THE DAILY EXAMINER

SEPTEMBER 15, 1900.

THE PEOPLE'S LOVE AND RESPECT

MR. McBRIDE, the able and active correspondent who accompanied Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster upon their Maritime tour has written an interesting letter to the Montreal Star in the course of which he says :—

" One thing struck me, during all the rousing ovations which Sir Charles Tupper received, more than any other feature, and that was the amount of personal affection manifested toward Sir Charles, especially in his native province where he has been longest and most widely known. The oldest inhabitant made a pilgrimage to the place where he was, in order to grasp his hand, and persons in all walks of life showed him the greatest deference and esteem. They seemed to manifest an air of proprietorship in him, claiming him as one of their own and one of whom they were proud. In Cape Breton the Scotchmen seem to have adopted him as the chief of their clan. When Sir John Macdonald last visited Sydney, one of the Macdonalds came miles to see him, and when Sir John was leaving, the Cape Breton Macdonald rushed up and grasping him by the hand said, "Good bye, Laird Macdonald, good bye Mrs. Mac." He made a difference between the laird and his Saxon wife. The people seem to give Sir Charles the honorary position of laird. When he was in the midst of his address at Sydney a burly miner walked gravely down the aisle and up to the stage, and stretching forth his hand said: "Well, good-bye, Sir Charles, I must go now, I'll be your friend. Needless to say Sir Charles came down to the front of the stage, and heartily grasped the man's hand, though it must have cost him no little pain to stoop with his injured knee. When Sir Charles arrived in Sydney the second man to grasp his hand was a man in mechanic's garb, who said, "Sir Charles, the last time I heard you was in Boston, and it is proud I am to shake hands with you, for you told those Yankees the truth about our land."

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Lord Salisbury has returned to London. Fresh developments in the Chinese situation are now expected.

—It is reported that the French Government is in favor of resigning in order to avoid a crisis over the charges in connection with alleged Exposition scandals.

—A Liberal newspaper refers, not exactly in admiring terms, to the "big guns" of the Conservative party. It admits that these big guns have got the range on the Government to a nicety, and are making good practice.

—It is admitted that Mutual Preferential Trade would be a good thing for Canada, including P. E. Island. The first thing to be done is to show that we are in favor of it by voting for it. A good thing was never gained without effort.

—Dublin papers say that a famine is impending in Ireland on account of the potato blight, which is reported as threatening the entire destruction of the crop. It is thought, however, that the extent of the evil has been exaggerated.

—Baron Curzon of Kedleston, viceroy of India, has cabled the Indian office that good rains have fallen in Madras and Central Bengal and on the Gangetic Plain, relieving all present anxiety regarding the autumn crops in those territories. The total number now receiving famine relief has fallen to 4,334,000.

—Referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Imperial federation policy, Mr. Hugh John McDonald declares that there was no country in the world that enjoyed fuller liberty than Canada, and that this country did not wish to send five or six members to be lost in a House of 650 members. We are, he says, not ready to vote for this suicidal policy simply to please the vanity of Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Tarte.

—Referring to preferential trade, Hugh John McDonald said at Montreal that if it could be accomplished, it would add to the value of every farm and of every farmer. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had pledged himself to this policy. But when he got into power he had done nothing to carry out the promise. He did worse. He went to England and told them Canada did not want any favor in the English market.

—There is the difference between Sir Wilfrid Laurier's advocacy of mutual preferential trade with Great Britain in 1896, and Sir Charles Tupper's in 1900, that Sir Charles Tupper means what he says and will try to do what he promises, whereas Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as his acts show, was just talking for votes, and did not intend to fulfil his pledges. A preferential trade vote for Laurier was a shot in the air ; one for Tupper hits the mark at the target.

