Champion Easter Beef

Thomas Sanderson, North River, is holding the Grand Champion Steer at the annual Easter Beef Show, yesterday. On the right Beverly Jewell, aged 15, North River, is holding the triple crown steer which was judged Reserve Champion. Champion Shorthorn and Champion Club Steer. Standing in rear is the judge Mr. Fred R. Major, Milliken, Ontario.

The standard and appearance of the steers shown at the annual Easter Beef Show is comparable to that of any shown anywhere in eastern Canada, remarked the judge. Mr. Major, manager Massey Harris Farms, Milliken, Ontario. He noted that there was a far higher average of top grade cattle than he had seen at the Amherst Show.

The Island steers are thicker, more depth of flesh and finish, he said. The close culling job of the Island showmen had faced him with a very difficult task to place them in order of merit. Mr. Major told the exhibitors that they should have no qualms about the showing of their beef cattle against any of that shown at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto or any of the other major shows.

PRIZE WINNERS

The leading prize winners at yesterday's show were Fulton Sanderson and Sons of York Point with three firsts and a second and Dan Jewell of North River with two championships and a reserve champion first and a third. The championship and class winners were: Grand Champion Steer, Thomas Sanderson, North River; Reserve Champion, Beverly Jewell, North River; Champion Short-horn, Beverly Jewell; Reserve Champion Short-horn, Dan Jewell, North River; Champion Hereford, Thomas Sanderson, North River; Reserve Champion Hereford, Fulton Sanderson, York Point; Champion Aberdeen Angus, Leigh MacEachern, Tea Hill; Reserve Champion Aberdeen Angus, Robert Craswell, Hampshire and Champion Calf Club Steer, Beverly Jewell.

$78,000 In P.W. Estimates For Victoria Wharf

OTTAWA (Special) — Tenders will be called shortly for improvements at Victoria harbor on the south coast of Prince Edward Island. It was learned here Thursday from the Department of Public Works. The improvements had been requested by Neil A. Matheson, Liberal M.P. for Queens on the representations of his constituents in the Victoria area.

Amount placed in main parliamentary estimates for the job is $78,000.

Works authorities said here today that the existing wharf at Victoria harbor is of wood crib construction and in poor condition. To remedy this situation the Department will line the wharf with 27 feet of steel sheet piling and in this manner use the old wharf as "fill". It is said to be the most lasting as well as the most economical method of effecting necessary improvements.

Mr. Matheson said when reached by telephone at his home today that he was convinced the improvements were not only desirable but essential. He remembered the Victoria area particularly well from his boyhood days.

Daylight Time Resolution Quashed In Legislature

A resolution asking that daylight time for urban centres be allowed during the summer months was quashed in the Legislature yesterday afternoon after the House went into committee to consider the resolution which was introduced by Hon. B. Earle MacDonald. It was seconded by Mr. MacDonald's colleague, Mr. A. MacIsaac (Liberal), Fifth Queens.

Mr. MacDonald said he had spoken on the matter of daylight time in the first three sessions of the last Assembly. He said the Legislature had seen fit to allow urban centres to go on daylight time for the past three years but some person or some very few persons had seen fit "to start the pot boiling again".

The following is the text of the resolution:

Whereas there has been considerable agitation throughout the Province that the whole Province remain on the same time during the whole year.

And Whereas the people living in urban centres are desirous of having Daylight Saving Time in effect during the summer months that they may enjoy the extra hour of Daylight thereby provided.

Be It Therefore Resolved that this Legislative Assembly in Session assembled approve of Charles J. MacIsaac, Chairman of the Daylight Saving Time during the summer season.

Mr. MacDonald said he was speaking for the majority of people in his District when he urged the change to daylight time during the summer months. He said the city people who worked in offices all day required an extra hour of sunshine which he thought country members should not be unwilling to allow them.

He said the suggestion of some members to the present Session to work an hour earlier would result in a loss to these merchants because they would be open an hour before the legal time and closed an hour before the legal time. In this way, he said there would be a loss to each day.

He felt that everything had gone along fairly well during the past few summers and although the people asking for it were in the minority their rights should be given consideration. It was a case of the country compromising with the city, he said.

Mr. MacDonald said that if he was Mayor of the City and the Government came to him and said they would withdraw their provincial subsidy, "I would say you can keep it. We would rather do without the subsidy and be able to have our own wishes".

The speaker said that daylight time did not so acutely affect the farmer, "he is out in the sun all day and doesn't need it", he said.

