

(From the New York Sun, July 15th.)

THE CASE OF M-LEOD.—From our reporter, who was present at the decision in this case by the Supreme Court, we learn that the course hereafter to be pursued was not fully determined upon. The prisoner himself expressed great anxiety to go immediately to a jury, confident of proving himself innocent in point of fact. He became weary of his long confinement, and his health suffered in consequence of it. His counsel have not yet decided whether it is advisable to carry the case to the Court of Errors, or consult his wishes and let it rest once to trial before jury.

It would evidently have been the wisest policy to have taken the case into the trial in the first place. Bringing him before the Supreme Court by habeas corpus has only produced delay and been attended with the excitement of transporting him from place to place. Had the trial been brought on at once, he might have been home long before this time; if convicted, the same points could have been reserved, and carried up, which have now been argued. His rights would not have been interfered with in the least by a trial, and if convicted; whilst it is more than probable, nay, certain, if his own story be true, that he would have been acquitted.

There was much excitement at Utica upon the subject. There was there selling his books and addressing small collections of citizens at various places. The public feeling is not, however, against M-Leod individually, but against the outrageous and abominable principle avowed by Great Britain. M-Leod can have a fair and impartial trial in any county in the state. If it cannot be conclusively proven that he was one of the cowardly gang that committed the crime with which he is charged, he will be promptly acquitted, and would be so even by a jury of the most excited "Patriots" on the frontier. We trust that his wishes will govern, that a special circuit will be immediately appointed, and his trial brought on.

If what he alleges be true; if he really had nothing to do with burning the Caroline and killing Durfee; if he never boasted of having "killed one of the d-d yankees," it is truly a hard case for him. It was the testimony of having made this boast which contributed to his indictment; it was the general belief that the boast was false that created a prejudice against him as a mean fellow. But as he denies both the act and the boasting of it, he should have a fair hearing, and if he disproves these allegations, he will receive the justice of being honorably discharged, as well as the generous sympathy of the whole American people for his unlucky confinement. But this country will never tamely submit to the principle set up by the British Government.

(From the Oneida Observer.)

M-LEOD.—A number of Journals have stated confidently that an appeal would be taken from the recent decision of the Supreme Court, in the case of M-Leod, to the Court of Errors. This we believe is an error. It is not, we understand, intended by the counsel of M-Leod to move for an appeal, but to bring the case to trial as soon as may be, probably in this county, in accordance with the expressed wish of the prisoner. The argument of the Supreme Court is deemed to have settled conclusively the legal points in the controversy; and the hope of obtaining a reversal of its decision by an appeal to the Court of Errors is not, we believe, indulged by any body. M-Leod is now in charge of the Sheriff of this county, in whose custody he will probably remain until his trial, which we learn he is anxious should take place as soon as possible, being entirely confident, as he asserts, of his ability to furnish the most conclusive proof that he had no participation in the outrage for which he stands indicted.

Since writing the above, we have learned that the Supreme Court, on application of M-Leod's counsel, have granted an order changing the venue for his trial to this county. It will take place in September next.

So the question is not to be carried to the Court of Errors! M-Leod's "Counsel" must have reviewed his determination. A hint from Washington may have produced this change. At any rate, we rejoice to see, late as it is, this inkling of common sense on the part of those who have had the management of the M-Leod affair.

LYNCH LAW IN EXTREMES.—The citizens of the Rock River region, as it is called, in Illinois, have committed a grievous crime, in revenging—we cannot call it punishing—the murder committed by one of the horse-thief fraternity, of which we published an account yesterday. The horrible details are given in the annexed extract from a letter in the Chicago American of the 3d instant, dated Belvidere, June 30.

The volunteer companies of De Kalb and Winnebago Counties immediately collected and went in search of the Driskells. On Tuesday they caught the old man and one of his sons—tried them by Lynch law, and were convinced that they were the cause if not the perpetrators of the atrocious murder of Mr Campbell. They sentenced them to immediate death, then placed the old man about ten rods off, and bade him prepare for death, giving him five minutes; when the time was up, about fifty balls went through him. The son was then served in the same manner—both devils proving game—neither making any disclosures, more than saying that another son of Driskell killed Campbell. The company are now pursuing this other Driskell, who has cut stick with a confederate; $500 reward is offered for his head. High-handed and revolting as this summary mode of procedure seems to be, it is, nevertheless, absolutely necessary, and receives the commendation of every individual who is at all acquainted with the facts. If a man refuses to join these companies, he is put down at once with the horse-thieves.

MORE MOB MURDERS PROBABLY.—The Galena Gazette mentions the report of the capture of Daniel Driskell, and a person named Aiken, whom the citizens of Ogle county went in pursuit of, after having condemned and executed the elder Driskell and son. Daniel Driskell, the Gazette says, had been tried and sentenced to be shot, and the sentence was to be executed on the 7th inst., so that ere this it is probable that he has fallen a victim to lawless and unchecked violence.—Boston Daily Mail, July 31.

