New Dems Want Joint Meetings

A call for joint meetings, to debate "vital election issues", was made yesterday by Thomas Dunphy, New Democratic Party organizer and candidate for Kings in the June 18 election. Mr. Dunphy asked Conservative and Liberal candidates to take part in public meetings with New Democrats "so the public will see the issues from every angle."

Mr. Dunphy said he felt "debates, such as these, would not only be in the interest of the electorate, but are an obligation on all parties involved to see that the public is fully informed on the vital issues involved in this election."

TWO MAIN ISSUES

The Kings candidate noted that some of the more pressing issues that need debate are the two major local issues, transportation and marketing, and the major national issue unemployment.

Mr. Dunphy labelled the Conservative efforts to alleviate unemployment as a "patchwork program".

Mr. Dunphy noted a "seeming similarity" between the Liberal proposal to build a new ice-breaking car ferry, if elected, and the New Democratic proposal to construct a new ferry.

"But there is a vital difference", Mr. Dunphy said. "We will push for a new ice-breaking car ferry, regardless of what party is in power at Ottawa. Even if we elect only one member to the House, he will promote to the fullest the Island's need for an icebreaker similar to the Abegweit."

STRATEGY MEETING

Mr. Dunphy said the New Democratic election campaign will swing into high gear following a strategy meeting here Thursday at which Carl Hamilton, the party's national secretary, will preside.

All four Island candidates will attend the meeting. It is expected, too, that the date of the visit to the province of the party's national leader, T.C. Douglas, will be set.

The New Democrats will try, as far as possible, to conduct a door-to-door campaign, at least in Kings County, Mr. Dunphy said, while the population of Queens and Prince Counties may rule out the possibility of NDP candidates meeting every voter, an attempt will be made to do this in the less populated Kings County.

EVERY VOTER IN KINGS

"Every voter in Kings", said the NDP candidate "will be contacted either by myself or my representative".

Summing up his outlook on the election, nationally, Mr. Dunphy said, "We are not so optimistic as to think we will be the party in power after the election, but we could well hold the balance of power."

have been holding talks on the co-operative development of the Hamilton Falls in Labrador, which is one of the distant power sites considered suitable for a long - distance transmission of power.

'Dunning' Not Ready Yet

The SS Charles A. Dunning will not be ready to operate on opening day when Northumberland Ferries resumes service for this season between Wood Islands and Caribou, Capt. Claude Hunter said yesterday.

Although the service is scheduled to start May 1, ice conditions may delay the start as Capt. Hunter noted there was still a considerable amount of it in Northumberland Strait, and if it moves in around the piers the ferries cannot run.

He stated though he did not know when the Dunning would be ready to take part, the big ferry MV Lord Selkirk was all prepared for the May 1 opening.

Royal Navy Shipbuilding Criticized

LONDON (Reuters)—A naval expert fired a broadside here at what he termed the inadequate warship building program of Britain's "silent service"—the Royal Navy. "No one can be satisfied with our new construction during the last 17 years," said Raymond V. B. Blackman, editor of the annual Jane's Fighting Ships, the international authority on the world's navies.

Blackman said in an article in the Navy League's Journal that he had remained silent on this subject for 13 years since becoming editor of Jane's. But as "a patriot, a navalist, a naval architect and marine engineer," he could contain himself no longer when he saw that the new construction provided for in the 1962-63 navy estimates amounted to "the brave total" of one assault ship and two replenishment oilers. Blackman said that since 1945 Britain has scrapped 15 battle-ships, scrapped or sold 30 aircraft carriers, returned 33 escort carriers to the United States, and scrapped or sold 54 cruisers, 200 destroyers, 240 frigates and escorts—besides returning 83 to the United States—and 110 submarines. New construction during those 17 years has been 36 frigates and 200 coastal and inshore minesweepers—all comparatively small craft. "One feels rather ashamed at the paucity of new construction since the war," Blackman said. "We find that in one world emergency or disaster after another, no British warships are near enough to give immediate succour and take charge as they did in former days."

Power Transmission Talks Are Scheduled For Monday

OTTAWA (CP)—Representatives of the federal government and eight provinces will meet here Monday to discuss long - distance transmission of electrical power, Resources Minister Dinsdale announced Tuesday.

The meeting of the group of officials is a follow-up to the March 19 federal - provincial conference which discussed a national power grid. All provinces except Quebec are represented at the forthcoming meeting. Newfoundland is sending an observer.

Mr. Dinsdale said the work of the committee will be "to assemble data on long - distance transmission, to see what research and development effort is needed, to assemble energy requirements in Canada, and to suggest how various studies can be carried out and under what terms."

