest industrial and military power in the world.

Consolidated Revolution Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

For almost 30 years, Stalin was at the helm in Russia as back-stage political director in his capacity of secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

He played a vital part in the transformation of a primitive, backward state with a semi-feudal structure into one which emerged from the Second World War as the second mightiest industrial and military power in the world.

Later, however, he had spent more and more time in the sunny Black Sea area, where he had a country estate not far from where he was born.

Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

For almost 30 years, Stalin was at the helm in Russia as back-stage political director in his capacity of secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

Stresses Highway Needs Of Kings County In Legislature

That Physical Fitness was a great aid in keeping young people on the farms was the opinion of Mr. John A. MacDonald, Progressive Conservative, Third King's, when he took part in the Draft Address debate in the Legislature yesterday.

He said the many rural hockey teams formed were of real value and the man in charge of Physical Fitness was stretching the few dollars given him to the limit.

People of many areas were greatly disappointed at not getting rural electrification despite promises made to them, and many were leaving their farms as the standard of living was not higher. He noted that last year when the electric rates were raised the city had only a normal increase but rural rates were doubled.

He said when the line in his Cardigan district was sold to a large company the people had expected it to be rebuilt but nothing was done at the time because they were told there was no paved road there. There is a paved road now, he said, and it should be rebuilt at this time. He mentioned that when the Telephone Company raised its rates it provided a better service and made other improvements.

Mr. MacDonald said there was a great deal of difficulty in keeping small hospitals going and they needed more help as patient costs were still going up.

Tests For Drivers Of the proposal for stricter tests for drivers and vehicles he stated that some Provinces had mechanically imperfect cars and there were lots of "old traps" that should not be on the roads here at all. He said his suggestion might sound drastic but should be done and he pointed to the rigid inspection required of planes and ships.

The third ferry for the Wood Islands service should have some ice breaking facilities, he thought. If Georgetown had been given consideration as a port there would have been a considerable amount of traffic crossing destined to the Halifax area during this winter.

October, 1917, revolution which put the Bolsheviks in power, Stalin had the task of consolidating it. He was chiefly responsible for welding together dozens of different nationalities, speaking over 80 different tongues and dialects in Europe and Asia, into the federation, centrally governed from Moscow, which is now known as the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Stalin saw the young revolutionary state emerge as a power whose word was vital in the councils of the nations. He led his country to victory in the Second World War.

Stalin's directives were a command for all Moscow-style Communists. Any national Communist party which did not accept the Stalin line was "excommunicated."

A clear example of this was provided by the expulsion in 1948 of Marshal Josip Tito's Yugoslav party from the Cominform grouping of the main national Communist parties in Europe.

Stalin's most-publicized man in Russia—the official Soviet press mentioned his name many times a day—he was unknown personally to the Russian man-in-the-street.

His photograph was displayed by the thousands on the streets of Moscow on public holidays. But only two or three times a year did he appear in public on important Soviet occasions.

In recent times, he mostly remained in seclusion, somewhere inside the vast Kremlin fortress, where he had an apartment, or in his villa a few miles outside Moscow. Red Army men kept day and night guard on the entrances and exits of the Kremlin, and on the country villa.

Later, however, he had spent more and more time in the sunny Black Sea area, where he had a country estate not far from where he was born.

Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

For almost 30 years, Stalin was at the helm in Russia as back-stage political director in his capacity of secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

He played a vital part in the transformation of a primitive, backward state with a semi-feudal structure into one which emerged from the Second World War as the second mightiest industrial and military power in the world.

Consolidated Revolution Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

For almost 30 years, Stalin was at the helm in Russia as back-stage political director in his capacity of secretary-general of the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

He played a vital part in the transformation of a primitive, backward state with a semi-feudal structure into one which emerged from the Second World War as the second mightiest industrial and military power in the world.

Later, however, he had spent more and more time in the sunny Black Sea area, where he had a country estate not far from where he was born.

Whereas Vladimir Ilych Lenin was the master strategist of the kind."

Lenin, founder of the Soviet state, had earlier noted Stalin's bluntness. "Stalin is too rude," he said in his last testament.

King's County is losing its services and as a result is unable to get its products to market, he maintained. He spoke of the "Lova" and efforts to get it re-touted to service would be appreciated as the people were deprived of the run to Sydney, N. S. from Montague, Lower Montague and Georgetown.

He did not ask for a re-routing of the Trans-Canada Highway, but suggested that King's County get some compensating services as other benefits. Paving of the Georgetown-Cardigan road was advised as the people have to depend on it in the absence of road service, and asked for a continuance generally of sub-grading on other roads.

Montague Bridge Mr. MacDonald was still speaking when the House adjourned at six o'clock. When it resumed last night he mentioned the possibility of a causeway replacing the Montague Bridge, or rebuilding the latter. He said either of them would be acceptable to the people as the present bridge was dangerous.

Touching briefly on other things he expressed the opinion the people were not yet ready to grant a franchise to the Canadian National Railways as new freight rates imposed a burden on farm products. He hoped markets for fisheries would improve and thought a disaster fund should be set up for fishermen who have a hard life at sea. Agriculture should not depend on just one outside market (United States) but should depend on other things.

