Local and Other Items.

I. O. O. F.—St. Lawrence Lodge meets at 8 o'clock to night. The initiatory degree will be conferred.

MASONIC.—Regular communication of Victoria Lodge, No. 2, A. F. & A. M., tonight, at Masonic Hall, at 8 o'clock. Balloting for candidates.

SUGAR AND MOLASSES.—The St. John Sun says there is a continued stiffening in the price of sugar and molasses. Sugar advanced another eighth recently.

DISCHARGING.—The New Glasgow Enterprise says that the schooner Alpha, from Murray Harbor, with potatoes and oats, is discharging at the public pier.

ALL HEMORS of the scalp, tetter sores, and dandruff cured, and falling hair checked; hence, baldness prevented by using Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

COMING.—It is expected that about thirty boys and girls from the "Birmingham Emigration Homes," will arrive at Fredericton on or about the 10th of June next.

"MY DAUGHTER was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and, at one time, it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system.—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

MORE TALL GRASS.—Says the New Glasgow Enterprise: George Campbell, of Barney's River, mails a stalk of grass which measures 35 1/2 inches, but Barney's River will have to take second place, as another bunch of grass from Glenelg is in which measures 35 1/2 inches.

THE VOCAL ORGANS are strengthened by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Clergymen, lawyers, singers, actors, and public speakers find this preparation the most effective remedy for irritation and weakness of the throat and lungs, and for all affections of the vocal organs.

TENNIS.—The grounds of the Charlottetown Lawn Tennis Club, at Victoria Park, presented a very gay appearance on Saturday last. "Progressive Tennis" was the order of the day. The winners of the "King" prizes were Mrs. Starr and Mr. Richardson.

FOOTBALL.—The New Glasgow Enterprise concludes its report of the recent football match between the Abegweits and Picton teams by remarking that "the verdict of disinterested spectators was that Picton was over-matched, for the Abegweits were undoubtedly the best team in the Maritime Provinces."

SHAD.—The St. John Sun says: There is a great run of shad in the Kennebecasis. Large numbers have been taken between Hampton and Norton. One gentleman at Bloomfield netted 131 in a single night recently, and on Thursday night the same lucky fisherman, with a single net, topped the record with a haul of 175 fine fish.

THE TURF.—The weather in New York, on the 31st, was threatening, and the track at Jerome Park in but fair condition. In the first race, 5 1/2 furlongs, Lago won; time 1:13 1/2. Second race, Long Knight had a walk over. In the third race, ladies' stakes, 1 1/2 miles, Fides won; time 2:00 1/2. Fourth race, 3/4 mile, Loroway won; time 1:10. Fifth race, sweepstakes, Titan on course, 1400 yards, Eolian won; time 1:23 1/2. Sixth race, selling, Titan on course, 1400 yards, Miracoe won; time 1:24. Seventh race, 3/4 mile, Ernest won; time 1:18 1/2.

BEAR STORIES.—The Halifax Mail reports that a bear was shot on Thursday afternoon last, by a man named Downey, near Mayor Lake, Preston, N. S. The animal weighed nearly 700 pounds. Downey has received his $5 bounty. The same paper states that Wm. Umiah, of Ellershouse, on Thursday of last week, claimed the bounty for two bears. When one of the skins was laid on the floor, it measured 7 feet 9 inches between the two fore paws, and 8 feet from snout to tail. This bear was supposed to weigh 700 pounds—a veritable monarch of the woods. The other skin was that of a smaller bear.

What a (Story)!

