Tigers Are Snarling

THE march of Detroit Tigers has the baseball folks wondering just how far the Bengals will travel.

Runners-up to the Yankees a year ago, the Detroiters played indifferent ball earlier this season.

IT'S a long, long time since a pennant flew in Tiger Stadium. It was away back in 1945 that Cubs and Tigers squared off in the world series.

THE Tigers have been responding handsomely of late but they need to keep right at it if they want a slice of that world series money.

OVER in the National League, the Giants and Dodgers are acting as though they are preparing to make another stand like the one in 1951.

That was the season the clubs ended the regular schedule in a hasty tie and separated off for the best-of-five playoff game.

Thirty-Three Racers Ready For Today's '500' Classic

By DALE BURGESS INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Some 250,000 speed enthusiasts, thrill hunters and people who just like the crowds were pouring into Indianapolis and suburb Speedway Tuesday night while 23 masters of auto competition tried to get a little rest before today's 500-mile race.

Uncertain racing weather was forecast for a field that had shattered all the qualifying records at the old speedway in the 10-mile time trials.

Variable cloudiness with humid heat, winds and scattered thunderstorms are expected when crews start the following 400-horsepower engines shortly before 11 a.m.

EST Temperatures from the mid-80s up are forecast. There will be a parade lap and a pace lap and then they'll race for about three and a half hours.

It's a short day's work but a hazardous one for some driver who will pick up about $120,000 for first place. The purse depends on the crowd and was an even $400,000 last year when A.J. Foyt Jr., Houston, Texas, set the race record of 139.13 mph.

Track officials gave the boys their annual warning against reckless driving at the pre-race meeting Tuesday. Emphasis was in avoiding suicidal tactics on the first lap when the 35 cars are bunched and merrily with fuel tanks.

Parrell Jones of Torrance, Calif., won the No. 1 starting spot by turning the first 150-mile-an-hour qualifying laps in the history of the 52-year-old track. Besides him, and directly in front of Fort, will be 41-year-old Redger Ward of Indiana, the 1959 winner and no worse than third in the past.

Canuck Entry in Derby Remains 20-To-1 Longshot

By ALAN HARVEY LONDON (CP) — If betting trends any further, the Canadian owner of Prince d'Amour picked the wrong one when he bet on the 20-to-1 longshot to Mrs. Vozz Vullera for the mud-loving colt.

In the latest callow of odds for the 6th derby at Epsom, Prince d'Amour remained unchanged at 20 to 1 while the quotation on his ex-stablemate le Cantillon was clipped from 26 to 11 to 1. Le Cantillon, by Naresman, is the derby candidate Mrs. Vozz decided to retain, presumably on the advice of veteran trainer Francois Mathet.

French opinion favors le Cantillon over Prince d'Amour, which now is in for Alberta Franches, owned by Frank McMahon and Max Bell of Calgary.

Experts say Prince d'Amour needs plenty of time in the going, and if looks as though track conditions will be firm at Epsom.

It's a wide-open year, though bettors have installed Maj. Lionel Holliday's Hetherstone as favorite at what seems to be the false price of 5 to 1. The second choice, Miralzo, owned by British financier Gerry Holland, has receded in the betting from 8 to 1 to 10 to 1.

Some of the other leading favorites are after Cantillon, Larkspur at 12 to 1; Pandaric, down from 50 to 1 to 15 to 1 after a victory at Lingfield last Friday; Silver Cloud, 14 to 1; and the American-owned, Irish-trained Sebring, clipped from 18 to 14 to 1.

It was announced Tuesday that Romulus, owned by C. W. Engelhard of Newark, N.J., would be a definite starter.

Once the favorite, Romulus has gone out to 25 to 1 after a disappointing run in Pindarie's race at Lingfield.

Owen Engelhard cabled from South Africa that Romulus should take part because of the money bet on him a year or so ago.

Prince d'Amour arrived from France Monday to join the stables of Sir Gordon Richards, former champion jockey who will prepare 13 Canadian-owned colts for the Derby. Sir Gordon's horses have been slow to strike form this year.