He noted that the farmer's revenue is steadily declining and particularly in livestock, questioned whether the consumer was getting the benefit of lower farm prices.

"Since it has been apparent that the lower prices being received by our farmers for livestock had not been reflected in the price of meat to the consumer," said the federation, "it is recommended that the federal government take action to investigate in the interests of the people as a whole all the elements of cost as between producer and consumer in relation to all meat products."

Want Boost Continued from page 1

to settle labor disputes by negotiation, or legal process, disallowing strikes to jeopardize the national economy.

It is noted that the farmer's revenue is steadily declining and particularly in livestock, questioned whether the consumer was getting the benefit of lower farm prices.

"Since it has been apparent that the lower prices being received by our farmers for livestock had not been reflected in the price of meat to the consumer," said the federation, "it is recommended that the federal government take action to investigate in the interests of the people as a whole all the elements of cost as between producer and consumer in relation to all meat products."

Pisquid East Notes

*Mr. Alvin Burke, merchant at Pisquid, was in Charlottetown on business Thursday, February 19th.

Mrs. Kenny Garland, Mow Stewart, spent Thursday and Friday, February 19th and 20th with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Kelly.

Miss Audrey Jay had her tonsil removed in the Prince Edward Island Hospital Thursday, February 19th. All hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. Harold Jay was a visitor in Charlottetown on Thursday, February 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Jay were visitors in Charlottetown Thursday, February 19th.

Mr. E. E. Jay and Miss Juanita Jay were in Charlottetown Friday evening, February 20th attending the hockey game at the Forum.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hughes Bedford, were guests of Mrs. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Kelly, Sunday February 22nd.

Mr. and Guy Jay spent the weekend of February 21st, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jay.

Whim Road and Vicinity

Mrs. Cecil Campbell, Commercial Cross, recently had the misfortune to fall and twist her ankle. Other bruises were received but luckily no bones were broken. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. Sandy Ross, formerly of Lower Montague, returned to his employment in Calgary, Alberta, after a lengthy stay here, during which time he visited his mother, Mrs. D. P. Ross and other members of his family in Lower Montague and Charlottetown, and his sister, Mrs. Colin MacDonald in Kilmartin.

Due to the efforts of the 107th Red Cross Juniors a water fountain has been installed in the Whim Road School. It is also to be noted that these ambitious Red Cross members placed a clock in the school room a short time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacDonald, Whim Road, received the congratulations of their neighbours and friends on their fifty-second wedding anniversary which occurred on Friday, February 27th. Many more years of happy wedded life are wished by all for Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald.

Stone weapons found at Angoult in South Dakota are estimated to be 7,500 years old.

TO-DAY CAPITOL SAT. SHOWS DAILY AT 3:30 - 7:00 - 9:00

THRILL-BLAZING SAGA OF A GUN-RAKED EMPIRE! ... and the cavalry expedition that conquered it! WILD BILL ELLIOTT THE MAVERICK AN ALLIED ARTISTS PICTURE PHYLLIS COATES MYRON HEALEY Filmed in Glorious SERIA TONE!

TO-NIGHT'S MIDNIGHT THRILLER AT 11:30 p.m. PRINCE EDWARD

The lusty saga of a fightin' ship and her fightin' crew - who ran high, wide and handsome to glory! GARY COOPER JANE GREER "YOU'RE IN THE NAVY NOW"

$1,200,000 in Liquor

Continued from page 1 six customers to the mile. Before it had stated it could proceed if allowed a seven percent return and though this was granted nothing is being done.

Premier Jones told the members he wanted to clear the way. This season so the Government can go ahead with some plan. He did not wish to reveal what was under consideration at this time and remarked that if we did what Manitoba did in purchasing the Winnipeg Electric Company we might run ourselves six or seven million dollars in debt. However, he believed it was possible to borrow money for electricity and not have it considered a debt.

Grade XI Course Despite opposition to the plan he stated that a course would be prepared for Grade XI and the examinations corrected by the Atlantic Provinces Examining Board. He believed the proposed course will be suitable for all students.

HOCKEY SATURDAY NIGHT Murray Harbour Rink Murray Harbour North vs. Summerville Beavers Game time 8:30 Skate after game

MONUMENTS and INSCRIPTIONS LEVI V. POWER, Montague, P. E. I. Representative J. Louis MacDonald, 86 McGill Avenue. Phone 2410-L

WOW! LOOK HOW SHE WORKS THROUGH COLLEGE REAGAN NELSON THIS IS A STORY WITH A LOT OF TWISTS!

British General Chats With Local Soldier General Sir Richard Gale, Command in Chief of the British Army on the Rhine, chats with two members of the 9th Field Regiment, R.C.A., during a recent visit to units of Canada's NATO formation in Germany. They are Cmr. Wilfred Matheson, Sydney, left, and Cmr. Elmer Keefe, Morell, P. E. I., centre. (NATIONAL DEFENCE PHOTO)