

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 21, 1892.

Temperance in Prince County.

In the course of their report to Mr. Justice Hensley, who lately presided in the Supreme Court for Prince County, the Grand Jury say that "the people generally are law-abiding and moral, and the small docket and the nature of the offences presented to the jury testify." And they continue,—"We have also to report that the Canada Temperance Act is doing a good work for the cause of temperance, for notwithstanding the imperfections of the statute, it has made the drinking of ardent spirits disgraceful and in a large measure put an end to one of the most pernicious customs connected with the liquor traffic—treating. The jury would, however, report that to accomplish a permanent and true temperance reform the law should be supplemented by the advocacy of temperance by every man and woman in the community and would warn temperance advocates generally not to depend entirely upon legislation to produce the reform, but, for laws, unless backed up by a strong public sentiment, are frequently honored more in the breach than in the fulfilment."

The truth and wisdom of the latter part of this quotation will be admitted by all. It is pleasing to have this evidence that the people of Prince County are waking up to the necessity for greater earnestness and less hypocrisy; stronger and more general advocacy of temperance principles, and less drinking on the sly on the part of Scott Act supporters. These are necessary to a "permanent and true" temperance reform.

Mr. Blake's New Departure.

The acceptance by Mr. Blake of an offer of a constituency in Ireland and a seat in the House of Commons, is a living proof of the practical union and growing mutual interests and sentiment of Great Britain and her colonies. The offer shows, too, that narrow jealousies do not prevent the politicians of the Mother Country from seeking, even beyond the seas, the assistance of men of first-class ability. It would be well for Canada if her constituencies would, without reference to "check" or "wealth," or any adventitious circumstances, seek out and elect only the men best fitted to represent them in Parliament. Whether Mr. Blake will meet the expectations of the Home Rule Party remains to be seen. We sincerely hope that he will. It is, of course, possible that a gifted man who has failed as a political leader in Canada may succeed as a political leader in Great Britain. At all events, the Home Rule Party are in need of a leader who is able to unite the factions into which it has unfortunately been divided—a champion who will aid the Grand Old Man in fighting the powers arrayed against the Irish cause. We therefore hope that Mr. McCarthy and his friends choose wisely when they choose Mr. Blake. The struggle to be forthwith engaged in Great Britain will be all the more intensely interesting to Canadians in view of the fact that Mr. Blake is to be one of the combatants.

Notes and Comments.

The air of the House of Commons is being analyzed for the purpose of discovering whether the headache of which some hon. members complain is due to bad air. The probability is that it is rather owing to over-eating or drinking, or some other cause.

The Week says that "the man who resorts to the tu quoque argument gives up his case." This is what the Patriotic Club is doing in respect to the Land Office case. By the way, what has the expense incurred in respect to the revision of the laws to do with Mr. Peters' dectatorship in the Land Office and the shortage?

It is pleasing to learn that Mr. J. A. Nicholson, who was, without cause, summarily dismissed by the Peters combination, has been offered and has accepted the Principalship of the Cote St. Antoine Academy, Montreal, at a salary considerably larger than he would have received had he continued in the office of Superintendent of Education for this Province. As showing the regard in which Mr. Nicholson is held by those who know him in Montreal, it may be remarked that he was offered the first important educational vacancy which occurred in that city. Mr. Nicholson's prospects for future advancement are good; and he will have an opportunity to continue the law studies which he began after he was unjustly deprived of his office under the Government.

A correspondent of the Ottawa Citizen writes as follows concerning a gentleman, recently deceased, who was well known in this Province:—"There passed away on the 7th inst. in the person of Mr. Isaac Roberts Eckart, one of the most refined and sensitive natures that can be imagined. Up to a few years ago he held the position of assistant-secretary of the Province of Ontario, which position he filled for thirteen years; but then, falling into bad health, he had never been a strong man, although his bright complexion and brighter eye seemed to indicate otherwise, he was obliged to resign with a written promise from the government, who were all his friends, that he should receive an equally honorable position when his health improved. It did not improve in a great measure, but that dread disease consumption overtook him and he laid him low at the age of 51. Few were more loved and admired while he was in the world. All who knew him best will think of his generous and sympathetic nature, too much so, indeed, for he sacrificed himself too often for others. The writer knew him all his life and prays him this brief tribute from a personal knowledge of what he was. His intellect was of no ordinary nature. He wrote several articles while living in Quebec in 1885 and 1886 which were published in the Chronicle, notably one called 'Queen or President,' which were much admired; and a 'British Connection versus Independence or Annexation in Disguise.'