CAPTURED SLAVERS.—The bark Harvest, which arrived at Fairhaven on Sunday last, reports that eleven slaves have recently been captured by H. B. M. cruisers, and carried into St. Helena, from July 1st, 1840, to April 3d, 1841. By these captures, fourteen hundred and seventy-six human beings were rescued from hopeless slavery, and will be restored to their country and liberty, while their inhuman stealers will meet the punishment due to piracy, according to the laws of Great Britain.

NAVAL ENGAGEMENT IN THE RIVER PLATE.—Rio Janeiro papers received at this office contain Monte Video dates to the 27th of May.

An engagement took place on the 24th, between the Monte Video squadron, under Commodore Coe, and that of Buenos Ayres, under Admiral Brown. The former consisted of six vessels, and the latter of three. Brown however had the best artillery, and his vessels were larger, and manned chiefly with seamen, while Coe's were chiefly manned with landsmen. The account states that notwithstanding these advantages, Coe gallantly sustained his adversary's fire for three hours. He then found it expedient to retire, and arrived at Monte Video without the loss of any of his vessels, which however suffered much damage. He had 12 men killed, and 20 wounded, including Lieut. Shannon. Brown had only six or eight men wounded, and his vessels suffered very little damage. They were on the 27th at anchor off Monte Video. Coe was repairing his vessels with all speed, and then intended to try his luck again. The writer is of opinion that he ought not to do so, but should wait for the corvette Vergara, recently purchased, when he would stand some chance of success. He also states that one of Coe's schooners, on the 26th, deserted to the enemy.—Journal of Commerce.

The Pocahontas, steamer, arrived here on Monday, from Pictou, with the second July Mail, by which we have received London dates to the 19th and Liverpool to the 20th ult. The Elections for Members to serve in the British Parliament had all terminated, and the returns exhibit, it is said, a majority of 41 in favor of the Conservatives. Great depression continued to be felt in all the commercial and manufacturing districts of Britain; but the news generally is not of much importance.

Sir George Murray is named as likely to succeed Lord Sydenham as Governor General of Canada.

Sir John Murray McGregor, Governor of Barbadoes, died on the morning of the 14th June. His Excellency was sincerely and justly beloved, and his death is lamented by all parties throughout the Island. The Honble. John Breathwaite was sworn in as temporary administrator of the government, until the proper successor should arrive.

HALIFAX, N. S. JULY 31.

The Acadia arrived from Liverpool at 11 o'clock this morning, in 10 days, 22 hours.

Captain Miller has relinquished the command of the Acadia—Captain Ryrie is the present commander. Captain Miller has been appointed to one of the West India steamers.

NOVA-SCOTIA FISHERY.—We are informed that the catch of mackerel, herring and codfish has been unusually abundant this season on the eastern and western shores. It is many years since we were favoured with such a good fishing season.

A new object of political agitation has been commenced in the western and middle counties of this Province. At Annapolis a meeting was recently convened to promote the Legislative Union of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The same object was similarly advocated at Amherst on the 15th instant. We are not prepared to pass an opinion upon the likelihood of the consummation so devoutly wished by some of our countrymen. New Brunswick has neither assented to, nor rejected the proposal. The consent of both parties is indispensable in such a covenant.

THE RACES.—A serious affray occurred between the military and sailors of H. M. S. Winchester at the close of Wednesday afternoon. The row began on the Common and was continued in the city. Several persons were very seriously injured before order could be restored.

AUGUST 2.—A report has reached this from St. John, N. B. that Mr. Fox, the British Minister at Washington, had demanded his Passports.

An Officer of the Belle Poule French Frigate, which is commanded by His Royal Highness the Prince de Joinville, arrived in Town this morning with Despatches for His Excellency Lord Falkland. He left the Ship at Newfoundland. His Royal Highness, we understand, intends visiting Halifax about the 25th instant.

It will be seen by an extract which we have made from the St. John Courier of Saturday last, that Capt. Nelson, of the Royal Engineers, had arrived at Temiscouata, with instructions to put the frontier Posts in that quarter in an efficient state of defence.

AUGUST 4.—Her Majesty's Brig Pilot, Capt. Ramsay, bearing the Broad Pendant of Commodore Douglas, arrived this morning from Jamaica, 35 days—she called at Havana and Bermuda.

A MAIL STEAM-SHIP ONCE A WEEK TO HALIFAX.—A suggestion lately made in this Journal, with reference to the Liverpool and Halifax mail steamships, is, we understand, likely to be realised. Government has, on the recommendation of Sir W. Colebrooke, the recently appointed Governor of New Brunswick, entered into a contract for the running a steam-packet weekly from Liverpool to Halifax, and vice versa, during eight months of the year. This is a step of the highest importance to the British provinces of North America.—Boston Journal of Commerce.

QUEBEC, July 28.—The temperature has experienced a very sudden change since yesterday. The thermometer, which, during the few past days, has ranged between 80 and 90 deg. in the shade, was down as low as 60 deg. this morning. The country, nevertheless, in this neighbourhood looks beautiful—the accounts from all parts represent the hay crops, which are now being gathered in, as abundant—the potato crop promises to be plentiful—and, we understand that throughout this district the wheat is "in ear," and should it be spared from the ravages of the worm, it is expected will yield an abundant return.