—Mr. Hugh John McDonald said at Montreal "we have never raised the 'Blue Ruin' cry. If the country is flourishing we are glad to acknowledge it, and none of the ... acknowledge without the slightest hesitation that Canada has prospered since Sir Wilfrid Laurier came into power ; there is no question about that ; but no gentleman here tonight can point me to one single act that Sir Wilfrid Laurier or his Government have done that has advanced it one stage." (Cheers.)

—Professor Craig, former horticulturist of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, has recently been appointed to a position in Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., where he is a co-worker with the great Professor Bailey of that institution. He left the Experimental Farm at Ottawa three years ago to attend Cornell University, and for attaining the degrees of Bachelor of Agriculture and Master of Science he accepted a position in Ames Agricultural College, Iowa.

... written from Pretoria, Miss Affleck, one of the nurses who accompanied the ... contingent, gives an ... account of the difficulties of ... " Individually, they are ... , "but they make very trying ..." At the time her letter was written Miss Affleck was being driven to the verge of distraction by a Lord, two colonials, two doctors, one Major, seven Captains and five Lieutenants. She also mentions that she had seen Mrs. Krueger and plucked violets from her garden in the face of the sentries. Miss Affleck formerly practised her profession in Ottawa.

—The Winnipeg Telegram recalls the patriotic words of Sir John Macdonald during the Washington Treaty debate : "I hope to see the day, and if do not that my son may be spared to see Canada the right arm of England, to see Canada a powerful auxiliary to the Empire." This, says the Telegram, was a prophecy as well as a wish. While Sir John saw Canada grow in strength, his son, at the call of the people of Canada, now places himself at their service to help in giving them a government which, fulfilling his father's desire, will make Canada truly and indeed " the right arm of England —a powerful auxiliary to the Empire."

—Mr. Fielding has lately announced at Halifax that the expenditure for the year ending June 9, 1900, reached $52,713,809. This includes the two classes of outlays — those charged to revenue and those chalked up against the debt. Here is a comparison of the extravagant Tory and the economical Liberal expenditures : —

Under Conservatives.

1892	$42,272,136
1793	40 853 727
1894	43,008,233
1895	42,872,338
1896	41,702,383

Under Liberals.

1897	$42,972,755
1898	45 334,281
1899	51 542,635
1900	52,713,810

Notice how the outlays decreased from 1894 to 1898, and again how they have jumped up from 1895 to 1900. Then remember that as Laurier contemplated the Conservative figures he promised to reduce them by four millions.

TEST YOUR CASE

Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and be Cured of Stomach Disease.

You Can't Lose Anything, and You Will Gain Health and Strength—Dyspepsia and Indigestion Will Vanish at Once and For Ever.

Why will some people suffer pain, when there is absolutely no necessity for there to do so? No man would think of putting his hand in the fire, "just for fun."

But thousands of persons suffer the miseries of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach Nausea, Waterbrash, Biliousness, Colic, Nervous Prostration, and other stomach diseases, week after week, although they need not do so, any more than they need to put their hands in the fire "for fun."

There's not a bit of guess work about this statement. It is "dead certainty." It is the plain unvarnished truth.

So long as Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets can be got, there need be no such things as stomach diseases. This is another fact, another piece of the simple truth.

If you don't believe it—test them. They'll convince you by curing you.

Why not make a test case of your own? It is very easy to do. It won't cost you much. It won't take long. If Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets should fail (but they won't) you won't be any worse. If they cure you (as they positively will) you are rid of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or whatever your trouble may be forever.

All you have to do is to take one or two of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. You need not restrict your food. Eat heartily. Eat, laugh, take Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and grow fat and healthy. Try this rule. Take this advice. Test Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and see if they don't cure you.

CANADA'S MINERALS.—According to the last annual geological survey report the total mineral production of Canada in 1899 amounted $38,661,010, the production the previous year being $26,661,430. The value of the metallic minerals was $... and non-metallic, $16,655,156, the balance, $... being the estimated value of products unspecified and unreported. Canada's mineral production is on the increase.