Strong opposition met Mr. MacDonald's resolution. Those speaking against it were: Hon. J. George MacKay, Forrest Phillips (Liberal) Second Prince, Harold Smith (Liberal), Fourth Queens, Frank MacNutt (Liberal) Third Prince, Hon. M. L. Bonnell, Minister of Health, G. E. Saville (Liberal), Fifth Kings, Harvey Douglas (Liberal) Second Kings, Dr. L. G. Dewar was not in effect so long as it was uniform throughout the Province.

Premier Matheson said he was not going to speak to the resolution except to refer to several letters or petitions that had reached him from various Women's Institutes, farm organizations, school districts etc.

R. R. Bell said the resolution was contrary to the law as it now exists. He said that urban centres were on daylight time last year and there was no trouble about it. He was aware that the majority of the country people wanted "StanCar" time and it was up to the representatives of the country districts to see that they got it.

Hon. Mr. MacDonald: "Are you for or against it?"

Mr. Bell: "No answer"

Mr. MacDonald: "Are you willing to see the city people set their clocks an hour ahead?"

Mr. Bell: "They got along all right last year"

Mr. MacIsaac, the seconder of the resolution said the matter should not be a case of Country vs. City "I am not convinced with the arguments of the rural members. It just doesn't add up", he added. "When we had daylight time during the war, the hay was made and the cows gave just as much milk. I cannot see why they can't still do it."

After the Leader of the Opposition had discussed the resolution briefly in Committee Mr. G. E. Saville moved that the Speaker take the chair, thus quashing the motion.

Gov't Asked To Take Early Action

School Unit No. 1 will be broken up. This was the decision reached by the Legislature yesterday afternoon after the report of the Committee on Education was submitted before the House by Hon. J. George MacKay, chairman of the committee.

Mr. MacKay said the committee had made exhaustive research into the problems of the Unit. Evidence from the Royal Commissions Report was considered and several interviews were held with the members of the Trustee Board.

He said the Committee was quite convinced that it was utterly impossible for the Unit to carry on. He observed that no harmony existed between the districts concerned and when there was lack of harmony very little could be accomplished.

The text of the resolution is as follows:

Your Committee on Education has met and wish to report as follows:

Your Committee discussed problems in education generally, and we note with satisfaction the additional appropriation in the estimates for increased teachers' salaries.

Your Committee has given careful consideration to the problem of School Division No. 1, and has carefully studied the Report of the Commission, dated July 12, 1955.

Your Committee is appreciative of the extensive work of the Commission and have taken their recommendations under very careful consideration. Your Committee interviewed members of the Board of Trustees of the School Division, and had available to it the evidence of the Commission and other petitions and documents from the office of the Minister and have made such inquiry as it deemed necessary, and has given some thought to the problems of sewerage and water supply confronting the Villages of Parkdale and Spring Park, with a view that they may at some future date, be amalgamated with the City of Charlottetown.

With due consideration for these and other matters your Committee offers the following recommendations:

That the School Division be broken up in conformity with the wishes of the people, as expressed in the plebiscite, That the districts be (Continued on page 2 col. 5)

Cypriots Defy Warnings

NICOSIA (Reuters)—The biggest general strike ever to grip Cyprus stopped everything Thursday but the unrelenting battle between terrorists and British security forces.

The rapidly growing strike began shortly after the deportation of Archbishop Makarios, the island colony's Union-with-Greece leader, Thursday it created an ominous silence in the streets of the island's major cities.

One by one the stores shut down. As the day wore on, the streets became deserted in Nicosia, a British serviceman's wife and six-year-old child were injured by flying glass when a bomb landed in their home.

Three bombs also were thrown at British army vehicles in Famagusta.

Security forces, hunting for terrorists, found several home-made bombs a few yards from the spot where a British police sergeant was shot to death Wednesday in Nicosia.

FIND POWDER CACHE

They also found 170 empty cartridge cases and quantities of gun powder as they combed scores of houses, stores and offices in the "black corner" of Nicosia's Greek quarters. Many of the citizens were stripped and searched at special search centres, with British women searching the Cypriot women.

Two Children Dead After Fire In Hull

HULL, Que. (CP)—Two children died as a result of a blaze that swept through a frame dwelling here Thursday.

Diane, nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fournel, died of burns on her way to Sacred Heart Hospital here.

Her two-year-old brother Denis died in hospital about two hours after he was admitted.

Their deaths raised to 40 the number of lives claimed by fire in the Hull-Ottawa district this winter, including 27 children.

Firemen found the two in a second-floor bedroom in the two-story frame building. Cause of the fire was not known. An oil space heater was located on the second floor.

A family living in the front section of the two-family house escaped unhurt. Their quarters were damaged only by smoke and water. Firemen quelled the fire in 20 minutes.

Neighbors said Mrs. Fournel was shopping at a nearby grocery store and had left the two children sleep in the bedroom. An older brother, Giles, 5, discovered the blaze. He had been playing outside.

Two Children Dead After Fire In Hull

Firemen were called by neighbors. Giles is reported to have met his mother on her way home. She saw the smoke and tried to enter the house, but she was kept out by the fire.

The mother was treated for shock by a doctor at a neighbor's house.

The two children were first taken to a neighbor's home, then to the hospital. The girl died through strangulation.

Dr. McLean, one of 15 witnesses subpoenaed to give evidence at the hearing, said he performed an autopsy a few hours after Linda's body was found on Commissioners street, in the city's east-end waterfront district.

Mr. McLean, a mail-truck driver and father of the prisoner's son, said he saw the girl's body with his head lowered.

Dr. McLean said marks on the girl's throat indicated her own scarf had been used to strangle her. Her outer clothing had been disarranged and some of her undergarments were torn.

"She was only a girl of pre-pubescent age but she was well developed and appeared much older than 13," he testified.

"I found a blue, silk scarf rather loosely knotted around her neck. There was a deep bruise or brush burn encircling her neck."

Ont. Sex-Slaying Trial Opens

TORONTO (CP)—Evidence that 13-year-old Linda Lampkin was raped and then strangled with her own scarf marked the opening Thursday of a preliminary hearing for Robert Fitton, 21, charged with murder in connection with the sex-slaying Jan. 18.

Dr. Chester McLean, provincial pathologist, testified the girl's death was caused by asphyxia through strangulation.

Roaring Ball Of Fire Reported Hurling Through Ontario Sky

TORONTO (CP)—A roaring ball of fire, seen hurtling through the Ontario sky early Thursday, was reported to have turned night into day at points more than 150 miles apart.

Experts said the flaming object reported by provincial police from Haliburton to Brantford, was almost certainly a meteor.

A similar object, seen streaking through the sky south of Brantford Saturday night, also was believed to have been a meteor.

Brantford schoolteacher Joseph Garlow said 10-year-old Carol Hill showed him a rock she found near her home next morning. Unlike others nearby, it was not ice-coated.

She told him she saw a ball of fire and heard a thud Saturday. Several other persons reported seeing the object.

First reports of the second meteor at 3 a.m. Thursday were from Newmarket. Within minutes police reports were jammed with reports of a "mysterious object."

Fears that the object was an aircraft resulted in a flood of police messages from Haliburton, Guelph, Brantford, Malton, Peterborough, Belleville, Niagara Falls and other widely-separated places.

Checks with Malton and Trenton airports, however, revealed no planes were out.

HAD RED TAIL

Police described the object as "a bluish-white ball of fire" with a "long green streak and red tail-end." They said it was brighter than a skyrocket as it burst across the sky.

In Haliburton a policeman said the town was so brightly lit "you could read a newspaper."

In Ottawa Dr. P. M. Millman, head of the upper-atmosphere search section of the National Research Council, said he is "almost certain the object was a bright meteor."

He said it probably disintegrated without striking ground.

The David Dunlop observatory at Richmond Hill agreed, but had no record of the sighting.

Considers Number Of Civilians In Defence Dept. Too High

OTTAWA (CP)—A former Liberal cabinet minister Thursday doubted the defence department requires one civilian employee for every 2½ service personnel.

"The proportion of civil servants in the department of defence seems to be very large," Senator William D. Euler, minister of trade in 1955, told the Senate in a shorter work week.

(Federal civil servants, excluding revenue postmasters, totalled 166,800 at the end of last November.)

During discussion of the government's superannuation fund, Senator Inor suggested that money in the fund be invested in national housing.

Mr. Deutch said the fund at the end of March, 1955, contained $725,500,000. The fund was not invested but the government carried it as a liability and paid four-percent interest.

Wireless Is Blacked Out

NEW YORK (AP) Wireless communication circuits throughout the daylight world were blacked out for 30 to 40 minutes Thursday.

