SOUTHERN ISLANDS

The Bahamas Islands comprise nearly 700 islands and more than 2,000 cays and rocks, mostly uninhabited.

Hampton and Vicinity

Mr. Richard Howatt made a brief visit on business here on Thursday, August 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. MacEachern enjoyed a brief visit with friends here, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Murchison MacEachern.

Mr. Jack Johnston has returned to his duties in Toronto following a pleasant visit among relatives and friends, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cameron.

The loyalty of Island people was undoubtedly expressed by all classes on the occasion of the first visit to the province of Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Governor General of Canada.

Excellent weather has favored the farmers as they quickly turn from the gathering of one abundant crop after another: haying, harvesting and potatoes, greatly assisted by the most modern machinery available.

Many friends of Mrs. Wilfred Rogerson extend a "welcome home" to her. She is returning greatly improved in health following treatment in the P. E. I. Hospital.

Mrs. J. W. MacLean has also returned to her family, considerably improved in health, following a course of treatment in the P. E. I. Hospital.

Improvements to the church manse, in the addition of a new sun porch, are well advanced, under the supervision of Mr. John H. Myers. Mr. Earle Callbeck is doing his usual good work on this job, and Rev. Mr. Baxter is giving evidence that he can handle with skill a saw and a hammer as well as preach the Gospel.

Building activities are progressing rapidly in this and adjoining districts. Contractors have completed the dwelling house of Mr. Carter, and Mr. Holm's residence is well under construction.

It is pleasing to note that Mr. Ivan MacKinnon and Mr. P. G. MacEachern are progressing favorably, following car accidents—one at his home, the other in the P. E. I. Hospital.

Rev. Mr. Head, of Florence, C. B., and Rev. Mr. Vessey of Truro, N.S., former pastors in this field, have returned to their present charges following pleasant holidays among relatives and friends.

Miss Helen Cameron has taken up her studies and work in the P. E. I. Hospital training for a nurse. To Miss Cameron, a public school teacher in this county, is extended the best wishes and good will of her many relatives and friends in her chosen profession.

Reports on the progress of work being done from Cornwall to Charlottetown via North River are very gratifying. This section of the T. C. Highway has been in bad order in the spring of each year as frost came out, and made a bad impression on visitors to the Island.

Sympathy of friends and neighbors is expressed to Mr. Lloyd Thomson, who received injuries from a kick from a horse, while he was engaged in his harvesting work. To be suddenly cut off from the rush of work associated with harvesting, means a serious handicap at a time of shortage of manpower. -C.D.