The projected national power grid envisages the tapping of now-distant sources of hydro power plus the provincial interchange of power as required to assist areas short of energy or to provide markets for those with a surplus.

FORM COMMITTEE

Members of the committee meeting Monday include R. E. Tweeddale, New Brunswick; L. F. Kirkpatrick, Nova Scotia and W. R. Brennan, Prince Edward Island. Quebec is not represented on the committee and did not attend the initial conference. Premier Lesage said that since power is a provincial matter and since a national grid will be discussed at the third annual premiers' conference at Victoria this summer, the subject was not a proper one for a federal-provincial meeting. ## Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

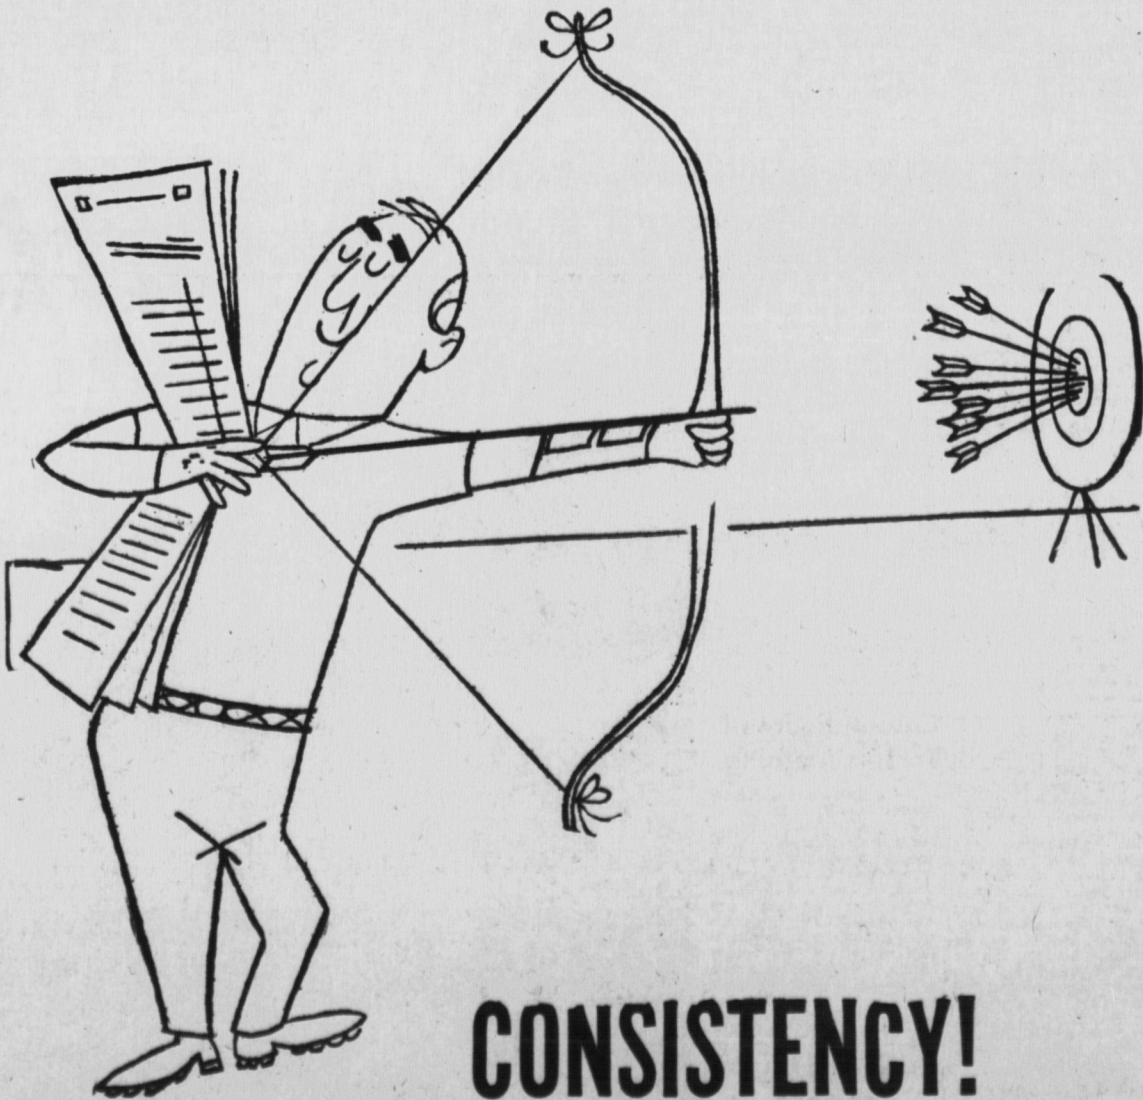

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough
