

Fall Fest is here! The Student Union has taken a lot of time and care in choosing the entertainment for this years Fest and they have done an excellent job in lining up top rate bands at reasonable prices.

(Just two dollars to see Taquila) The attendance at this years Main Events has left something to be desired but we hope that Fall Fest Events will be different. Fall Fest only comes once a year so you should take advantage of it. It is a great way to rid yourself of those "Mid-Term Blues".

We here at the Sun have also been having a problem with apathy. Many people have said that the Sun is not what it could be and that it is "missing something". Well, we are trying our best but with full course loads it is difficult for a few people to get the stories and spend the time doing things that you want to see. If you would like to see something covered it would be a great help to us if you do something about it. Even if you just came up and told us what you want. None of the staff here have ever had any experience in working on a newspaper before and we are still learning, you could learn along with us. There will be a questionnaire circulating next week asking what you want to see in the Sun and we would be grateful to have your cooperation on it.

LETTERS

Dear Editor;

What a strange name you have! No matter, I wish to congratulate you on the fine job the SUN did covering the recent Report turmoil. In a matter of such heated and often overly-polarized debate, your articles and columns were fair and well-written.

As Goethe once said, "I didn't see the stop sign, officer, and neither did my horse." Don't ask me what that means-I'm not a lit major.

-The Green Dragon

Dear editor;

It is indeed with heavy heart and metaphorically clanging leper's bell that I return once again to my favorite precious-white-material-of-tusks tower to report that what our scout's reports were indeed, correct, albeit not entire. Yes, my friend, the outside world is still as messed-up as ever. Out there, away from the warm heart-hearth of academia, dwell strange and eldritch wizards called CAPITALISTS, who have, in their wisdom, killed over ten thousand people last year and turned everyone else out there into objects for sale, complete with price tags. I have seen with my own eyes a strange book called "How To Sell Yourself", at the local slave market cum Canada Manpower Centre, and it was not a pretty sight.

-Ivan the Infrared.

Dear Editor;

Being the gentleperson that I am, it pains me greatly to bring the brickbats to bear against the policies of you, my favorite editor in all the SUN(or, at least, most of it). However, I can remain silent no longer. The VIEW FROM THE TOP, the Blanchard expository, the crude "humour" of the binary-minded has finally moved me to action. I wish to go on record as saying that the obscenity of these "articles" (both the obscenity of their complete paucity of imagination and the utter lack of taste) has completely turned my stomach, not to mention my liver and lights. This is it! No more! I don't think that we, as intelligent, ethical students and human beings really need to demonstrate such childishness week after week after week.

I call on all humans on campus to support your

SUN-write. The SUN can be a forum and meeting-place for all those seeking to express their feelings and opinions, not just the preserve of a few drooling brats.
