

Christmas Seals Sale Returns Deadline Set

Miss Blanche Conway, seal sale secretary, P.E.I. Tuberculosis League, reported yesterday that according to the third interim report of the 1962 Christmas seal campaign, returns to date have exceeded last year by two per cent. Total collections received so far amount to $11,500.

The 1962 seal sale campaign officially closes Feb. 28.

Miss Conway says those who have forgotten to send in their contributions will need no reminders through the mail. It is hoped that there will be no misunderstanding regarding the closing date of the 1962 campaign.

Last year the mobile chest x-ray unit, which is maintained through the sale of Christmas seals, was utilized more than the previous year. A total of 11,962 chest x-rays were taken, 6,843 of which were of tuberculous disease and were immediately placed under treatment.

Biased Thinking Charged In Indian Hospital Field

EDMONTON (CP)—Dr. W. L. Falconer, regional superintendent of the Indian northern health service, has accused the Glasgow royal commission of biased and uninformed thinking in its recommendations on Indian hospitals.

The commission on government efficiency recommended cancellation of construction or improvement of separate Indian hospitals.

Dr. Falconer said he doesn't think the commissioners—who visited Alberta, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon—spent enough time in the area to make the right decision.

"They were only here for three or four days and flew north just long enough to get there and back," said Dr. Falconer. "I don't think they've given it enough thought."

He added: "They are a biased commission."

Health Minister Dr. J. D. Ross of Alberta was critical of a suggestion in the report that provinces have wasted money on wrong hospital designs and elaborate facilities.

"We're probably more conscious of such expenditures than the federal government," he said. "We're anxious to cut costs as anyone."

He added: "If the federal government would get out of the local field, many of the problems would disappear. The matter of health is a provincial responsibility. There is no need for the federal government to maintain a large health department just to duplicate the facilities of the provinces."

Engineer Graduates Show Preference For Home Jobs

MONTREAL (CP)—Engineers students scheduled to graduate from McGill University this year have indicated Canada's future has more appeal to them than the prospects of immediate, higher paid positions in other countries.

This is regarded as a reversal of the trend of previous years when many engineering graduates snapped up lucrative offers from the United States and abroad.

Arthur Dufays, president of the Engineering Undergraduate Society, estimates "not more than 10 per cent of this year's class will go to the U.S."

"Most of us feel Canada is the land of today, not only of tomorrow," he said. "We want to live and find our careers here."

Urg Goldberg, graduating a mechanical engineering, says "many students in my class think they will get a broader education if they work in Europe before returning to Canada to work for good."

He felt only a few classmates would go with American companies.

"Not that the higher salaries and good research facilities of American companies don't intrigue them," Goldberg said, "but they think Canada offers better basic experience for an engineer than the U.S."

These remarks were made during an intensive three-day recruiting program for graduating McGill engineering students, a program which involved 250 students and 90 companies, many of them American.

Asked why he thought the students would prefer home jobs, he said: "I've found that the U.S. offers a wonderful idea to brighten your weekend! treat your family to our SUNDAY DINNER."
