TENDERS will be received by the undersigned until March 26th, at noon for the construction and exterior completion of a church at Tracadie, P.E.I.—foundation being built. Tenders will also be received for construction and exterior completion of same—all the material being supplied.

Lowest tender not necessarily accepted. Plans and specifications can be seen at the Parochial House, at Tracadie. P. J. HOGAN, P.P.

LOST—$17.00 reward will be paid by Edward Hayfield to any person returning a doable gold eye glass, with long gold chain attached.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

A. O. H.—Regular meeting Ancient Order of Hibernians will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.—The annual conference of the Methodist clergy will be held here this year probably in June.

Y M C A.—Mr. Justice Fitzgerald will address the meeting in the Y M C A Hall tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

PURGATORY.—At St. Dunstan's Cathedral tomorrow evening the preacher will be Rev. Ignatius McDonald, and the sermon will be on "Purgatory."

FORT AUGUSTUS.—The drawing in connection with the lottery in aid of Fort Augustus chapel which was to have been held at Fort Augustus on St. Patrick's Day has been postponed. In the evening a very successful concert was given, which was well attended, and the proceeds given to the church fund.

HOCKEY LAST NIGHT.—At the Skatin Rink last night the closing of the season was celebrated by our Hockey players in a last good game. The sides were Scotch vs. Irish and some of the best men from the Abegweit club were in the teams. The game was well played, the victory going to the Scots, the score being 4 to 3. The deciding goal was shot by Bet une. The other goals were shot by Sullivan (2) and McQuillan (1) for the Irish, and Howatt (2) and McLeod (1) for the Scotch.

INGENIOUS ADVERTISING.—An ingenious advertisement is being worked in Philadelphia's busy streets at night time. A man drops a lot of small change on the sidewalk, and, of course, everybody look in his direction. Directly after the money is dropped the man presses a button on his coat and lo, there appears in his hat a transparency of electric lights showing the name of a certain play. All the coins have a hole in them through which is fastened a stout thread, consequently a single jerk of the man's hand recovers every piece.

A COINCIDENCE.—A few Sundays ago, Rev. D. Sutherland preached a sermon in which he made reference to Barrie's latest book Margaret Ogilvie, in which he mentioned the generally accepted fact that Margaret Ogilvie is meant for the novelist's mother. The preacher paid a high tribute to the noble qualities of her character. At the conclusion of the sermon he was waited upon by two strangers who had been in the congregation, one of whom introduced himself as a Mr. Doherty, a nephew of Margaret Ogilvie and cousin to the celebrated Barrie.

Y. M. C. A. CONCERT.—The concert in the Y. M. C. A. Hall last night, furnished a very enjoyable programme, well carried out. Professor Vinnicombe's Orchestra and our leading vocalists and elocutionists assisted, and their efforts were greatly appreciated. Miss Florrie Blake, a new acquisition to our list of vocalists was well received. The committee in charge of the Y. M. C. A. are working hard for the improvement of the Institution. With a comfortable and pleasant assembly hall and a reputation for giving first class entertainments it is probable that they will be well patronized on all future occasions. The Executive desires to thank all those who kindly assisted last night.

FEAST OF ST. JOSEPH.—The Feast of St. Joseph was celebrated by a first Mass at 7, a. m., at St. Joseph's Convent, celebrated by Rev. Father Curran at which the pupils received the Holy Sacrament; a second Mass at 7.40, a. m., which Rev. Dr. Morrison, Director of the Sodality, celebrated. All the members approached the Holy Table. The singing during this service was by the Sodality Choir and was extremely sweet. The third Mass was celebrated by the Lord Bishop, the singing being conducted by the junior choir. Pontifical Benediction will be given this evening at 7 o'clock in the convent, at which special music will be sung by the choir. A silver collection will be taken up at the door. The service will be for grown up people and children will not be admitted.

THE HABITANT'S JUBILEE ODE.

