The brig "Fanny," Murchison, master, owned by Messrs. Welsh & Owen, arrived from Demerara, with a cargo of one hundred puncheons of molasses and forty-two barrels of sugar.

OWING to the illness of the Stipendiary Magistrate, there was no sitting of the Court this forenoon. The few drunks that were for trial were held on bail till to-morrow.

ACKNOWLEDGED, with thanks, the sum of $4 for the Soup Kitchen, being a second donation from Mr. Justice Young. This gift has enabled the committee to meet all expenses, which were greater than was at first thought, owing to some items having been forgotten when the report was published.

A LITTLE BOY named James Bateman narrowly escaped drowning this forenoon. He attempted to walk across a plank which is used as a crossing from Peake's No. 1 to Queen's Wharf, when he slipped and fell into the water, which was about seven feet deep at the time. He sank twice and was disappearing a third time when a young man named John McKinnon jumped in and rescued him.

FOUR building lots, being part of town lot 19, in third hundred, were sold at auction on Saturday by Wm. Dodd, Esq. The house and lot on the corner of Rotchford and Grafton streets were purchased by Mr. Chas. Dalziel for the sum of $670. Two lots on Rotchford street were bought by Mr. W. H. Frazer for $365 and $350 each. He also purchased the remaining lot on Grafton street for $440.

CHARLES MCK. FLEMING, aged 30 years, married, a resident of St. John, N. B., and son of senior member of Fleming's Foundry, of that city, was found drowned in the St. John Harbor on the 30th ult. He had not been seen alive since the morning previous, and he is supposed to have walked over the wharf.

A NUMBER of street arabs amused themselves to a large extent among Mr. Newbery's sweets, on Peake's No. 3 Wharf, yesterday. They licked molasses from the puncheons until their appetites for the sweet were satisfied. They then covered the clothing of the smaller portion of the company with it, and ended by pulling a bung from one of the casks and letting half the molasses it contained run over the wharf.

D. BANKS MCKENZIE arrived in this City on Saturday evening. At 8 o'clock a public temperance meeting was held in the Reform Club Hall. Owing to the brief notice given, it was not largely attended. Rev. Mr. Falgatter was the first to address the meeting. He was followed by Mr. G. W. Millner, who recited a well-written original temperance poem in his usual tasteful and elegant style. After a few short remarks from Robert Shaw, Esq., Mr. McKenzie came forth, and, in a brief speech, related the results of his labors in the cause of temperance since his departure from this City. He will address another meeting in the same Hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

A sad scene was observed in a New York Police Court recently, when the widow of Edward McKenna, killed about a week ago by the falling of a girder on the Elevated Railroad, appeared with her three young children, so weak from want of food that she staggered and almost fell to the floor. She had not eaten for two days, having given the last bits of food in the house to her children, and stated that, though her sad condition had been made known to the company in whose employ her husband was at the time of her accident, they had refused to do anything for her. Her children were sent to a provident institution, but she refused to accept any aid for herself, saying that she "could make her way." This case seems to be another illustration of the truth of the statement that "Corporations have no souls."

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

Attempted Assassination of Emperor William.

The Eastern Question.

(Special Despatch to Examiner.)

BERLIN, June 2.

While Emperor William was taking a drive at 2.30 o'clock this p. m., some shots, apparently proceeding from a house in the Avenue Unter der Linden, were fired at him. The Emperor was wounded in one arm and on the cheek, by duck and small shots.

The would-be assassin is Dr. Nobling, occupying apartments at No. 18 Unter der Linden. When his door was forced open, he fired upon and wounded the hotel-keeper, and tried to commit suicide, but was secured.

The Emperor's personal attendants jumped into the carriage, and supported him until the carriage reached the palace.

The Emperor was conveyed to his bed, and several grains of shot were extracted, causing great loss of blood.

The Emperor suffered great pain, but never lost consciousness. At 7 o'clock this evening no serious apprehension was felt as to his condition.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 2.

In consequence of the failure of the Porte's Commissioners to pacify the Mohammedan insurgents, the Russians and Bulgarians attacked their position and were everywhere repulsed, except near Ortvaeni.

The Porte has prepared a memorandum for the Congress, declaring that it was hurried into signing the San Stefano Treaty by Grand Duke Nicholas at every pause in the negotiations, threatening to advance on Constantinople.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 2.

The "Golos" says that Count Andrassy's declarations are a direct menace to Russia's position in Roumania and Bulgaria.

LONDON, June 2.

The "Daily Telegraph's" Vienna correspondent says that the Austrian Government utterly distrusts Russia, and this feeling is now shared in by Court and Cabinet, so that Austria's policy is no longer hampered by divided Councils.

It is announced that Count Schowaloff started for St. Petersburg last night; from there he will go to the Congress.

The papers usually credited with official information state that it is believed that the Government intends to announce to Parliament, to-night, that an understanding relative to the Congress has been reached and invitations issued.