For Neuralgia, a novel cure—which we hardly believe if true, will ever become popular—is vouched for, it is said, by a correspondent of the New York Sun. An Irish girl in Paterson, N. J., had suffered with neuralgia of the head and face until almost frantic with pain; actually beating the wall with her head to cause insensibility. Her employer having heard that a Dr. Tere had cured rheumatism by the sting of a wasp, asked the girl if she would try it. With courage born of despair, she exclaimed "Any other torture would be a pleasure beside this." A yellow wasp was obtained, and vexed into stinging her face. Within a few moments the pain ceased, the girl fell asleep, and strange to say, never again had an attack of neuralgia. Well, we don't blame her. The remedy was probably too heroic for a second dose. A learned specialist when told this yarn remarked, "The pain may have stopped temporarily, but it could only have been temporary." Continued he, "it is a fact that a sudden shock to inflamed and painful nerves will stop pain," but the remedy is worse than the disease, as many unthinking people in after years find out, who apply fiery and dangerous compounds externally to stop Neuralgia and Rheumatism. They only continue to shock the nervous system, ignorant of the fact that, as in the morphine of alcohol habit their mental and moral nature is thus being gradually destroyed. "Make haste slowly, if you expect to cure any nerve disease" was the advice to a lady by a friend who had been cured of chronic Neuralgia by using for some time Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, as advised internally, and applied externally, as advised in the wrapper around every bottle. Neuralgia is a fever of inflammation of the nerves, and only by degrees can any inflammation be cured; and then only by an anodyne treatment. Old Dr. Johnson had this in mind when he devised his Anodyne Liniment; a remedy now known to nearly every one, as it deserves to be. Surely a medicine without real merit could not have survived for eighty years as this one has done. j wyl dy 6 i

The Creeds.

MR. CARNEY IN THE LYCEUM.

A large audience assembled in the Lyceum yesterday afternoon to listen to Rev. J. F. Carney. The meeting was opened by singing the Coronation Hymn, followed by prayer. Mr. Carney then read the 8th Psalm and a portion of the 10th chapter of St. Matthew, after which he delivered his address: "Ladies and gentlemen, if you collected here, thinking that you would be entertained with a denunciation of the churches, and a general tirade against Christianity, be at once undeceived. Such is not my object. My only aim is to preach the Gospel from an undenominational standpoint, free from sectarian bias, and, while I grant to every man the fullest expression of his views, I claim for myself the same concession. He alone is a coward who fears to maintain his right, and who, to please the unthinking crowd, drifts silently down on the popular wave, not even questioning, much less investigating, the doctrines he is supposed to hold. Humanity is an army on the march. Where the vanguard is to-day, there the main body will be to-morrow. Find out what the few best thinkers of any age are dreaming of, and you have what will be the common thought of the next age. With the exception of what has been scientifically demonstrated, the thought which is popular is that which is about to pass away. This only means that the world grows and is gradually learning. In the ordinary departments of secular life and thought, so far are these ideas from being startling that they are regarded as mere common-place. But, strangely enough, in religion they are looked on as shocking and profane. Everywhere else the past is known to have been the world's childhood, and maturity is expected to bear ripper fruits of thought as well as action. But in religion it is wicked to grow to manhood and to "put away childish things. The religious leader can learn nothing, because he already knows it all. He is bound, hand and foot, brain and heart, by a theory that locates all divine wisdom in the past, and that threatens with infinite penalties the man who is daring enough to test it in the light of new discoveries and to declare that it does not fit the facts. But this is the age of theological fiction, in a sense that does not refer to any of the popular novels of the time. But perhaps it is so that the change must come. It took three centuries for the transition from paganism to Christianity. It took two centuries for the popular mind to become habituated to the new ideas of the copernica system. And even then the ideas and phrases of both paganism and Ptolemy still lingered. Though thought moves faster to-day, it may yet take many years to work out the greatest revolution of human thought that the world has ever seen. For what we are now going through is no less than that. It means nothing less than a new universe, a new God, a new man, a new destiny. It is as certain to come as sunrise. And when the sun is up, the cruelties, crudities, monstrousities, injustices of a long night of orthodoxy will have fled away with the shadows. From the "new heaven" will smile a grander God, and on the "new earth" will live and labor and hope a grander man.

During the address Mr. Carney related his personal experience. His parents were Roman Catholics, and he was educated in the same faith. After removing from the Island he joined the Methodist body and afterwards the Congregational church, and latterly the Baptist communion, all of which he has severed his connection with, and wished only to be instrumental in preaching a liberal Christianity unfettered by dogmas and sectarian prejudices.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"Another Resident" Heard From.