The experts explained that it was a sudden ionospheric disturbance caused by a flare associated with a sunspot. They said all wireless signals are absorbed in the ionosphere during the disturbance.

The blackout began in New York at 11:25 a.m. EST. RCA communications said it hit San Francisco at 11:32 a.m. EST, three minutes before the effect was felt in New York, indicating the disturbance was moving from west to east.

Malenkov Begins Visit To Britain

LONDON (AP) — Georgi M. Malenkov arrived in Britain Thursday on his first visit beyond the Iron Curtain. Apparently he was delighted by the experience.

The pudgy Russian who lost his job as prime minister a year ago because of self-confessed failures spent the first afternoon of his three-week tour of Britain in the Soviet embassy.

He had lunch there with British diplomats and one British electrician official.

Malenkov holds the title of Soviet minister of power stations. He was a last-minute choice in Moscow to head a 14-man delegation to look over British power installations from the Channel coast to the north of Scotland. But some British men say his mission aims beyond merely inspecting power plants.

Scotland Yard tried to drop a security blackout over Malenkov and his activities as soon as he stepped from a Soviet transport plane. But the Russians themselves were free and easy.

Report On Lung Cancer Causes

TORONTO (CP) — Emission of smoke and gases into the air by modern industrial and transportation methods is "very probably a major cause of lung cancer," an Ontario legislature committee said Thursday.

Concentration in urban centres of smoke and gases could cause health damage "ranging in degree from mental depression and loss of normal mental and physical efficiency, through chronic bronchitis and allergic manifestations to lung cancer and death."

Nurse To French Tycoon Is Given His Fortune By Court

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (Reuters)—A married nurse who for nearly 20 years attended millionaire French rubber and coffee tycoon Gustave Sabourain Thursday was awarded his entire fortune of 1,000,000 francs ($2,800,000) by a court here.

Mrs. Irene Hunter, French-born wife of Capt. Howard Hunter, 60, a former Canadian Army veterinary surgeon and retired French civil servant, received the money under a will made out by Sabourain in 1941.

The millionaire died in 1954, aged 82, after making his fortune as a pioneer rubber and coffee planter in Indochina.

In ruling for Mrs. Hunter, the judge threw out charges by four of Sabourain's sisters and nephews, who contested the will, that the will was "the fruit of immorality and adultery" — proof of which would have been sufficient to nullify the will under French law.

The judge said that before the will was published the family had written letters to Mrs. Hunter expressing their gratitude for being a "devoted nurse."

Sabourain's fortune, which included property here and in Indochina, also contained an art collection valued at $560,000.

The court was told that Mrs. Hunter first met Sabourain in 1930 in Monte Carlo. She nursed him from 1934 until 1942, when she was married but returned after the war to attend him until November, 1954.

After the judge's ruling, Mrs. Hunter told reporters that her husband, who originally came from Belleville, Ont., had not been back to Canada since the First World War.

The couple settled in Monte Carlo after Hunter retired from his post as a French agriculture ministry veterinary surgeon.

"Perhaps now we can take a holiday to Canada," Mrs. Hunter said.

Columnist Cites Blunders

LONDON (CP)—Columnist Hans Swaffer alternately raps and praises the Duke of Edinburgh in the third of a series of articles.

The 76-year-old columnist, writing in The Daily Herald, cites two examples of royal extravagance which he implies were encouraged by the duke, and comments:

"Someone . . . should advise Prince Philip about the many blunders he makes over royal publicity."

In the same article, Swaffer discusses such matters as the duke's alleged lack of musical appreciation—"a musical comedy . . . is about his level"—his enthusiasm for welfare work and his ability to support the Queen during royal appearances. Swaffer concludes:

"Just as Albert's conduct (Prince Albert was consort to Queen Victoria) greatly strengthened the roots of the throne, so Philip's personality has done much to increase its present popularity. The British nation owes him much."

Duke Both Rapped, Praised

SYMPATHETIC TO DUKE

The Daily Herald, a Labor newspaper, also published articles by Swaffer on the Duke of Edinburgh's fittings and ordered other furniture to replace it.

The columnist also says that the duke sometimes uses the Britannia when a service plane would do. "How many more millions will Philip's passion for the sea cost the nation?"

In the next breath, Swaffer praises the duke for showing "much common sense" in many palace problems, and mentions the economy moves he has initiated, including modern labor-saving appliances.

The underlying theme of the articles is a comparison of the duke with Prince Albert. Swaffer's statement is that the duke is "infinitely more popular."
