

Preliminary Talks Ended On 1966 Trade Conference

By HAROLD MORRISON
LONDON (CP)—Senior Commonwealth officials have completed closed-door deliberations to prepare for a meeting of Commonwealth trade ministers in the first half of 1966 probably towards the end of May. It likely will take place in London.

The five-day session of deputy ministers, ending Friday, however, disclosed a basic conflict in approach which raises doubts over possible accomplishments of the ministerial meeting next spring.

Informants said the conflict derives from the differing Anglo-Canadian approach to the value of tariff preferences for developing countries seeking to get more of their manufactured products into the richer countries.

Britain suggests all the poorer countries, struggling to develop industry, should be given a general tariff advantage or preference not only within the Commonwealth but throughout the world.

pected a possible situation, under the British approach, where the United States, the world's biggest market, would be confronted by competitive demands for tariff preferences, with Latin America demanding something better than that attainable by African and Asian countries.

Developing countries have been demanding special tariff concessions from the richer countries in order to sell more of their manufactured goods such as textiles. But, in the Canadian view, tariff preferences do not guarantee sales. India gets a tariff preference in Canada on textiles but Japan, a non-Commonwealth country, sells more. The key was efficiency and this competition in efficiency was becoming tougher.

Canadian, U.S. Storm Foreseen

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram says a new Canadian American storm is developing over drastic U.S. measures to curb investments in this country.

The newspaper quotes Ottawa sources as saying the U.S. government is about to reveal a directive to 1,000 major companies to limit investment abroad, particularly in Canada.

It says Washington will suggest targets to U.S. firms to reduce expenditures on new plants and equipment outside the U.S. The newspaper says the plan is described as "voluntary."

The U.S. has long been concerned about its balance-of-payments situation.

The Telegram says it was learned that a Canadian statement on the balance of payments problem with the U.S. will be issued Sunday.

It also says the U.S. government is expected to make a statement Sunday night, probably coinciding with the Canadian statement.

URGE FAVOR REDUCTION

Canadian authorities believe that too much emphasis is being given to tariff preferences—one official described the current Commonwealth preferences as "transitory"—and more drive should be put into the job of reducing most favored-nation tariffs, the rates which apply generally to non-Commonwealth traders.

The argument behind the Canadian view is that if a Commonwealth country is prepared to negotiate a 10-per-cent cut in its tariff on a certain product, it may decide it can only negotiate a five-per-cent cut with non-Commonwealth countries, feeling it must reserve the other five per cent for Commonwealth partners.

This tends to introduce rigidity in tariff bargaining and prevents more widespread tariff slashes which, in the Canadian view, would benefit the developing as well as the industrialized countries.

Shopping Trip Ends In Death

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Emogene D. Harrington's weekly grocery shopping trip ended with her death Thursday as the 54-year-old wife of an internationally known space scientist was strangled and raped in the basement of her apartment house.

Dr. R. Paul Harrington, 60, head of the University of Cincinnati's department of aerospace science, was on campus when told of his wife's death.

Janitor Eugene Waugh found the body. He said Mrs. Harrington probably went into the basement to look for him.

"I've been helping her carry groceries up ever since she moved in," Waugh told reporters after being questioned by police.

EARNED HER MONEY
Acting with James Cagney on her first movie contract, Joan Blondell made 30 films in 28 months before asking for a rest.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X E
I S L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Opening lead—ace of hearts.
This unusual hand occurred in the match between Argentina and the United States in 1959. It is certainly not typical of how bridge is generally played in world competition, but perhaps the deal can serve in a negative way to illustrate how the game should not be played.

When the United States held the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown. West's double of a spade was rather light, as well as dangerous and eventually he had to pay a penalty for his folly. After some twisting and turning, he wound up at two diamonds doubled.