Dat's finish it all, an' de English King is axin' us stayin' dere,
Where we have sam' right as de'noder peep comin' from Angleterre,
Long tan' for our modor so far away de poor Canayens is cry,
But de new step modor she's good and kin,
and it's all right biemby.

If de modor come dead w'en you're small garcon, leavin' you dere alone,
Wit' nobody watchin' for tear you fall an' hurt yousef on de stone,
An' noder good woman she tak' your han' de sam' your own modor do,
Is it right you don't call his modor, is it right you don't love her too?

Yaas, dat is de way Victoria fin' us dis Jubilee,
Sometam' we mak' fuss about not'ing, but it's all on de familiee,
An' w'enever dere's danger roun' her, no matter on sea or lan'
She'll fin' that les Canayens can fight sam' as best Englishman.

An' onder de flag of Angleterre, so long as dat flag was flyer,
Wit' deir English broder, les Canayens is satisfy leev an' die,
Dat's de message our fader geev us w'en dey're fallin' on Chateaugay,
An' de flag was kipin' dem safe den, dat's de one we will kip alway.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

Is Loyal to Canadian Interests

(From the Montreal 'Witness,' Feb. 5.)
The people of British Columbia are not easy to satisfy in the matter of the efforts which government, railways, press and people of Canada generally should make in order to secure to the British Columbia ports the Yukon business, but the Canadian Pacific Railway's course seems to be highly approved at least by the Victoria (B. C.) 'Times.' It says: "The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has shown wonderful, yet characteristic, energy in dealing with the Klondike question; they have fairly flooded the United Kingdom with literature in the highest degree beneficial to the interests of Canada, yet indulging in no abuse or misrepresentation of the Americans. The case for Canada has been put in such a manner that thousands who would have gone to Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and other American points will come to Victoria, Vancouver and other British Columbia cities. The C. P. R. can take passengers to Seattle quite as cheaply as they can land them in Victoria or Vancouver, but it is to the Company's credit that all their efforts have been to divert the travel to Canada. We don't expect railway companies to be influenced entirely by patriotism, but the C. P. R. have certainly in this matter done all within their power to give Canada the benefit of their influence without going out of the way to hurt rival lines by false statements. The Alaska Commercial Company with all their experience in the Yukon and thorough knowledge of the rules and regulations governing the import of goods to the Klondike, purchasing their stores in Victoria is sufficient testimony to the fact that the Canadian campaign has been conducted on the proper lines and that it will be completely successful."

NEW BOOK.

In the New Capital—the City of Ottawa in 1999.

In the New Capital, or Ottawa in 1999, is the title of a little book by John Galbraith, Barrister-at-law, Toronto, which has been sent to us. It deals principally with the social and labor problems of the day particularly in relation to our own country. The book is more in the form of a story than a series of essays, and is not at all uninteresting. Politicians will be interested with certain chapters, as well as amused, and it is worth while to follow out the author's idea of the condition of our capital in 1999. It is published by The Toronto News Company, price 25 cents.

The Wonderful Cheap Men

MAKE THE PREFERENCE BRITISH.

We advise the Ministers to amend their protective tariff, and to make it British and Canadian.

The present scheme gives tariff preference to countries that concede to us no corresponding consideration.

If it goes on, even after the German and Belgian treaties disappear, we shall still be giving preferences to foreigners from whom we receive nothing.

The government did not know this when it framed its reciprocal clauses.

But Mr. Chamberlain has pointed the thing out. Our Ministers had better back down from a position which makes us ridiculous, and provide that our preference shall be British, and British only.—Mail and Empire.

Prussian protectionists have carried the application of their principals to an extent undreamed of even by the most extreme protectionists of the United States. An order has been issued by the government of Prussia excluding foreigners from certain seats of learning. The reason given for this step is the alleged fact that foreigners utilize the knowledge and skill acquired at these scientific schools to establish industries in their own countries, and thus compete with those of Prussia. It is said that this example is likely to be followed by other universities and technical schools throughout Germany.