COLORS PEOPLE IN CANADA.—An attempt is making to induce the colored population of Canada to emigrate to Jamaica. The Montreal Courier computes that the number of negroes in Canada, who have escaped from slavery in the southern states of the Union, is about 20,000.

To the politeness of Mr. Stiles, the Editor of the Pictou Mechanic & Farmer, we are indebted for a Boston paper of the 31st ult. The news it contains is, however, unimportant.

The trial of M-Leod will take place in September next, at Utica, in Oneida County, the Attorney General for the State of New York having assented to a motion by Joshua A. Spencer, Esq., counsel for the prisoner, that the venue be changed from the county of Niagara to that of Oneida.

We last week committed a slight error, in noticing the splendid entertainment on board H. M. Brig Ringdove, yesterday evening. The following, from last Tuesday's Gazette, is a more correct, as well as a fuller account, than we were then able to furnish.

The Officers and Gentlemen of H. M. Brig Ringdove gave a very splendid Ball and Supper on Friday evening last, to His Excellency Sir Charles and Lady Mary Fitz Roy, Miss Fitz Roy and the principal inhabitants of Charlottetown and its neighbourhood—to the number of 90 persons. The decorations and fittings up of the beautiful ship were of the most striking and elegant description, and the whole were arranged with that excellent taste and neatness so peculiarly characteristic of the officers of Her Majesty's naval service. The merry dance was kept up with much spirit, and the rosy light of morning beamed above the horizon, before the delighted guests took leave of their kind and hospitable entertainers.

On Wednesday evening last, the gallant Commander of the Crocodile, Captain Milne, also entertained His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor and Family, together with a large party of the principal inhabitants of Charlottetown and its vicinity. A gentleman who was present has favoured us with the following description of the scene:—The entertainment consisted of a Ball and Supper, and was conducted upon a scale of splendour and magnificence never before surpassed in this community. When the company had reached the ship's side, in boats prepared for the purpose, they were received by Captain Milne and his officers with that attention and urbanity which so truly characterize the officers of Her Majesty's Navy. A lofty awning covered the whole of the ship's deck, from stem to stern, the after part of which, as far as the mainmast, was appropriated to the use of a card room, and for refreshments, and was fitted up in the shape of an Eastern tent, decorated with the flags of all nations. After the company had assembled, a curtain was drawn up, and exhibited to the astonished spectators a spacious ball room, extending from the mainmast to the foremast, and completely floored over for the convenience of the dancers. This room was brilliantly lighted up; and the chandeliers were composed of bayonets, ingeniously and tastefully grouped, while the sides and roof were profusely ornamented with flags and flowers, arranged in a variety of appropriate devices. The dance continued with much spirit until one o'clock, when supper was announced. The company were then escorted to the main deck, where they seated themselves at a table extending the whole length of the deck, and spread with every delicacy which could be procured. A variety of complimentary toasts were proposed and replied to during supper, at the conclusion of which dancing was resumed, and did not cease until the early beams of morning warned the lingering guests to retire—all of whom departed, equally impressed with the generous hospitality of Capt. Milne and the unwearied exertions of his officers to promote the enjoyment of the evening.

BAZAAR.—On Wednesday last, we witnessed the splendid Exhibition of Ladies' Fancy Work, which was laid out for inspection on board the Castalia, previous to the day of Sale. The tables were spread the whole length and across the end of the spacious deck of that vessel, the whole extent of which was literally covered with the various and beautiful specimens of Ladies' fancy work, as was also the side of the deck behind the tables. We noticed several valuable contributions from the Duchess Dowager of Richmond, Lady Jane Peel, Lady Sarah Maitland, Lady Seymour, and other Ladies, connections and friends of the Benevolent and indefatigable Lady Patrons. We were particularly struck with a beautiful Chair and a Stool, worked by her Ladyship, and an equally beautiful piece of needle work, by Lady Seymour. It would be only invidious for us further to particularize, where every thing was so neatly and handsomely executed. The Sale commenced at 11 o'clock, on Thursday, by which time the Bazaar was crowded with visitors. We observed that the Officers of H. M. Ships Crocodile and Ringdove were large purchasers. At the conclusion of the sale the very handsome sum of £230 18s. 9d. was found to be realized, £64 18s. 4d. of which was produced by the table of the Lady Patrons, £18 for admission at the door, and £15 at the Cake table, which was exceedingly well supplied with a great variety of Cakes, Pastry, Confectionery, &c. We cannot do justice to the benevolence of Lady Mary Fitz Roy, for the prominent part she has taken upon this and all other occasions where the good of her suffering fellow creatures is the object of her exertions, and if it should prove our misfortune, as we fear it soon will, to be deprived of the benefit of her example and valuable influence in the cause of charity, it will be long ere the poor will "look upon her like again."—Gaz.