SIR,—The Weekly Patriot of the 23rd inst. contains a letter signed "Resident," in which great fault is found with the Commissioner of Public Works on account of a piece of road in this section having become almost impassable from the fact that sand has drifted on it. Now, "Resident" must know that the Commissioner visited this locality for the express purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the people in this section with respect to the locating of a new road, by which the sand could be avoided altogether; and, as is well known, the Commissioner stated at the meeting that if the people would agree upon a route the Government were willing and ready to open the road at any time. At this meeting it was also agreed that the course of the new road should be that commonly known as the southern route; but shortly after this meeting was held and before the Commissioner had time to take any action in the matter, representations were made to him from several parties residing west of Naufrage, of which, perhaps, "Resident" was one, objecting to this route being taken, and the Commissioner, probably not wishing to open a road contrary to the wishes of the people either east or west of Naufrage, has let the matter remain until the present. We in this section of the country have always found the Commissioner of Public Works willing and anxious to serve our interests, and believe that until such time as the proper route is decided upon for the new road, that arrangements will be made to open a temporary road to avoid that section where the sand now obstructs the old road, and if "Resident" has only sand enough to sign his proper name when next writing, he can always get the facts from ANOTHER RESIDENT.

The Cronin Murder.

WHAT PATRICK EGAN, MINISTER TO CHILI, HAS TO SAY ABOUT IT.

Patrick Egan, Minister to Chili, is again in New York. About the Cronin case, he recently said to a reporter: "I know nothing about it except what I have read in the newspapers. I can only say that I deplore the murder of Cronin, and I hope soon to hear of his murderers being brought to justice. The conspiracy to murder is only a little worse than to ruin a man's character. There is now a strong conspiracy to ruin the character of Alexander Sullivan. It is just as absurd to say that Sullivan entered into a conspiracy to murder Cronin as to say that the Governor of this State, Mayor Grant or Archbishop Corrigan would enter into such a conspiracy. Alexander Sullivan is not the kind of man to do such a thing. This case reminds me of cases we used to have in Ireland some years ago. When some poor tenant was cruelly evicted, the friends of the tenant, without letting him know anything about it, would murder the landlord, and the police, in such cases, were sure to arrest the tenant on the supposition that if he was not the murderer he ought to be. In this way many innocent men were hanged. The relentless fight that Cronin made upon Sullivan is known. Cronin did everything in his power to ruin him. For that reason some people seem to think that Sullivan has benefited by Cronin's death, and if he is not the chief conspirator he ought to be."

Struck in the Pulpit.

A Danville, Ill., despatch of the 31st inst. says: The Rev. J. C. Meyers, of State Line, Ind., at the request of the Rev. Mr. Steele, of the New Liberty Christian church, Fountain County, Ind., filled the pulpit in that church on Sunday. During the evening services a rain cloud was noticed to overcast the sky. Immediately afterward a blinding bolt of lightning descended, destroying the church chimney. Following along the stovepipe, which ran around the room, it crushed the two stoves into fragments and tore up the floor. After leaving the chimney the bolt separated, and a portion of it ran down the chandelier over the pulpit, striking Mr. Meyers on the back of the head. He turned a somersault, fell heavily to the floor, and was thought to be dead. He lay in an unconscious condition for more than half an hour. Several persons in the large congregation were shocked into insensibility, but soon recovered. On the back of Mr. Meyers' head where the lightning struck him is a bruised place about the size of a silver dollar. His face appears burnt, and his sight is nearly destroyed. An oculist who is attending him fears that the loss of vision will be permanent.

The Diphtheria Panic.

The St. John's, Nfld., Telegram, of the 20th ult., says:—A harrowing instance of the mortal and sometimes unchristian fear of touching the bier of victims of the prevailing malady, is that in which a poor old lady named Anthony and her dead grandchild were concerned; the house is located on Garrison hill. From morning till evening the body lay ready for interment, and at last, when the hearse came in the afternoon, none could be found to bear the poor little body from the house to the vehicle. The poor old woman within doors was too feeble to lift the melancholy burthen herself and the driver would not do so. At last, when six o'clock had struck, Mr. Ring, who was returning from work—the same young man whose family was so severely stricken by this disease mentioned at the time—entered the house of mourning and performed this last sad service for the dead. Surely so dreadful a contingency as this will never be suffered to occur again. With the old lady was another grandchild, who happily did not contract the fatal illness.