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

Disastrous Railway Accident.

COMPTON STATION, Que., June 21. A Grand Trunk express bound for Montreal ran into a washout yesterday morning near Hillburt, resulting in the death of engineer Dale, fireman Wood and express messenger Small, and one Baron, of Costi-cooke. A culvert at that point was washed out, leaving a chasm one hundred feet in length. The engine and baggage car passed over, but the second class car fell in and drew the engine and baggage car with it. The passenger car behind separated and merely hung down into the chasm without falling. The passengers in the foremost passenger car received a rude shaking up and many of them were more or less seriously bruised, being thrown head over heels from one of the cars to the other.

Retaliation Recommended.

WASHINGTON, June 21. In a State paper sent to the Senate yesterday, in answer to a resolution of February 24th last calling for information relative to the reciprocity negotiations with Canada, the President sounds the death knell of that project by deliberately, in effect, recommending to Congress to proceed to retaliate upon the Dominion for its persistent denial of the rights of American citizens guaranteed by the treaty of Washington in connection with the navigation of Canadian canals.

Heavy Damages by Rain.

TORONTO, June 21. The rain storm which broke over the city last night, shortly before 6.30 o'clock, was one of the most severe that has happened for a long time. The damage done will probably amount to $200,000. The rain fell so heavily that in short time the sewers and drains in many places were choked up, causing the water to rush into the cellars where valuable goods were stored and in some cases even into dwelling houses.

An Election Lodge.

OTAWA, June 21. The threatened retaliation on the part of the United States in the matter of canal tolls is looked upon here as an election dodge on the part of Harrison, similar to that which Cleveland indulged in four years ago.

Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, June 21. Balfour stated in the House of Commons to-day that all business would be finished on June 28th, and that Parliament could be dissolved the same day.

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, June 21.—10 a. m. Unsettled, with local shower or thunderstorm.

A Very Sad Occurrence.

A Quincy (Mass.) paper gives the following particulars of the shocking sudden death of Miss Jessie McDonald, who was the youngest daughter of Mr. Finley McDonald, of Point Prim, and whose body was a few days ago brought home for interment. The paper states that Miss McDonald accompanied by her brother-in-law Mr. Summers, went to Boston Thursday and took the 4.15 train from Boston for home. This train arrived at Quincy Adams at 4.44, and yesterday it arrived on time, and the two alighted and walked up the platform towards Braintree, as they wished to cross the track there, it being a little nearer. When the train pulled out the two of them were at the extreme southern end of the outward platform and as the last car passed them they stepped down on the track to cross over. Mr. Summers leading the way. They stepped on to the inward track directly in front of a rapidly approaching Plymouth express train which they apparently did not see. The depot platform at that time was filled with people who shouted, but it was too late. Mr. Summers got across all right and on a step more would have placed Miss McDonald beyond danger, but before that step could be taken the engine struck her. She was thrown into the air and hurled with terrific force against a switch some thirty feet away, and rebounding upon the platform dead. The force with which her body struck the switch being sufficient to splinter the plank of which it is made. Her injuries consisted of a broken neck, which was probably caused by her contact with the switch, and it is believed that had she not struck that she would have escaped with a few bruises.

The bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in which they live.

A False Report.

SIR,—Referring to the local in Saturday's EXAMINER, relating to the barbers raising their prices, I hear it is reported that I was the first to start this change. Now, this is false, and through your valuable columns I notify my customers and the general public that I have reconsidered the matter over, and have decided to work at the old prices. Thanking you for your valuable ep. ce, I remain, yours, G. M. ROBINSON.

P. S.—Mr. John Thome desires me to state that he will also work at the old prices. G. M. R.

Africa is rapidly being taken possession of. Its total area is 1,514,500 square miles, according to the well known geographer, E. G. Raunstein, and its population 130,185,000. The following table gives the respective areas and populations controlled by European powers in the Dark Continent:
